

FENIANISM A BAD SPECULATION.—The Paris correspondent of the Irishman writes:—I met three Irish American officers, of distinguished services here, in Paris, during the last year. I will give you an example of the luxury in which they were living. Their breakfasts cost nothing, for they lay in their bed till dinner time; their dinners cost 5 sous, that is about 2½d; their suppers were made up of the remains of the dinner. The last I saw of Captain C., of Coreoran's Legion, was when he was leaving for London, on money lent by a friend of mine. The last time I heard of Captain K., of the Irish Brigade, he was seeking employment as a common labourer in the exhibition. The last occasion on which I met the gallant Captain B., of the Federal Engineers, he had his earthly goods wrapped up in a half sheet of a newspaper, and didn't know where he would lay his head that night.

Menotti Garibaldi, who has been figuring as the spirited Commander-in-Chief of the Italian revolutionary forces during his father's imprisonment in Caprera, is but twenty-seven years of age. We came across, the other day, in a book published in 1859, a series of autobiographical sketches of the elder Garibaldi's life, translated by his friend and admirer, Theodore Dwight. After his proscription in Italy in 1834, he went to Brazil, and before long was ardently engaged in assisting the struggling Republic of Rio Grande. He married while there, amid the perils and hardships of war, the heroic Anita, who, in September, 1840, became the mother of Menotti. The boy was cradled in danger. When but twelve days old he was hurried with his mother to go with the little army over mountains and plains and almost into battle. When he was three months old he was carried along a toilsome march, made desperate by toil and famine. For days the water flooding the plains, was up to the bellies of the horses, and in crossing the rivers the father slung the little bundle of humanity in a handkerchief which he tied around his neck. The earlier years of his life were all thus passed in an atmosphere of war and tumult, and his father's subsequent career has left him little leisure to do otherwise than to follow and study it. What wonder that his name and blood have made him early an actor in the stirring scenes of Italian revolution.

ADDITIONAL CANAL REGULATIONS.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, that in accordance with the 28th Chap. Con. Statutes of Canada, His Excellency the Governor General in Council has been pleased to approve of the following additional regulations to ensure the proper using, management and protection of the Canals of the Dominion of Canada.

By Command, WM. H. LEE,
C.P.C.
Privy Council Office,
Ottawa, 14th October, 1867.

Regulations in pursuance of the 28th Chap. Con. Statutes of Canada, for landing fire-wood on the line of the Rideau Canal, in the city of Ottawa, and in addition to the regulations for the management and protection of the Provincial Canals, which were authorized by the Governor in Council, 20th May, 1857, Section 14 and following, and were made applicable to the Rideau Canal, under the Order of His Excellency in Council of the 2nd of June, 1860.

1st. No fire-wood to be landed on the easterly side of the Basin from Sappers Bridge to the line of Little Sussex street.

2nd. Fire-wood may be landed between the line of Little Sussex street and the By-wash or waste-ward, but must be removed within twenty-four hours after having been placed there, a fine of three cents per cord will be charged for every day the wood remains on the wharf after such notice has been given.

3rd. Fire-wood may be landed and piled around the Basin on Government land within forty feet of the water, leaving a roadway of at least fifteen feet between every four pile of fire-wood, which roadway must be as near as practicable at right angles to the margin of the Canal, this wood must also be removed within twenty-four hours after the owner or person in charge has been notified to that effect and in default a fine of three cents per cord will be levied upon it for every day it remains thereon.

4th. Two cents per cord will be charged as wharfage or ground rent upon fire-wood placed on any part of the Government Canal Reserve.

5th. No fire-wood may be landed without a permit having been first obtained from the Lock Master or Collector, and the latter must be given up to this Office before the wood is unloaded, under a penalty of forty dollars. 1-Gin.
