RETIRES FROM BUSINESS WITH FINE RECORD

P. J. Gorman Locks Up His Shop For Last Time

MANY YEARS HERE AS MEAT DEALER

Baseball Player With Famed Old Shamrock Team As Young Man

When Patrick J. Gorman turned the key in his meat store door at 28 Waterloo street last evening it was not the same as he has done for a good many years—to go to his home to rest for the business of the next day. It was, instead, the final act of a commercial career of more than 50 years, for Mr. Gorman is today retired from active participation in business. He has sold his building to Messrs. Amund Brothers and George Arsenault succeeds him as proprietor of the meat store in the premises where Mr. Gorman has been for 28 years. He has Mr. Gorman leaves the hurly-burly of business while he is in the enjoyment of good health and vigor and with every human prospect of happy years free from the daily cares that go with commercial life.

WAS BOY IN MARKET.

Fifty-two years ago he went, a small boy, to the employ of the late M. Ryan, who carried on a butchery business in the market. It was as delivery driver that he began his working career. From Mr. Ryan's he went to the late James Minnehan, also a well known market man of that time. He learned the business as he progressed through the duties of clerk and in 1888 made a decision to start for himself. Opening a business at the corner of Union and what was then called Brussels streets, now Prince Edward, Mr. Gorman soon began to see success attending on his venture, and after 10 years there was able to buy a building at 28 Waterloo street and move his business there. He has carried on with increasing success at that location since 1898.

With intimate knowledge of the trade and with a pleasing personality, and dealing with his word as binding as his bond, Mr. Gorman has had a large business connection. How sound it was is best seen in the large number of customers whose patronage he steadily has enjoyed over a long period of years. His retirement is due solely to his desire to give up the come-day, day life of a business man and to enjoy his remaining years with his wife in the quiet of their home and their social life.

BASEBALL PLAYER

Mr. Gorman in his younger days was a keen participant in and follower of sport. He liked a good horse race and has enjoyed many here and in other parts where the spectators were waiting for honors. Baseball, however, was his great delight. He played left field for the old Loyalist team and among the members of that team were the late F. S. Whittaker, who died only a few weeks ago, Walter Purdy and C. H. Taylor, the latter a son of the late Harbor Master Taylor.

Mr. Gorman also played on another city team in which the late James Christie was pitcher, and also was a member of the famed Shamrock Club in the days just preceding the bringing of professional ball players to the city. Among those on the team at the time were Garrett Hennessey, catcher; the late D. Connelly, pitcher; James Kane, first base; Michael Costigan, second base; John and Jeremiah Callahan. Mr. Gorman looked after the fast ones and went down towards third base, which was his position. He has always been a patron of the game and is one of its most consistent supporters in Saint John today.

MEMBER C. K. C.

Mr. Gorman has been a member of the Saint John Council of the Knights of Columbus for years, and finds much pleasure in attendance at the meetings of the members in a room which he has held the office of trustee of the council. He retires from business life with the record of work well done, and a percentage of 100 in freedom from obligations to his fellow business men and in the esteem of all with whom he has had dealings, and with all who are numbered among his friends and acquaintances.

F. C. BEATTEAY NOT TO BE CANDIDATE

Announces Decision Not to Consent to Being Placed in Nomination

That he had decided not to enter the mayoralty contest this year was the announcement made this morning by F. C. Beateay to The Times-Star. Mr. Beateay said he had been asked by a large number of his friends to allow his name to be placed in nomination but after giving the matter careful consideration he had made up his mind not to be a candidate. He appreciated the honor paid him but felt that for the present he could not enter the civic arena.

Two candidates are definitely in the field for mayor, A. M. Rowan, North End merchant, former alderman and a member of the Civic Hygro Commission; and Dr. J. H. Barton, former Rotary Club president and commodore of Saint John Power Boat Club. For the two commissions several candidates are offering. The present commissioners, Hon. J. W. Wigmore and T. H. Bullock, J. B. Jones and John Thornton, Alex. Corbett, George Carvill, John Kelly, A. W. Corey and R. J. Logan are also mentioned.

SAINT JOHN SINGER

Mrs. J. A. Wood, one of the young vocalists of the city, gave a very pleasing selection in the radio program broadcast by the CNRA at Moncton last night. Mrs. Wood was to sing at last Tuesday night's concert, which was postponed on account of the storm.

GRACEFUL ACT.

Charles Magnusson, who was so energetic in acting as guide and interpreter for Claas Dumberg, Finnish skater during the world's meet here, has sent press matter and numerous photographs to Heisingfor papers and the Scandinavian press and sporting journals, to refute the garbled and misleading reports in the U. S. papers about Gorman and his victories. Mr. Magnusson says if the new champion is ever sent to the other side of the ocean again he will be as well treated in Finland, Sweden and Norway as Thunberg was here.

THE FLORIDA BOOM

James H. Pullen, who returned from Florida on Thursday, relates interesting photographs in the conditions there. During most of his visit he was located in St. Petersburg, where the real estate boom was still on, as in other parts of the peninsula. The activity, however, seemed to be more along the line of residential life—winter homes for well-to-do northerners—than in industrial lines. In St. Petersburg there were practically no manufacturing enterprises excepting private bakeries and other sources of food supply. In fact, everywhere in Florida the conditions indicated a winter playground instead of a substantial industrial growth.

