

WOOL

Farmers who ship their wool direct to us get better prices than farmers who sell to the general store.

ASK ANY FARMER! who has sold his wool both ways, and note what he says—or, better still, write us for our prices; they will show you how much you lose by selling to the General Store.

We pay the highest prices of any firm in the country and are the largest wool dealers in Canada. Payment is remitted the same day wool is received. Ship us your wool to-day—you will be more than pleased if you do, and are assured of a square deal from us.

HOOD FARM, LOWELL, MASS.

directly attaching to the tuberculous person, such as a consumptive who expectorates enormous numbers of the germs of the disease, and thereafter of cleansing the air, the person's clothing, the furniture, the floors, and walls of rooms which he has occupied, and of providing in all such places the largest amount of fresh air that is possible. Education of the individual stands in the first place in the measures for the prevention of tuberculosis, and all persons, whether physicians or members of families where the sick are, should teach and be taught the principles of personal hygiene. In practice, it is found that nowhere do individuals suffering from the disease receive such education so well as in sanatoria, where expert physicians and nurses establish a routine of daily hygiene, which those who have spent a few months under it will practice after they have returned to their homes or gone elsewhere.

"But even greater good will result from the education of the community at large as to real meaning of fresh air in living houses and living apartments. The weekly sweeping and still more the half-yearly house-cleaning illustrate, as when a carpet is beaten, the infinite number of particles which, unseen, are constantly accumulating in houses. It is further only necessary to leave a room closed in which a carpet is present to appreciate strong odors and the effects of moisture in the decomposition of the organic materials present in it, through the action of microbes which cause decomposition. We thus realize how one of the first steps we must take to keep a house clean is to allow nothing to be on the floors, which will retain particles of organic matter and the microbes which settle upon it, which cannot be readily and frequently removed and cleaned in the fresh air. Thus polished hardwood floors with rugs fulfil best both sanitary and aesthetic household conditions; while in many instances, as in hospitals and places of public resort, nothing serves the purpose so well as well-made modern linoleum, which can be cleaned with a moist cloth, or, still better, frequently rubbed with a weighted felt block, which has been treated with paraffine dissolved in turpentine or with some other wax preparation. What has been said with regard to carpets on floors is similarly true with regard to heavy wool hangings, such as curtains.

Standards of Air Space in Rooms.

"Inasmuch, however, as we have persons always present in rooms, whose boots and clothing, as well as their persons, carry particles of all kinds of matter, and similarly exhale others by mouth and nose, we must provide some systematic means whereby these persons may not only be prevented from polluting the air unduly, but may also be prevented from suffering from the lack of fresh air. Of course, it is apparent that there must be some limit to the number of persons living in any given space, and a standard has been adopted, under Public School Acts, in most progressive countries, whereby each child must be provided with 2,000 cubic feet of fresh air per hour. In an ordinary schoolroom, the space per child is commonly measured by the floor area of 4 x 5 feet in a room 12 feet high, thereby allowing each about 250 cubic feet. It is apparent that this air will require eight changes per hour to supply the required amount. Heating appliances are now available, whereby fresh air is warmed over steam pipes in the basement of schools and other buildings, and delivered by fans through ducts, which will supply the requisite amount by what is known as mechanical ventilation. The ordinary household, however, is not, on the one hand, subjected usually to the limited amount of air space just indicated; but, on the other, it is not commonly supplied with facilities for changing the air, such as that just described. Some have asserted that enough fresh air comes in around windows and under doors, etc., in northern cold climates to provide the requisite amount of fresh air. This, as a matter of fact, is not true; but even when such air inlets exist, they have the constant defect that it means an uneven distribution of warm air and a sense of drafts about the feet and legs, due to cold air near the floor. Hence, some means should be adopted for insuring the entrance of warmed fresh air to our living rooms. Of course, in houses ordinarily heated with furnaces, it is often possible to minimize the evils due to the lack of ventilation by having the windows of
