

Adjournment Debate

In conclusion, I want to refer to the matter of our trade and Canada's exports. We all know the importance of exports to Canada's economy. It so happens that one half of our exports to the United States today are in metric units. When it comes to taking lessons from the Americans, I think the Hon. Member might like to reflect upon the tremendous commercial deficit in the United States. It might be better for Canadians to take our lead from the Japanese and the Germans in this case and perhaps base our commercial policies on countries that have shown how to succeed in the area of exports.

Mr. Deputy Speaker: The motion to adjourn the House is now deemed to have been adopted. Accordingly, the House stands adjourned until tomorrow at two o'clock in the afternoon.

At 6.31 p.m. the House adjourned, without question put, pursuant to Standing Order.
