"Our Lady of the Sunshine" will endeavor to give to the world at large a true idea of the bright and sunny aspects of Canadian life. The unstinted approval with which the idea of this publication has been greeted has been highly encouraging to its projectors, and numerous orders for its delivery at midsummer are already being received, its popular price (25 cents) placing it within the reach of all."

Roberts, Jean Blewett, Dr. W. H. Drummond, Mrs. Louise Palmer Heaven, W. Wilfred Campbell, Archibald Lampman, Mary Keegan, Madge Merton, R. S. Cassels, Duncan Campbell Scott, J. Macdonald Oxley, W. "With Fire and Sword."

A companion book to "Quo Vadis" and by the same author. But it is said to be a greater book. Henryk Sienkiewicz has proved in "Quo Vadis" that he can write books that people want to read. "Folks from Dixie."

By PAUL LAWRENCE DUNBAR, author of "Lyrics of Lowly Life." The remarkable success of Mr. Dunbar's Poems makes the publication of this book of stories a noteworthy event. This young negro writer has achieved one of the reputations of the past year, and those who have read the stories are sincere in the belief that their popularity will even exceed that attained by his poems. 12mo, cloth, illustrated by E. W. KEMBLE $1.25

"The Bookman's Literary Year Book."

It includes: sketches of the new authors, with portraits; sketches of famous authors who have died during the year; a list of the principal serial stories in American magazines; synopsis of the best-selling books; an analysis, into departments, of the publications of the year; a list of the larger libraries; a calendar of literature containing the publication of great books, the birth and death of authors, and other literary events of interest. 12mo.; cloth, illustrated $1.25