DOKAYS TO HALIFAX

Adila Temple, No. 127, of Dokays, which has its divan in this city, although it is Maritime in scope, has planned a ceremonial during Pythian Grand Lodge week in Halifax for the last evening of the evening of August 18. It is the first time Grand Lodge has met in Halifax in a number of years, and in addition to a number of guests, being a grand and a sister city brethren and chief K. P. executives, the Dokay branch of the order will be in the proceedings with their Oriental ceremonies and continuing. The next local ceremonial of Adila Temple is billed for next week at the Pythian Castle.

TOLD OF TRAVELS.

Mrs. William McIntosh, leader of the "Just-somers" Circle of the Ladies' Aid of Portland United church entertained the members of the circle and their leading guests at her home, 72 Union street. A pleasant feature was a travelogue by Mrs. R. A. Corbett, on her trip to the British Isles. Mrs. Corbett gave a delightful and graphic account, especially of the Wembley Exposition, illustrating it with lantern slides. Mrs. George Harthorn and Mrs. Arthur Powers sang "Bonnie Bank of Loch Lomond." Dr. McIntosh, on behalf of those present, tendered Mrs. Corbett a hearty vote of thanks. Dainty refreshments were served by the hosts, assisted by Mrs. Rowley, Mrs. S. McConnell, Mrs. J. Stephenson, Mrs. Arthur Powers, Mrs. Cummings and Miss Rose Rowley.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram" said The Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Horneham, "this March weather awakens memories. I have been thinking today of a March when I helped a young farmer get out his year's firewood. He had a pair of horses and of bob-sleds, and we went through the woods on a road that only the snow made passable. We operated in a fine stand of handy-sized birch and maple, with some spruce and fir among them. I could swing an axe in those days, and fell a tree just where I wanted it to fall. There was no wind in the woods, the snow was softening daily and we worked fast. You should have seen the great pile of firewood near the farmhouse kitchen when we had finished. "Yes, sir," said Hiram, "an' I been doin' that very thing every winter fer more'n forty year. I mind when I was a boy they used axen to haul the wood. I got a little to haul out yit afore the snow goes. Better come out an' show what you kin do now with an axe."

REPORT IS REVIVED

F. R. Taylor, K. C., as Candidate in Kings, With Cabinet Position

The vacancy in the position of High Sheriff of Kings county has revived an interesting rumor that in the near future Dr. F. R. Taylor, K. C., was to make his entry into provincial politics and would probably be made Attorney-General in the Baxter administration. The report is based on several occasions that when the position was vacated it was the intention to appoint H. V. Dickson, senior representative of Kings county, sheriff of the county. It is stated that the report would cause a vacancy in the representation at Fredericton. The report is that Dr. Taylor would be the government candidate in the by-election and be given a portfolio. Among others mentioned as possible candidates in the event of a by-election being held in Kings County are Dr. J. B. Gilchrist, Norton and F. M. Sprout, Hampton.

SALE OF STOLEN DRESSES TOLD OF

More Evidence Given About Theft From Charlotte Street Store

Witnesses Speak of Youths Offering Garments For Sale—Proprietor Testifies

John Beckwith, Jr., Edward Greer and George Stafford were in the Police Court this morning for preliminary hearing on a charge of breaking into and stealing goods from the shop at 181 Charlotte street, known as the Vogue. After considerable evidence, they were remanded until Wednesday morning. W. M. Ryan appeared for Stafford and Ralph G. McInerney for Greer. No counsel appeared for Beckwith, although he said that he was waiting for a lawyer.

DRESSES SOLD

Mrs. Gertrude Hughes testified that she had bought one of the dresses from Miss Jennie Holmes for $10, paying $8 down. She produced a receipt dated Jan. 30. Miss Holmes said that the three youths had called at her house one night about the end of January and all three had dresses with them. They had asked her to sell the dresses for them. She said she took one up to Mrs. Hughes, who lived next door, and sold it for $10. She did not receive any commission, but thought that the dresses had come from the Vogue in the regular way. The dress she had sold Mrs. Hughes was the one Stafford had brought. Greer and Beckwith had taken away again the dresses they brought.

JOHN M'GRATH DIES IN MEXICO, AGED 77

Mining Engineer Has Spent Many Summers Here and Made Many Friends

Many friends in this city learned with regret of the death, in Mexico, of John McGrath, well-known mining engineer of that country. The word was received by his sister, Mrs. T. J. Cronin. Mr. McGrath's family came to Saint John from Ireland, and he was born here, but the greater part of his life had been spent elsewhere. When a small boy his parents moved to Quincy, Mass., and his boyhood and young manhood were spent in that city. He took a keen interest in music and as a young man for some years was organist and choir director of the Catholic church of Quincy. He became interested in mining engineering and for many years was connected with some of the largest silver mines in the world. His death occurred on February 16, after an illness lasting only three days. He had attained the age of 77 years. He is survived by two sons, Gerald and John, both in Mexico, and one daughter, Mrs. Eleanor Cameron, Boston, one sister, Mrs. T. J. Cronin, Saint John, and one brother, James, Boston.

SPENT SUMMERS HERE.

It was the custom of Mr. McGrath for many years to spend his summers at Johnston's Hotel, at Upper Loch Lomond, and there he was extremely popular. His jovial good-nature won him friends readily and retained their goodwill through the years. His gifts of music and his facility in recounting many interesting experiences of a busy life in other lands made him most entertaining, and all was enhanced by a geniality of which he possessed more than an ordinary share. There are many here and abroad who had come within the influence of Mr. McGrath's kindly manner and good companionship who will be very sorry to learn that he is no more.
