Since that announcement that arrangements were being completed for the amalgamation of the Northern Exploration Company and the California Exploration Company, the action of the stock on the market has been given considerable attention. Yesterday buying orders from England congregated and an effort to fill them did not find the shareholders asleep and sales were credited as high as $275 a share.

Northern Exploration has had a checkered career. When they disposed of their Hollinger stock at a large profit, they withdrew from Canada, and took an option on the old Plymouth mine in California, operating it thru a company known as California Exploration. This took place two years ago. After operating the Plymouth for some time, they met with a good deal of success, and now are changing the capital of the California Exploration to $120,000 in 10 shilling shares, offering shareholders of Northern Exploration three fully paid 10 shilling shares for each two £1 shares of Northern Exploration. On the face of it, this would seem to mean that holders of Northern Exploration are asked to take $10 worth of stock for $7.50 worth. However, the California Exploration Company, from the report issued by W. J. Jennings, has a large body of ore blocked out, and expects to have a 250-ton mill operating by the first of September, and estimates earnings in the neighborhood of $50,000 a year, which, if realized, means that the ten shilling shares are worth a good deal above par.

The rise in the market is due to the development of the Plymouth mine, which is owned by the California Exploration, and as all the assets, including a considerable amount of cash, are to be transferred to the California Company by the Northern Exploration, it would appear that all financing is arranged, and that the California Exploration Company starts with a property of proven ore bodies and a sufficient treasury.

ST. LAWRENCE REPORT

The report of the St. Lawrence and Chicago Navigation Co. for 1913 shows that despite the loss of the Caruthers, the company's fleet earned more in 1913 than in 1912, the figures being: 1913, $150,181; 1912, $134,081. The directors, out of the earnings, have paid $83,800 as an 8 per cent. dividend, and carried forward the balance, $66,381, to the credit of profit and loss, which, added to the previous balance, makes a total of $222,151 at credit of that account. The directors report that they have collected $272,794 from the underwriters on account of the loss of the Caruthers, and after providing for the full balance of her cost out of the company's insurance fund, still have $61,097 at the credit of that account. The annual meeting of the shareholders is called for Tuesday next. The amount deducted from the company's insurance fund was $48,193, which, added to the amount received from the underwriters, made a total of $220,987, which is presumably what the Caruthers cost. The directors report that satisfactory progress is being made on the new steamer being built for delivery next fall.

POTASH SYNDICATE TO SUE CHANCELLOR

Return of Two Million Dollar
Propaganda Fund is Demanded.

BERLIN, Jan. 7.—(Can. Press).—A suit against Imperial Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg is to be brought by the German potash syndicate, which demands from him the return of $2,000,000 forming the so-called propaganda for advertising the merits of the German fertilizer at home and abroad. This amount was raised by imposing a tax on all potash mined in Germany under the law of 1910. A part of the fund for the specified purpose remains on hand and it is stated in some quarters that the government is allowing it to accumulate with the idea of diverting it to general purposes under the provisions of a new law now being formulated.
The law of 1910 was designed to conserve the natural supplies of potash in Germany, to insure the prosperity of the German industry and to prevent Americans from getting a cheap supply, but has been a partial failure. New potash mines are constantly being opened up, thereby decreasing the quotas allotted to the various existing mines, and those interested declare that the time is coming when the bars to free and cheaper production of potash must be lowered unless more effective methods of discouraging mining in Germany are devised.

Complaints are to be requested by Mr. Train to aid in the prosecution until each case had been concluded and to make no settlement without his consent.

District Attorney Whitman promised, according to the committee, to draft a bill for introduction in the state legislature, aimed to expedite the prosecution of commercial crimes.

HEART SONGS

Heart Songs came Saturday. The girls were away, so they didn't get into it until Sunday afternoon. That H.S. is some book!

I was upstairs writing some dull stuff for a magazine when the old melodies came floating up into my den. I couldn't write any more, so my wife and I stole down to the parlor and sat by the grate.

We have not had such a treat in years. The very air blossomed with melody.

These songs took us in memory back to the old farm, back to the double log house in the Southland, sweet with the honeysuckle and the jessamine.

They took us to the battlefield and colored it with glory and set the roar of the cannon and the crash of musketry to music.

They told us the pathetic tale of the black man, and the black mammy torn from all they loved, and we felt more humane and more sympathetic.

They bore messages of love from mothers and sweethearts to wandering boys, and brought back the vows of "ever true to you, ever true."

They kindled anew the fires on the family hearthstone, and their light shone back to the very cradle.

Heart Songs seem to sweep every string on the harpsichord of human emotion.

One page would lead us gaily through fields of flowers, and the next one would moisten our eyes with the dew of tears. I can see why this book was called "Heart Songs."

We all thank you for Heart Songs.

Respectfully yours,
(Signed) EUGENE CHRISTIAN.
