All week as each train arrived car loads of strangers came in and or nearly all took in the Exhibition. The hotels were taxed to their utmost capacity, nearly all the housekeepers were entertaining their friends and then there were many who could not get rooms anywhere. Mrs. A. H. Maxwell received her friends at her home Orange street Wednesday and Thursday of this week. Mrs. Maxwell wore a very handsome gown of grey velvet, elaborately trimmed with duchesse lace. ### It is possible for your STAK Want Ads to be productive of more results by wording your advertisement properly. For instance, in renting rooms the answers will be better and more numerous if you tell the size, price, direction, locality, accessible car lines, etc., than if you merely give the street address. Tell the whole story, and readers will be interested. Think before you write Word your ad. carefully.

THE QUEST.

(Nancy Byrd Turner in August St. Nicholas.)

We followed the Rainbow Road When the storm had grumbled by. The rainbow stood by the big east wood.

With its top against the sky. Dot and the dog and I.

—The dog with the curly tail— And a spade to dig for our treasure big.

A spade and a new tin pail. (She was a girl, and so, in case of danger, I gave her the safest place.)

O, we were almost there, And we would have been rich, no doubt. But the wind came by with a dreadful cry.

And the Beautiful Boy went out. When we turned to look about. The great black dark had come.

We ran so fast that Dot was lost. And the dog was the first one home. (And the rainbows came and the rainbows go.

But Dot and the dog and I—we know!)
