

Opaque Window Shades.

O. B. GRAVES,
222 Dundas Street.

BICYCLE BELLS!

Something useful and nice from the smallest to the largest. Prices from 10c to $1.00. All kinds—single, double, electric and as ringing. Pleased to suit you.

W. H. GRAHAM & CO.,
198 KING STREET WEST,
Toronto, Ontario.

DR. W. H. GRAHAM,
198 KING STREET WEST,
Toronto, Ontario.

Gives special attention to Skin Diseases, as Pimples, Eruptions, etc. PRIVATE DISEASES and diseases of a private nature. Syphilis, Gonorrhea, Sterility, Varicocele, Nervous Debility, etc. (the result of youthful folly and excess, Gleet and Stricture of the Urinary Tract, etc.) Suppressed Menstruation, Leucorrhoea and all Displacements of the Womb.

K & K K & K K & K
DISEASED MEN
NERVOUS MEN
WEAK MEN

THOUSANDS of young and middle-aged men are suffering from the effects of evil habits in early youth or the later excesses of manhood. The cause may have been the blood. You do not know, for you do not know the consequences. "Like father, like son." If married, you live in constant fear of disappointing your wife. Our NEW METHOD OF TREATMENT will positively cure you.

DR. KENNEDY & KERGAN
Cor. Michigan Ave. and Shelby St.
DETROIT, MICH.

TRADE MARK
PATENTS

J. J. EDWARDS, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Mechanical and Patent Law Offices,
corner of King, London, Ont. Telephone 501. xaw

INCANDESCENT WIRING
Special Prices During House-cleaning Season.
Estimates given on application to office.

London Electric Co., Ltd.,
350 Richmond Street.

JUST RECEIVED
NOW ON SALE
OF SPLendid ASSORTMENT
OF
FISHING TACKLE

The best English and American make.
W. A. BROCK, 192 DUNDAS STREET

SUMMER SUITINGS,
From $12.00 up. Special Line of Summer
Trousing, from $4.00 up at

B. GIDLEY, 110 Dundas St.
(Upstairs)
Dundas

ONTARIO ELECTRIC CO.
Lowest prices on Electric Wiring and Bell Work.

MASONIC TEMPLE BUILDING.

DR. PINGEL
OFFICE, WELLINGTON ST.,
OPPOSITE PUBLIC LIBRARY, LONDON.

LONG HEADED MEN

The long-headed man will use only

Hunt's
Diamond Flour

Don't take some other brand, because your grocer says it is just as good.

Comforting.

An American, called upon to return thanks for the distinguished stranger at a public dinner, said:

"This is quite unexpected; in fact, when I came into this room I felt much like Daniel in the lions' den. When Daniel got into that place and looked around, he thought to himself, 'Whoever's got to do the after-dinner speaking, it won't be me!'"

A SMOOTH, CLEAR COMPLEXION IN REACH OF EVERYBODY

25c BALM-ZOIN 25c

Is an entirely new and pleasant preparation highly recommended for SUNBURN, TAN and FRECKLES, rough, red and hard skin, chapped hands, face and lips.

W. T. STRONG & CO.
Dispensing Chemists, 184 Dundas St., London, Ont.

ASTRONOMICAL.

London, Thursday, June 29, 1899.
Sun rises, 4:38 a.m. Moon rises, 11:22 p.m.
Sun sets, 8:05 p.m. Moon sets, 12:04 a.m.
Day of the year—180th.
MOON'S PHASES.
New Moon, June 28, 11:20 a.m.
First Quarter, June 29, 1:42 p.m.
Full Moon, June 30, 3:20 a.m.
Last Quarter, July 1, 11:45 p.m.

METEOROLOGICAL SERVICE OF CANADA

Mostly Fair and Cooler.

Toronto, June 28, 8 p.m.—A shallow low area which was in South Minnesota last night has since become decidedly important. An aerial stormward across the lower lake region, there causing very strong winds and rain. In the North-west Territories and Manitoba (where rather less rain) very warm and bright. Minimum and maximum temperatures—Victoria, 44-62; Kamloops, 48-56; Edmonton, 40-70; Qu'Appelle, 44-78; Winnipeg, 48-82; Pelly, 50-68; Inuvik, 55-64; Ottawa, 54-62; Montreal, 54-58; Quebec, 50-60; Halifax, 48-64.
Probabilities—Lakes and Georgian Bay: Fresh to strong northerly winds; mostly fair and cool.
Local temperature—The highest and lowest readings of the thermometer at the observatory on Wednesday, June 28, 1899, were—Highest, 85.5; lowest, 55.

