HER POINT OF VIEW.

The aged cobble had lived with his wife for many years in a three-room cottage on the edge of the town.

When he died the kindly neighbors helped with the last and office, and the old man was laid out on the bed, with two candles burning at the head.

The bereaved widow was cured for at a neighboring house. Next morning she went to her home, and observing that the rats had eaten most of the candles, exclaimed:

"Well, there's one thing about it. If I ever get out of this mess, I'll keep a cat!"

Make one about your laundry; send it to Ungars.

ST. JOHN STAR.

ST. JOHN, N. B., JANUARY 8, 1904.

LIBERAL DOCTRINE.

The Star yesterday commented upon the strange vagueness of all liberal utterances regarding the struggle for power on the grandiose, but unimpassioned generalities which are being served out to those who hunger for the food of fact.

A recent editorial in the St. John Gazette, the only paper in the city which can be depended upon to endorse every lot of liberal policy, federal or provincial—so long as the liberal party is in power—comes as a striking instance.

Here are some apt quotations:

"The might and spirit of liberalism live on; the ideas for which it stands are not the minds of men; its claim upon the allegiance of our people never rang out with a more clarion note than at this moment."

"The thousands of men who are within its ranks give to it their devotion because they regard it as a fruitful instrument of Canadian progress. To them the questions of patronage are of little moment. Above the struggle and the tumult of elections they perceive the great ends to which the country is being shaped under liberal rule."

"As lovers of the dominion, they rejoice that the night of terrors and of terrible shadows that brooded so long upon it has vanished, and that the greatness of their heritage has been revealed to the sight of men."

Now isn't that fine? Doesn't that stir you all up inside and make you want to step out and do something grand and noble? "Might and spirit of liberalism"—"Clarion note"—"Night of terrors vanished"—"Heritage revealed"—Don't you feel like seizing your mighty war sword and striking huge blows for such a party?

It would be cruel to shatter your ecstasy by asking you what it all meant—to enquire what "clarion note" meant, or what "heritage" meant, or to the amount of $120,000,000, which you and your compatriots are touched for in that G. T. P. deal. It would be almost profane to hint that, after all, those thrilling sentences contained very little information about the government's attitude on the tariff question or regarding the Imperial preference policy; that they seemed to be an unsympathetic mind to contain a remarkable paucity of information as to what, in the name of fair play and business, the government was going to do for the port of St. John?

In Mr. Fowler the first named constituency has a man whose influence in parliament is growing daily and whose remarkable progress during the last term ensures him a high place in the councils of the party whether in office or in opposition. It must be pleasing to him to find that his candidature was as heartily favored in Albert as in the county which elected him so handsomely in 1900, and which owes him even a larger majority at the next election.

To the electors of Charlotte county Mr. Ganong needs no commendation from the outside. They know him as a representative untiring in his interests and are proud of him as one of the keenest business men and most convincing speakers in the present house. Those who follow the trend of affairs in Charlotte are confident that Mr. Ganong's majority of 550 in 1900, will be largely increased at the coming election.

It is in its ability to put as candidates in this province and elsewhere, men of the ability and worth of Mr. Fowler and Mr. Ganong, that the conservative party finds one of its surest promises of victory.

AN INDEPENDENT PAPER.

The subsidized liberal papers, to minimize the effects of the revelations of government rascality in Ontario, made by the Toronto News, are seeking to make their readers believe that that journal's independence is only a pretence; that it is really under conservative control.

There is no paper in Canada so independent of party affiliations as the Toronto News. Its managing editor, J. S. Williamson, was until recently the editor of the Toronto Globe, the staunchest ardent organ in Canada. Mr. Williamson has always been a liberal and has been and is a firm friend and warm admirer of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, whose biographer he is. When Mr. Williamson left the Globe the News was purchased for him by an independent company with a personal friend at the head, and placed under his control absolutely. If, during its independent career, that journal has found it necessary to advocate reform among the liberals rather than among conservatives there can be no doubt that in the honest opinion of the able journalist, who is its editor, the liberals need reforming more.

DUST OF STARS.

Men are but clouds incarnate, we are told. Frail creatures, fashioned of a common clay. But soul-filled soil which to the moth-er-mold From whence it sprung, one day returneth. Nay.

Fashioned of dust are we, but dust of stars! Why else this beating of wild spirit-wings, Striving to break earth's sordid prison bars? And soar, sod-spurning, unto astral things? —Hilton R. Greer.

RHODES SCHOLAR.

Australia and New Zealand Enthusiastic Over the Scheme.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—Dr. Parkin, who has just returned from a tour of Australia in connection with the Rhodes scholarship scheme, speaking to the Canadian Associated Press last night, said that New Zealand and Australia were enthusiastic over the scheme, but were afraid that the graduates would not return home. Dr. Parkin replied that the scattering of the graduates was best, and instanced the case of Dr. Rutherford, of McGill, who had made the famous discovery in connection with radium. South Africa, Cecil Rhodes' old home, Dr. Parkin said, was curiously enough, thought the least about the scheme. Mr. Carnegie had remarked that the Americans would not care for the idea, remarking that their young men wanted to make money. Dr. Parkin will visit Newfoundland, the West Indies and Barbados next May to complete his tour.

The labor party, he says, is a menace to Australia. The only safety lies in a coalition between the Deakin and Reid forces. Australians, Dr. Parkin remarked, used to say Canada was slow, but now they began to follow her. Dr. Parkin said he would admire Canadian pluck, if he would carry out the Laurier treaty-making scheme.

