iect, and I am surprised that none seem to realize the harm the cat does. The cat will not suck the child's breath, but the child will inhate the breath of the cat, which is very polsonous. I remember not many years ago seeing a cat-loving child made very sick with terrible fits or spasms. She could always be found with the cat in her arms. Finally she took the cat's breath by kissing it in the mouth, and immediately fell into fits. I have never allowed a cat around my houfe since I saw that. I suppose if a cat could thus kill a child it would then gorge ftself of the child's flesh, as it is known that a cat will rry to get where there is a dead body if it can. I know of no being cats will seek to sleep with but a human being, and I think they have the power to kill a person in the way mentioned above were they left undisturbed. I would advise that all cats be kept from the oradle and also that children be not allowed to carry about a cat in arms.

the speed, care and cost of manufacture of baseballs, it may be stated that a certain factory near New York can turn out 48,000 machine-made balls in a day, while the demand for gingerbread.

It is said that confectiones wife as a sort of morning tonic before leaving the demand for gingerbread.

It seems from a careful count that there same time is eighteen.

The balls made in the days when it was customary to strike a winner out between bases by hitting him with the ball were made largely of India rubber. To do this with the "dead" ball now made would often be death to the person hit.

A minuespolis girl went out to buy long, he's an infernal old fraud, and ought to be kicked. When a chap who has frozen the children, jawed the cook and blasted his wife as a sort of morning tonic before leaving the house meets you about a block from the children, jawed the cook and blasted his wife as a sort of morning tonic before leaving the house meets you about a block from the children, jawed the cook and blasted his wife as a sort of morning tonic before leaving the house meets you about a block from the children, jawed the cook and blasted his wife as a sort of morning tonic before leaving the house meets you about a block from the children, jawed the cook and blasted his wife as a sort of morning tonic before leaving the house meets you about a block from the children, jawed the cook and blasted his wife as a sort of morning tonic before leaving the house meets you about a block from the children, jawed the cook and blasted his wife as a sort of morning tonic before leaving the house meets you about a block from the children, jawed the cook and blasted his to be kicked. That 5,000,000 balls have been made for the present season is not surprising when it is remembered that there are scores of amateur clubs — juvenile and otherwise—in almost every city of North America, and each member of these numerous clubs is the possessor of from one to ten baseballs.

Chess by Telegraph,

We put the namber at 5,000,000.

Our grandfathers had a favorite expression:

"Get the grubs out of your back in the apring of the year and you will be all right for another twelvemonth." What they really meant was that if you give your bleed a good cleaning out in the spring, by the use of a perfect blood purifier, like Warner's safe cure, you need not fear that the year will find you under ground.

Worth Remembering.

There is probably no better relaxing emedy for stiff joints, contracted cords, and painful congestion, than Hagyard's fellow Oil. It oured Mrs. John Siddeil, of Drien, Onte, who was afflicted for years with contraction of the bronchial pipes and ightness of the chest. It is the great emedy for internal or external pain. 246

The Jawbone.

Berahardt has taught us how a woman whose corners are not too well upholatered may still be thought beautiful if she has the courage to make a feature of her coragginess. It is merely a vulgar prejudice against bones that has enslaved a portion of the race. A lady constructed solely of the race. A lady constructed solely of ves, would not necessarily be an unvolpiect. The jaw-bone is the only ngly to in the human body. All the aster be eshave a softness of outline, a surved ghoce, which recommends them to the mather because the property and duty of all valued missions is to combat the relaxation of nature by the practice of the virtues, and principally by that of patience in trials.

Q—What is the essential condition of genius?

A.—A lack of ideas.

Q.—What do you mean by that?

A.—I mean that genius being the creative faculty, its distinctive characteristic must be its likeness to the Creator that makes all things out of nothing!

And so on, and so on, for after the error has been admitted at the start, one can progress indefinitely in the domain of the absurd.

Almost Gave Ep the Ghost.

Annie Heath, of Annie Heath, o

orruption. Q.—Why do you add "and wearlsome for d.—Why do you add "and wearlsome for the mind?"

A.—Because it thus becomes a means of etimulating and developing intellectual energy and raising the mind to the transcendency that is the rational summit of art and inaccessible to the vulgar masses.

Q.—Have not the great masters, hitherto, held an adverse opinion on the subject?

A.—Yes, because they still walked in the darkness that surrounded the childheod of art; now the gloom is gradually dispelling, thanks to the triumphs of modern withetics, and at present compose music as Sgararelle once practised medicine, "in accordance with a quite new method."

Q.—Then art must be a sort of medification?

Fronthe Boston Traveler, April 27.

It is not commendatory to society or the sanctity of marriage to realize that the divorce list for hearings at the May sitting in the Supreme Court for Suffolk County is the largest list ever made up in the Commonwealth. It consists of 161 uncontested and 73 contested cases—284 in all.

Common Sease in the Puipit.

The vioar of an English parish, who recently dispensed with a sermon to avoid detaining his congregation, most of whom were shivering in wet boots, has since died of a cold. Perhaps somebody will draw a lesson from this incident, but the parson's exceptional common sense must not be fore the city and suburbs at exceptional common sense must not be fore gotten.