Paris Green, Hellebore, Insect Destroyers.

If you want these articles fresh and pure and at lowest prices—

B. A. MITCHELL'S
Chemist and Druggist, 114 Dundas St.

Well-Dressed Men...
Could not look the part unless their clothes were made to measure. Suits to order from $10.00.

SOUTHCOTT'S
361 Richmond Street.

CITY NEWS.

The usual fireworks conflagration is about due.
Mr. Wm. Welsh, of this city, is the latest of Messrs. Leo and Lester Riggs, Belleville.

The biggest bully is as afraid of a woman as any other man, only he shouts so loud nobody knows it.
Wigg—Well, Gastlocks has married his typewriter. Wigg—Does he think he'll be able to dictate?

When a person says "come and see me some time" you can rest assured your presence is not very ardently desired.

The reason we so seldom take off the masks we habitually wear is that when we do and get a look at our real selves in the glass it starts us up most as much as our friends.

At the half-yearly meeting of Court Brighton, A. O. F., South London, Harry Sutherland, P. D. C. E., was elected delegate to the high court to be held in Toronto in August.

The Bradstreet's Company are about to open an office in this city, another recognition of the growing importance of London as the centre of a great and prosperous commercial community.

Forepaugh's and Sells Brothers' Big Combined Circus will be here today and as this is the biggest circus on the road, the event has caused no little excitement in local circles. Be on your guard when you go out of the house and see that your doors and windows are securely fastened. Some "queer" people follow a circus.

The 7th Fusiliers will shortly be supplied with new bushdies and leggings. The new head-dress is now on the way from headquarters, and with the new uniforms, and the new olive equipment, will put the regiment amongst the best uniformed corps in Canada. It has been decided, upon the invitation of Lt.-Col. Stacey, commanding officer of the 25th Battalion of St. Thomas, to send a picked company from the 7th to participate with the 25th in the Dominion Day manoeuvres at Chatham. The company will be in command of Capt. Reid.

Best Value in Town.
Large Bottle, Worth 50c, for 25c.

White Drug Store,
129 Dundas Street,
N. W. EMERSON, - Druggist.

Appetizing for This Season Of the Year.... when fresh vegetables are scarce.

Large 3-lb. fine French String Beans 20c
Rodeo French Peas 15c
Rodeo Mushrooms 20c
Whole Tomatoes, for slicing 25c

Canned Corn, Beans, Tomatoes, Beans, French Kidney Beans, Succotash, Baked Beans, Tomato Sauce.

California Prunes, per lb. 8c
California Silver Prunes, per lb. 12c
California Dried Peaches, " 10c

WE GIVE IN TRADING STAMPS

Fitzgerald, Scandrett & Co.
169 DUNDAS STREET.

