

divined my thoughts, and I recollected that he was conscious of another eye and ear, which occasionally watched outside for hours.

"The night of the 17th at the Caf' Anglais,— a tall, dark man, wearing the Legion of Honour." I read, and re-read, without guessing the engine.

A youth fresh from London, with apparently plenty of money, had sauntered out to see the lions. He fell in with a very polite stranger, who, pitying his ignorance of French, volunteered his services as an escort.

PANCREATINE.

FOR INDIGESTION & WASTING DISEASES.

"The most curious of all the digestive fluids is, however, the Pancreatic secretion, for it unites in itself the properties of all the others. As a remedy for indigestion, Pancreatine would be vastly superior to Pepsine, which can only digest one kind of food. With pure Pancreatine we should be able to digest any kind of food, and therefore, the obtaining it in a state of purity was a point of great importance to the Medical Practitioner."—Lancet.

"For six weeks I have been regularly trying Savory & Moore's Pancreatine (Powder). Its effect on my digestion is most extraordinary. I have taken Cod Liver Oil without the smallest feeling of indigestion; this I could never do before. I have in the same time gained 10 lbs. in weight."—From a Note on Pancreatine, British Medical Journal, Feb. 8th, 1868.
