24	F	Crispin, Mart.	18. St. Luke, Evangelist, A. D., 63. He was a native of Antioch, and is supposed to have been a slave, although he was a physician by profession, and is said to have been skilled in painting. He was with St. Paul at Rome, until the time of his martyrdom, comforting the Holy Apostle to the very last. There is no doubt that he also died a martyr, though how, or where, is uncertain.

28	T	{ St. Simon and St. Jude.	24. St. Crispinus and Crispianus were brothers and were born at Rome, and travelled to France about the year 304 to propagate the Christian-religion. They gained a subsistence by shoemaking, on which account they are considered the tutelar saints of shoemakers. They were beheaded, A. D., 308.
29	W		28. St. Simon and St. Jude, Apostles. St. Simon is called the Canaanite, from the Hebrew word "Cana," to be zealous; and also Simon Zelotus, or the Zealot. He suffered death on the Cross with great firmness. St. Jude is called both by the name of Thaddæus and Libbæus. He also suffered martyrdom.