The students' recital at the Conservatory of Music last night was one of the best of the series. The programme: Air de Ballet, No. 2 (Chaminade)—Miss Alice M. Hill; Song, "Mr. Frank Asplund," (Mozart)—Miss Mabel Brown; "Sing On" (Dezza)—Miss Emma Morehead; (a) Rondo, "Acquiesce" (Hector)—Miss Alice M. Hill; (b) "The Two We Were May-ling" (Nevin)—Miss Daisy Rumball; (c) "Goshawk" (Louschorn)—Miss Alice M. Hill; (d) "The Thinking" (Meyer-Helmuth)—Miss Evelyn Brown; (e) "The Thinking" (Meyer-Helmuth)—Miss Evelyn Brown; (f) "The Thinking" (Meyer-Helmuth)—Miss Evelyn Brown; (g) "The Thinking" (Meyer-Helmuth)—Miss Evelyn Brown; (h) "The Thinking" (Meyer-Helmuth)—Miss Evelyn Brown; (i) "The Thinking" (Meyer-Helmuth)—Miss Evelyn Brown; (j) "The Thinking" (Meyer-Helmuth)—Miss Evelyn Brown; (k) "The Thinking" (Meyer-Helmuth)—Miss Evelyn Brown; (l) "The Thinking" (Meyer-Helmuth)—Miss Evelyn Brown; (m) "The Thinking" (Meyer-Helmuth)—Miss Evelyn Brown; (n) "The Thinking" (Meyer-Helmuth)—Miss Evelyn Brown; (o) "The Thinking" (Meyer-Helmuth)—Miss Evelyn Brown; (p) "The Thinking" (Meyer-Helmuth)—Miss Evelyn Brown; (q) "The Thinking" (Meyer-Helmuth)—Miss Evelyn Brown; (r) "The Thinking" (Meyer-Helmuth)—Miss Evelyn Brown; (s) "The Thinking" (Meyer-Helmuth)—Miss Evelyn Brown; (t) "The Thinking" (Meyer-Helmuth)—Miss Evelyn Brown; (u) "The Thinking" (Meyer-Helmuth)—Miss Evelyn Brown; (v) "The Thinking" (Meyer-Helmuth)—Miss Evelyn Brown; (w) "The Thinking" (Meyer-Helmuth)—Miss Evelyn Brown; (x) "The Thinking" (Meyer-Helmuth)—Miss Evelyn Brown; (y) "The Thinking" (Meyer-Helmuth)—Miss Evelyn Brown; (z) "The Thinking" (Meyer-Helmuth)—Miss Evelyn Brown.

Commissioner Eva Booth, daughter of General Booth, and head of the Salvation Army forces in Canada, Newfoundland and the North-western States, appeared in rags at the Dundas Street Methodist Church last night and told the story of the efforts she had made for several years to uplift the fallen in the world's metropolis. Her story had a humorous, as well as a pathetic, side to it, and for close upon two hours was listened to with the most intense interest by a congregation that completely filled the large edifice. Miss Booth was accompanied by the staff band from Toronto, and her two little adopted children—Willie, a pretty boy of five or six years, with long, white hair and beaming eyes, and Pearl, considerably younger, with a bright face and a head of dark-brown hair that hung in ringlets over her shoulders.

When Miss Booth entered the church from a rear door, playing a faint Salvation Army tune, upon an accordion, she was received with an outburst of applause. She was attired in the same way as when she worked in the slums of London, some years since. She was hatless, and over her shoulders was thrown a shawl, tattered and torn. A big white apron, with several holes in it, was worn over her grey skirt from view, and on her feet she wore an old pair of shoes, laced with string, making her general appearance greatly resemble that of a person living in the poorest quarters of the great city.

Miss Booth required little introduction from Major Southall who presided, as she had appeared at meetings in this city several times before. She began by singing an old familiar army hymn, and with all modesty she went on to say that her name had been closely connected with the suffering, the poor and the down-trodden for some years, and when the time now came for her to slip into her rags for an occasion of this kind it brought to her mind the memories of the past—memories of the dismal attitude, the various courts, with dismal outlooks; the sorrowful faces she had visited; were it not for the fact that she was present, she would have been just as much a beggar as the soldiers and officers, she would be much inclined to leave the commissioning of her name in the past.

Miss Booth went on to explain that she worked in rags in London for the simple reason that an acute prejudice existed in the slums against anyone whose fortune favored, and that it would be absolutely impossible to get into the homes of the poor and depraved if attired in anything better than those classes of people were themselves. It was necessary for her at all times to conceal her identity, and in order to succeed in her object she sometimes had to go as a water-carrier, or carrying her satchel or basket, and speaking in broken English, French or Italian. As to the success which had attended her labors, Miss Booth said she had a charm, which she showed in a few lines of poetry, which she had written, exhibiting a bunch of keys to her neck, she explained that they had unlocked many a door, and opened many a heart to her. She had a name for each, Love being the first, Sympathy the second, Sacrifice the third, and Action the fourth, and she worked in rags for the very important part each had played in bringing to the cross men and women brought up in the deepest sin, men and women who possibly had never heard the name of Jesus. Some of the cases to which she referred were extremely pathetic, and moved numbers in the audience to tears.

At the conclusion of the address little Willie and Pearl sang several duets, and gave a musical drill. The tots did remarkably well for ones of such tender years.

Selections were given by the staff band, and while Miss Booth rested at various stages of her address, a choir of Army choruses.

Miss Booth is doing the greater part of her travelling on horseback.

