

CHICAGO MARKET.

CHICAGO MARKET - November 13, 1899.

From the Bartlett Frazler Co., Chicago. H. J. Coon, Manager, 39 St. Sacramento St.

CABLES DELAYED BY STORM — NO NEW FEATURE IS IN SIGHT TO STOP DECLINING PRICES. — FREIGHT CHARGES EAST FROM CHICAGO LOWERED.

Chicago, Nov. 13.

One farthing lower is the Liverpool cable about wheat, the prices being 5-9 $\frac{1}{4}$, 5-10 $\frac{1}{2}$, and 5-11 this morning for December, March and May.

December wheat at New York opened $\frac{1}{4}$ lower today than last closing at 71 $\frac{1}{4}$ — $\frac{1}{4}$, March $\frac{1}{4}$ lower at 71 $\frac{1}{2}$, May $\frac{1}{4}$ lower at 75 $\frac{1}{2}$.

The Chicago market opened with December wheat $\frac{1}{4}$ lower at 66 $\frac{1}{2}$, May $\frac{1}{4}$ lower at 70 $\frac{1}{2}$. Corn and oats opened $\frac{1}{4}$ lower and in the grain market there were in the earlier sales no indication that there would be any advances today.

Provisions opening showed weakness and inactivity. There is little of a bullish nature in sight except the small winter wheat receipts. The damage reported to have been done to the Argentine crop having been denied by later accounts. Towards the close on Saturday the market hardened a little on some export business, coverings of shorts and clearances of wheat and flour exceeding four and a half millions for the week. The demand for export is not large or the decline of $\frac{3}{4}$ cents in freight rate on corn east from Chicago, and weak ocean freights would not have occurred. It is said that foreign houses have been moderate sellers of wheat of late. Without some impairment of the next season's crop outlook professional traders can scarcely avoid bearish anticipations.

The wheat market rallied in the afternoon and closed strong, $\frac{1}{4}$ higher than the opening.
