WAS HE JUSTIFIED ?
As a World reporter was passing along Duchess street late Saturday night, and thinking (as young men will at times) of the charming girl he had just left, he was again recalled to affairs of earth by hearing the sobs of a child. Turning into a lane about half a dozen yards in front of him, by the light of the gas lamp he saw a little girl, ragged and dirty, and with that pinched, poverty-stricken look about her which denoted her as one of Toronto's neglected children. Beside her lay the fragments of a soda water bottle, and the little one bent over them and sobbed bitterly. As she turned her head the reporter saw a beautiful face ; it was thin it is true, but the solar of the buggy and drove off to a doctor. Rossin house: Geo. Anderson, ir., Guelph; R. H. The annual fall games of the Toronto lacrosse club took place Saturday afternoon at their grounds. The grand stand was well filled, a large number of the spectators being ladies. The purely amateur character of the games was well preserved, even to the prizes, which consisted simply of gold and silver medals, instead of the usual motley collection of cups, butter-coolers, cake-baskets, and cruet-stands. 3.23.

The first contest was throwing the la crosse ball, in which a large number of competitors took part. E. Smith, T. L. C., made the longest throw-129 yards-aud was followed by Carleton Davies, T. L. C., with a throw of 123 yards.

the No. 276, and 274 was occupied by Mrs. Elizabeth G. Stinson, also a widow. The fire started in Mrs. Doudiet's house, all the family being out at the time. The smoke arising from it was seen by a Queen street hall fireman, who told his comrades and they rushed round with the reel. Foreman Smedley and his active men soon laid their hose and burst into the house, rushing upstairs where the fire was. They kicked open a closet door, and just as they did so an explosion occurred in the closet, fumes of oil and acid arising therefrom and nearly suffocating fireman Ashfield. The fiames now broke out pretty fiercely, and commu-nicated to the ceiling and attic. An alarm was rung from the box at Queen and Beverley streets, which brought several other sections of the brigade to the assis-tance of No. 6. On going into Mrs. Mil-ler's house to see if the fire had worked through, Mr. Smedley found that lady very sick ; indeed she was so bad that her daughter feared she was dying. Mrs. Miller was placed on a lounge and borne gently out into the street whence she was carried to the residence of Mrs. David Burns. at 264 Richmond street, who owns the block burned. There were no partitions in the attic, so that the fiames had every opportunity of spreading, which they did at an alarming rate. The firemen, however, worked with a will and flooded the burning block with water. Although Mrs. Doudiet's house and furni-ture were badly burned and destroyed by the flames, the brigade kept the fire away from the lower storys of the other dwellings, the attic and roof alone being consumed. The fire attracted an immense crowd, but was pretty wellquenched by 100'clock. There is every indication that it was the work of an incendiary, and an investigation will be made. Mrs. Burns had an insurance of $00 on each house. Mrs. Doudiet's fur-iture was insured for $400, which will not more than cover her loss. Both Mr. Free-man and Mrs. Stinson are insured, and it is thought that Mrs. Miller also held a po-licy. It is feared that the shock w

The first heat resulted in a tie between Ross Mackenzie and Fred. Garvin. In the second. McQuillan was first and Mackenzie second.
The third was won by McQuillan, Garvin being second after a hard struggle with George Margetts, Niagara Falls L.C. Time, 56 2.5 seconds.
In the high jump, Ernest A. Edwards, George Orr and J. Alley, all of the T.L.C., took part. Edwards, whose style was much admired, won with a 5ft. 7jin. jump. Orr was second with 5ft. 5in. He is as yet a mere youth, and will probably make a fine jumpe.

Where is the devil located ?

Where is the derive house that the old man is roaming round now. I say this—that Christ seme way confines the devil and his angels. He limits them somehow, and I don't believe devils are about now as in Christ's time entering bodies. He took on flesh and blood that he might destroy the devil. The devil lives in the spirit of his works, as does We ley, but I don't believe he is now personally free, walking to and fro. He used to be free, and went in and out of heaven. The worst I wish his ma-jesty is that he be kept in his own place. THE SERMON her arm where she had "felt it."