WOMEN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

Of the Presbyterian Churches of St. John Met in Annual Session Yesterday.

The annual meeting of all the Women's Missionary Societies of this city was held in the school room of St. David's church, yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Dr. Sprague, the retiring president, occupied the chair. This meeting is always held in the school room of the church, and has for its object closer relationship between the societies of the different churches. The attendance was very large and after the minutes of the last meeting had been read, some thoughts suggested by yearly mission studies were taken up and discussed. They were as follows:

1. Failure of heathen religion to give comfort and help. By Mrs. C. Sanford.

2. Suffering of Christianity, by Mrs. McIntyre.

3. Our responsibility, by Mrs. Foster.

The managing committee for the ensuing year was elected as follows: President, Mrs. McIntyre; secretary, Mrs. Dr. C. Sanford; members, Methodist societies, Miss Hamilton, Miss Smith; Presbyterian societies, Mrs. W. S. Morrison, Mrs. Forrester; Baptist, Mrs. N. C. Everett, then read a business of consumption, length: speech by J. Stark; reading by Jas. Rogers; vocal duet by Bro. H. W. Belting and Mrs. L. A. Belyea; vocal solo by Geo. Lewis.

His funeral will be held on Saturday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock. Walter D. Donovan, aged twenty-three, died recently at Lawrence, Mass. MOTHER OF PIONEERS.

Mrs. Mary Hunter, Mother of Victoria's First White Child, Dead.

VANCOUVER, Jan. 7.—Mrs. Mary Hunter is dead at Nanaimo. She was a pioneer of pioneers, as she arrived at Port Cameron (now Victoria) in the ship Torquay during the early fifties, and was the mother of William Hunter, the first white child born in the colony in 1852.

LOCAL NEWS.

The Orinoco left St. Kitts on the 4th inst. (schedule date) for St. John via Bermuda, and she will therefore be due here on the 12th or 13th inst.

The Trades and Labor Council will hold a meeting this evening, among other business will be the election of officers.

At Norton, Wednesday night, John Monahan, a resident of that place, was seriously injured by his horse running away. Mr. Monahan was thrown violently from the sled, and a serious scalp wound resulted three inches long. Dr. F. H. Wetmore of Hampton attended the injured man, who was reported better yesterday.

Fred J. Boyer of Woodstock, is at the Victoria hotel. Mr. Boyer is the gentleman who, while the guest at the Windsor hotel, St. Stephen, Wednesday, was struck by a young woman while falling from the top stairs in the house. She would undoubtedly have been killed had she struck on the floor, he said. He himself was knocked to the floor and is yet quite sore from the shaking up he got.

The missionary committee of St. David's Church Young People's Association have secured from Toronto several views of India, illustrating the daily life of the people, their religions, and places of worship, the physical features of the country, historic buildings and the mission work, including maps and missionary hymns. These views will be shown next Monday night, as per advertisement. A lecture prepared by one of the missionaries explaining the views will be read by Rev. W. W. Rennie.

A CLEVER ADDRESS.

Prof. William Clark of Trinity College of Toronto delivered his lecture on Kingsley's Waterbury school house under the auspices of the Church of England Institute. Professor Clark's lecture was an orator and a scholar evidently preceded him, for the house was filled. Rev. Canon Richardson occupied the chair.

The lecturer at the beginning remarked that the book might be divided into two parts, the first relating to the life of Tom, the hero, as a chimney sweep; the second, his life as a water baby. The chimney sweep life represents the life of sin, ended by conversion springing out of the love and service, whereby he comes to purify. The Irish woman he took as representing conscience and perhaps providence.

The water baby life has three parts—first, the worldly life, represented by his sojourn in the river, which ended by his helping the lobster out of the pot, signifying the awakening of the service, whereby he comes to recognize the other water babies. The second part of the water baby life sets out two parts, the first relating to the life of Tom, the hero, as a chimney sweep; the second, his life as a water baby. The chimney sweep life represents the life of sin, ended by conversion springing out of the love and service, whereby he comes to purify. The Irish woman he took as representing conscience and perhaps providence.

Recorder Skinner moved a vote of thanks to the lecturer for the able manner in which he handled the subject. Rev. Mr. deSoyres, in seconding the motion, paid several high compliments to Prof. Clark.

Prof. Clark is the guest of W. S. Fisher. He will preach at St. John (etone) church next Sunday morning and evening.

The best laundry work is to be had at Ungars.

TO KILL THE OLD HEN FOR DINNER.

Aunt Sapphira lived alone in a house near "the brick house," which was the pride of the village, and had often been invited there for Sunday dinner. Suddenly remembering that she had done nothing to repay this hospitality, she went over to the Squire's one day, dressed in her best apparel, and seated herself calmly on the hair-cloth sofa.

"I should like to have you and the Squire come over to dinner, come Sunday week."

"I am sure," said Mrs. Williams, "that we'd be very glad to come."

"You see," continued Aunt Sapphira, "I've got an old hen that don't 'pear to be doin' well, an' I thought we'd have a nice pot pie."

Deranged Nerves AND Weak Spells.

Mr. R. H. Sampson's, Sydney, N. S.

Advice to all Sufferers from Nerve Trouble is

"GET A BOX OF MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS."

He says: "I have been ailing for about a year from deranged nerves, and very often weak spells would come over me and be so bad that I sometimes thought I would be unable to survive them. I have been treated by doctors and have taken numerous preparations but none of them helped me in the least. I finally got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Before taking them I did not feel able to do any work, but now I can work as hard as ever. I have made a new man of me, and my advice to any person troubled as I was, is to get a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills."