If you are tired of taking the large, old-fashioned griping pills, try Carter's Little Liver Pills, and take some comfort. A man can't stand everything.

*E. F. Beaume's store at Tilbury was burglarized Sunday morning, and a quantity of clothing carried off. Constable Laporte arrested Joseph Wilson and Toby Mackey, of Detroit, and Ernest Clarke, of Toronto, in a mill yard at Comber, on suspicion. The men showed fight when arrested, Clarke drawing a gun on the officer, but the trio were landed in jail. Wilson and Mackey were wearing some of the stolen clothes when arrested. After being locked up the men asked for a drink of water. A pail of water was thrust in their cell, and when the constable visited the jail next morning he found that the men had mixed the water with all the dirt they could scrape up and managed the mixture over the stolen clothes, evidently hoping to make the identification of the goods impossible. The trick did not fool the constable, and the three were taken to Chatham to stand trial. Clarke couldn't be connected with the robbery, and he was brought to Windward with charged with vagrancy. He was sent down for 30 days.

BEECHAM'S PILLS
CURE SICK HEADACHE
and act like magic on a weak stomach and disordered liver.

A. S. CREATION & CO.

TATTERED AND TORN. COMMITTEE AT WORK.

THE ATTIRE OF COMMISSIONER EVA BOOTH,
ENDEAVORING TO GET AT A BASIS FOR ACTION.

Who Told Her Work Among the Down-trodden in the Slums of London—Head of the Salvation Army in Canada Addressed a Large Congregation in the Dundas Street Methodist Church.

Commissioner Eva Booth, daughter of General Booth, and head of the Salvation Army forces in Canada, Newfoundland and the North-western States, appeared in rags at the Dundas Street Methodist Church last night and told the story of the efforts she had made for several years to uplift the fallen in the world's metropolis.

Her story had a humorous, as well as a pathetic, side to it, and for close upon two hours was listened to with the most intense interest by a congregation that completely filled the large edifice.

Miss Booth was accompanied by the staff band from Toronto, and her two little adopted children—Willie, a pretty boy of five or six years, with long, white hair and beaming eyes, and Pearl, considerably younger, with a bright face and a head of dark-brown hair that hung in ringlets over her shoulders.

When Miss Booth entered the church from a rear door, playing a faint Salvation Army tune, upon an accordion, she was received with an outburst of applause.

She was attired in the same way as when she worked in the slums of London, some years since. She was hatless, and over her shoulders was thrown a shawl, tattered and torn.

A big white apron, with several holes in it, was worn over her grey skirt from view, and on her feet she wore an old pair of shoes, laced with string, making her general appearance greatly resemble that of a person living in the poorest quarters of the great city.

Miss Booth required little introduction from Major Southall who presided, as she had appeared at meetings in this city several times before.

She began by singing an old familiar army hymn, and with all modesty she went on to say that her name had been closely connected with the suffering, the poor and the down-trodden for some years, and when the time now came for her to slip into her rags for an occasion of this kind it brought to her mind the memories of the past—memories of the dismal attitude, the various courts, with dismal outlooks; the sorrowful faces she had visited; were it not for the fact that she was present, she would have been just as much a beggar as the soldiers and officers, she would be much inclined to leave the commissioning of her name in the past.

Miss Booth went on to explain that she worked in rags in London for the simple reason that an acute prejudice existed in the slums against anyone whose fortune favored, and that it would be absolutely impossible to get into the homes of the poor and depraved if attired in anything better than those classes of people were themselves.

It was necessary for her at all times to conceal her identity, and in order to succeed in her object she sometimes had to go as a water-carrier, or carrying her satchel or basket, and speaking in broken English, French or Italian.

As to the success which had attended her labors, Miss Booth said she had a charm, which she showed in a few lines of poetry, which she had written, exhibiting a bunch of keys to her neck, she explained that they had unlocked many a door, and opened many a heart to her.

She had a name for each, Love being the first, Sympathy the second, Sacrifice the third, and Action the fourth, and she worked in rags for the very important part each had played in bringing to the cross men and women brought up in the deepest sin, men and women who possibly had never heard the name of Jesus.

Some of the cases to which she referred were extremely pathetic, and moved numbers in the audience to tears.

At the conclusion of the address little Willie and Pearl sang several duets, and gave a musical drill. The tots did remarkably well for ones of such tender years.

