

Coola. Before his time the Indians were living in a wild state in huts and very rough at that, but all the Indian tribes say their's is the first house. As those from the sun or moon get their Sissanich history, so I presume they claim priority. From the Komokoa the name Aijultalla originated and the three other names also—thus four names first sprung from the Komokoa House. And thus it is that all the names (chief) from the sun or moon were adopted from the Sissanich history.
