ADDRESS.
The earthly career of Arthur Duke Wellington has closed; one of the greatest men of the nineteenth century, the fore, most military commander of any age, has paid the debt of nature. The time ha arrived for giving to the world a History of the Great Captain—of the Events of his Life and Time—a life marked by patroism. probity and honour, and events the greatest which have ever agitated the civilized world, and whose influence will be felt upon society till the end of time. Such a ny legal de sted to hand ted are re-feelings in the heart of every Briton—the glory of his country, the honour of its name and position among the nations—nay his fought fields," and "the deadly imminent breaches, the immortal battles and the glori-Companions in arms gathered unfading lau-rels, placed their country's honour and renown on the highest pinnacle of fame and glory, and tore the victors's wreath from the