Selections were given by the staff band, and while Miss Booth rested at various stages of her address, a choir of Army choruses.

Miss Booth is doing the greater part of her travelling on horseback.

If you are tired of taking the large, old-fashioned griping pills, try Carter's Little Liver Pills, and take some comfort. A man can't stand everything.

*E. F. Beaume's store at Tilbury was burglarized Sunday morning, and a quantity of clothing carried off. Constable Laporte arrested Joseph Wilson and Toby Mackey, of Detroit, and Ernest Clarke, of Toronto, in a mill yard at Comber, on suspicion.

The men showed fight when arrested, Clarke drawing a gun on the officer, but the trio were landed in jail. Wilson and Mackey were wearing some of the stolen clothes when arrested.

After being locked up the men asked for a drink of water. A pail of water was thrust in their cell, and when the constable visited the jail next morning he found that the men had mixed the water with all the dirt they could scrape up and managed the mixture over the stolen clothes, evidently hoping to make the identification of the goods impossible.

The trick did not fool the constable, and the three were taken to Chatham to stand trial. Clarke couldn't be connected with the robbery, and he was brought to Windward with charged with vagrancy. He was sent down for 30 days.

BEECHAM'S PILLS
CURE SICK HEADACHE
and act like magic on a weak stomach and disordered liver.

A. S. CREATION & CO.

For Hot Weather

Summer Corsets

WHITE NET, GREY, AND BLACK, ONLY 50c.

LADIES' WHITE CORSET WAISTS, $1.

Ladies' Cotton Vests, 10c, 12c, and 15c.

Ladies' Fast Black Cotton Hose, 12c, 15c, 20c.

Ladies' Tan and Balbriggan Hose, 20c and 25c.

Boys' Black Cotton Ribbed Hose, 12c to 20c.

Girls' Plain Black Cotton Hose, 10c to 25c.

Ladies' Linen Handkerchiefs 10c to 25c

Black and Cream Silk Laces, Orientals, Real Linen Torchon, Valenciennes, Point d'esprit, etc., etc.

A. S. CREATION & CO.

TATTERED AND TORN. COMMITTEE AT WORK.

THE ATTIRE OF COMMISSIONER EVA BOOTH,
ENDEAVORING TO GET AT A BASIS FOR ACTION.

Who Told Her Work Among the Down-trodden in the Slums of London—Head of the Salvation Army in Canada Addressed a Large Congregation in the Dundas Street Methodist Church.

Commissioner Eva Booth, daughter of General Booth, and head of the Salvation Army forces in Canada, Newfoundland and the North-western States, appeared in rags at the Dundas Street Methodist Church last night and told the story of the efforts she had made for several years to uplift the fallen in the world's metropolis.

Her story had a humorous, as well as a pathetic, side to it, and for close upon two hours was listened to with the most intense interest by a congregation that completely filled the large edifice.

Miss Booth was accompanied by the staff band from Toronto, and her two little adopted children—Willie, a pretty boy of five or six years, with long, white hair and beaming eyes, and Pearl, considerably younger, with a bright face and a head of dark-brown hair that hung in ringlets over her shoulders.

When Miss Booth entered the church from a rear door, playing a faint Salvation Army tune, upon an accordion, she was received with an outburst of applause.

She was attired in the same way as when she worked in the slums of London, some years since. She was hatless, and over her shoulders was thrown a shawl, tattered and torn.

A big white apron, with several holes in it, was worn over her grey skirt from view, and on her feet she wore an old pair of shoes, laced with string, making her general appearance greatly resemble that of a person living in the poorest quarters of the great city.

Miss Booth required little introduction from Major Southall who presided, as she had appeared at meetings in this city several times before.

She began by singing an old familiar army hymn, and with all modesty she went on to say that her name had been closely connected with the suffering, the poor and the down-trodden for some years, and when the time now came for her to slip into her rags for an occasion of this kind it brought to her mind the memories of the past—memories of the dismal attitude, the various courts, with dismal outlooks; the sorrowful faces she had visited; were it not for the fact that she was present, she would have been just as much a beggar as the soldiers and officers, she would be much inclined to leave the commissioning of her name in the past.

Miss Booth went on to explain that she worked in rags in London for the simple reason that an acute prejudice existed in the slums against anyone whose fortune favored, and that it would be absolutely impossible to get into the homes of the poor and depraved if attired in anything better than those classes of people were themselves.

