THE FACTS OF THE CASE

What Reciprocity Means Put in a Few Plain Words Which Should Settle Any Misconceptions and Win Every Present Opponent's Vote

Westmount Liberal Club has sent; "To imagine that our cousins across the llowing circular dealing with re- border are lying awake at night planning ance? In answer let us consider these facts of the case are the objects of this letter.

"First of all, the tariff on manufactured goods, broadly speaking, remains untouched The proposals in the main only affect natural products and to a lesser degree secondary foodstuffs.

"The interchange of livestock, great and small, of wheat, burley, cate and rye, hay and straw, of butter, cheese, milk and cream, is made absolutely free between Canada and the United States. Trade in the Americans. Has that affected our loyalty to Great Britain or to our caream, is made absolutely free between Canada and the United States. Trade in the Americans that the United States of the last twelve years. Are the inhabitants less British than formerly "Our manufacturers of price to the consumer is offset by reductions in the duty on flour, meats, fresh and cured, fruit and vogetables.

"Our manufacturers of barb wire and receive like treatment in the American market is now free to American competition, will receive like treatment in the American market will be shared by the manufacturing and distributing classes of the dominion.

"The benefit which our farmers, fishermen and lumbermen will receive from a free entry into the American market will be shared by the manufacturing and distributing classes of the dominion.

"The talk of the danger of annexation is an insult to Canadian intelligence. There are but two ways in which Canada can lose her autonomy—by coercion or by see duction.
