VHEAT DECLINED

FRIDAY MORNING

Chicago Traders Nervous Regarding Outlook for Free Wheat in Canada.

CHICAGO, Dec. 11 .- Too much unsimity on the buying side today in heat made the trade suspicious about he advisability of increased holdings or even as to restraining what had or even as to restraining what had been acquired. Accordingly, the market, which had shown a gain all around, closed easy at a range varying from 3-8c to ½c decline to a shade advance as compared with the night before. Other grain showed a net loss—corn a shade to 3-8c, and oats 3-8c to ½c. In provisions the outcome was unchanged to 15c down.

Announcement that the Canadian premier had set Dec. 16 as a day on premier had set Dec. 16 as a day on which to receive grain growers and which to receive grain growers and dealers, who were understood to favor free wheat, had considerable to do with checking bullish sentiment. Later advices that reserves of wheat in Canada were smaller than generally supposed, did not greatly alter the prevalent feeling that there was feed for cautious investment.

Argentine Harvest Retarded.

Heavy rains and hall damage said to be interfering with the Argentine harvest, were influential in lifting the market during the first half of the ession. Remarkably low estimates on he Argentine exportable surplus cut figure also against the bears, but were afterward; corrected so as to be

In the corn crowd reports of heavy ipments to Chicago from Illinois, wa and Indiana, started general sell-g. The result was more than an set for a previous advance, due to supposed signs here that unsettled weather was at hand.

Oats followed corn, but did so more decidedly on the down turn. Liquidating sales were noticeable in both December and May.

Provisions lacked support and thrust the session owners were disposed.

ST. LAWRENCE MARKET.

Street receipts yesterday were 22 loads of hay and one load loose straw. Hay brought $17 to $18 a ton for timothy, and for mixed $15 to $17 a ton. The loose straw sold at $10 a ton.

of the Russian wheat crop as being cor-ect, I estimate the total world's wheat grop this year at 3,932,000,000 bushels against 3,656,000,000 bushels last year against 3,05,000,000 busnels last year, but taking the commercial estimate of the Russian wheat crop I find that the total world's wheat crop will about equal that of last year.

I estimate the prospective world's exportable surplus at 656 million bushels, with European requirements equalling 532 million bushels, and non-Europe 92 million bushels.