It was necessary for her at all times to conceal her identity, and in order to succeed in her object she sometimes had to go as a water-carrier, or carrying her satchel or basket, and speaking in broken English, French or Italian.

As to the success which had attended her labors, Miss Booth said she had a charm, which she showed in a few lines of poetry, which she had written, exhibiting a bunch of keys to her neck, she explained that they had unlocked many a door, and opened many a heart to her.

She had a name for each, Love being the first, Sympathy the second, Sacrifice the third, and Action the fourth, and she worked in rags for the very important part each had played in bringing to the cross men and women brought up in the deepest sin, men and women who possibly had never heard the name of Jesus.

Some of the cases to which she referred were extremely pathetic, and moved numbers in the audience to tears.

At the conclusion of the address little Willie and Pearl sang several duets, and gave a musical drill. The tots did remarkably well for ones of such tender years.

Selections were given by the staff band, and while Miss Booth rested at various stages of her address, a choir of Army choruses.

Miss Booth is doing the greater part of her travelling on horseback.

If you are tired of taking the large, old-fashioned griping pills, try Carter's Little Liver Pills, and take some comfort. A man can't stand everything.

*E. F. Beaume's store at Tilbury was burglarized Sunday morning, and a quantity of clothing carried off. Constable Laporte arrested Joseph Wilson and Toby Mackey, of Detroit, and Ernest Clarke, of Toronto, in a mill yard at Comber, on suspicion.

The men showed fight when arrested, Clarke drawing a gun on the officer, but the trio were landed in jail. Wilson and Mackey were wearing some of the stolen clothes when arrested.

After being locked up the men asked for a drink of water. A pail of water was thrust in their cell, and when the constable visited the jail next morning he found that the men had mixed the water with all the dirt they could scrape up and managed the mixture over the stolen clothes, evidently hoping to make the identification of the goods impossible.

The trick did not fool the constable, and the three were taken to Chatham to stand trial. Clarke couldn't be connected with the robbery, and he was brought to Windward with charged with vagrancy. He was sent down for 30 days.

BEECHAM'S PILLS
CURE SICK HEADACHE
and act like magic on a weak stomach and disordered liver.

A. S. CREATION & CO.

For Hot Weather

Summer Corsets

WHITE NET, GREY, AND BLACK, ONLY 50c.

LADIES' WHITE CORSET WAISTS, $1.

Ladies' Cotton Vests, 10c, 12c, and 15c.

Ladies' Fast Black Cotton Hose, 12c, 15c, 20c.

Ladies' Tan and Balbriggan Hose, 20c and 25c.

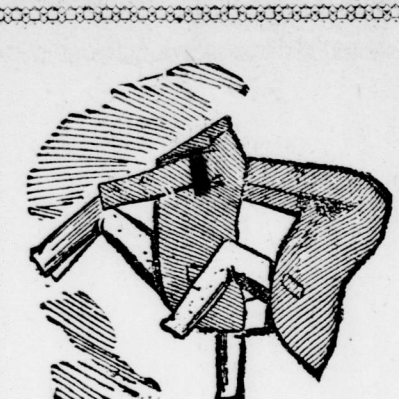

Boys' Black Cotton Ribbed Hose, 12c to 20c.

Girls' Plain Black Cotton Hose, 10c to 25c.

Ladies' Linen Handkerchiefs 10c to 25c

Black and Cream Silk Laces, Orientals, Real Linen Torchon, Valenciennes, Point d'esprit, etc., etc.

A. S. CREATION & CO.

Fit-Reform Suits

Are on the Jump.

The makers of Fit-Reform Clothing are responsible for every thread that goes into each garment.

If anything goes wrong they make it right. They pay for all mistakes and secure wear against imperfect cloth, poor make and bad fit.

Whatever is not up to your expectation, return and get your money back.

Only such good clothing can well stand a guarantee so complete.

Suits and Overcoats, $10, $12, $15, $18, $20.
Trousers, $3, $4, $5.

The Fit-Reform Wardrobe,
ROBERT M. BURNS,
180 DUNDAS STREET, LONDON.

Wilfred Long Mara

Summer Waists and Summer Dresses

Are the principal attractions of the store at present.