

Regain New Strength

the glow of health comes to you, when you notice some pale, exhausted invalid restored to active health—enquire. More than likely you will find the cure to have been another of the thousands already wrought by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Headache and neuralgia, St. Vitus' dance and twitching of the limbs, indigestion and rheumatism, eczema and disfiguring eruptions, and the ailments of growing girls and women all disappear when the veins are filled with the new, rich blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make. Here is one instance among thousands; Mr. F. Ashford, Haileybury, Ont., says: "Some years ago I completed a lengthy term of service in India, the last three years being spent in the beautiful but treacherous Poshawar Valley. Ague and dengue fever were rife, and although I was fortunate enough to escape a severe attack of either, on my return home it soon became apparent that the enervating climatic conditions had left their ravages on my constitution. In short the reaction had set in, and in the nature of things was a severe toll from years of strenuous labor. My first warning of the impending breakdown were severe pains in the back of the head and eyes, insomnia, irritability, a general anæmic condition and an indefinable nervousness. Life had lost its zest, work became impossible and companionship intolerable. It really seemed that I was swiftly passing to that stage where nervousness ends and insanity begins, when by chance I read an advertisement of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I confess I was skeptical of them doing what doctors had failed to do, but concluded that the cost was small, and perhaps, the chance in their favor, and so decided to try them. To my joy there was soon an improvement, and a continuance of the treatment effected a complete cure. I was now as fit and healthy as any man and am grateful that the lucky perusal of an advertisement brought to my notice the wonderful curative properties of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

KING GEORGE'S HOME LIFE.

Great Britain's Ruler Described as Best Father in England.

The King's home life and tastes have been described in the Liverpool Daily Post by the writer of "From a Club Window."

"In private life he is the simplest and quietest of English gentlemen. He is the most domestic of men, the kindest of fathers, and always happy in the bosom of his family. The King is the best father in England. Next to his children, the King best likes agriculture, but he has practically no time for this."

"His Majesty is a most abstemious man, not fond of champagne, but as a rule drinking a light wine or whiskey well diluted with mineral water. The King loves a good English cheese both at lunch and when he is dining quietly. He likes a choice, somewhat mild cigar, and it is not unusual for him to consume a dozen a day."

"He has very little leisure for reading beyond what he devotes to studying the daily papers, but when he takes up a book it is never a novel, but a volume of geographical exploration, and he is fond of studying the reports of the Geographical Society."

His Own.

"What's the baby crying for now?" asked the head of the house from the depth of his paper. "He wants his own way," answered the mother. "Well, if it's his," said the absent-minded man, "why don't you let him have it?"

BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine a mother can give her little ones. They are absolutely safe, being guaranteed by a government analyst to contain neither opiates, narcotics or other harmful drugs. They are good for all children from the newborn babe to the growing child. They cure constipation, indigestion, expel worms, break up colds and make teething easy. In fact they are a cure for all the minor ills of little ones and a box should always be kept in the house as a safeguard against sudden attacks of stomach or bowel troubles. Mrs. J. P. Richard, St. Norbert, N.B., says: "I have found Baby's Own Tablets all that is claimed for them. My baby suffered from his stomach and bowels and the Tablets certainly did him good." They are sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

When the Engine Stops There Goes Out All Life.

To the uninitiated, the engines of any steamer are noisy, tiresome, bewildering. And yet every component, every note of that great harmony, has a special meaning for the engineer; moreover, he can detect the smallest dissonance at once. So finely attuned to the music does the ear become, declares the author of "Letters from an Ocean Tramp," that the dropping of a hammer in the stoke-hole, the rattling of a chain on deck, the rocking of a barrel in the stores makes the engineer jump.

It is the same with the eye. It is even the same with the hand. We can tell in an instant if a bearing has warmed ever so slightly beyond its legitimate temperature. And so it is difficult to know "which is the potter and which is the pot." The man and the machine are inextricably associated, and their reactions, one upon the other, are infinite. It is this extraordinary intimacy, this ceaseless vigilance and proximity, that gives the marine engineer such an advantage over all other men, with whom endurance and resource must accompany responsibility.

I remember arguing once with a matter-of-fact apprentice in the shop concerning the suburbs as suitable for such as he. He was not convinced. "There!" he said, slapping the shelf above his bench. "That's where I'd like to sleep. All yer gadder do at six o'clock is roll off and turn to." Well, that is just what he would get at sea. In most steamers the engineer walks out of the mess-room, bath-room or berth, into an alleyway on either side of the engine platform. The heat of the engines becomes part of his environment. He sleeps with it pulsing in his ears, so that if she slows or stops he opens his eyes. It is a point of honor among us to know every kink and crotchet of day-to-day working. If a joint starts some obscure corner of our little kingdom, we know of it within an hour or two. One would think we were a mothers' meeting discussing our babies, to hear the grave little-tattle concerning the inevitable weakness of engines that passes over the mess-room table.

The propeller is our religion. When it drops away, it is sometimes does, there goes out from that ship all life, all motion. Even as the mass of metal plunges downward, and as the frenzied engineer rushes through blinding steam and water to stop the maddened engines in their panic rush, the spirit of the vessel goes out of her in a great sigh. With dampened ash-pits her fires blacken and go out, the idle steering-engine clanks and rattles as the useless rudder sticks at her chains, and the crew tell in whispers how it happened. Just like that, on the Gypsy Queen, out of Sunderland, or the Gerald Dorr, out of Antwerp. All of which is not to be learned in the study at home.

Cramps at Night Require Prompt Remedy

Agonizing Pain Prevented by Keeping Nerviline Handy On the Shelf.

A Case in Point Illustrated.

Deadly cramps—the symptoms are not to be mistaken. Suddenly and without warning the patient experiences such agony in the stomach as to contort the countenance and cause him to cry aloud for help.

Then it is that the wonderful power of Nerviline can make itself felt—it cures so quickly.

"Last summer I was stricken with a frightful attack of cramps. I feared the pain in my stomach would kill me. My eyes bulged out and the veins in my forehead stood out like whipcords."

"My cries attracted a neighbor, who came to my assistance, and in a moment or two handed me half a teaspoonful of Nerviline in some sweetened water."

"It seemed as if an angel had charmed away the pain. In ten seconds I was well. Nerviline has a wonderful name in this locality, and is considered best for cramps, diarrhoea, flatulence, stomach and bowel disorders. I urge all my friends to use Nerviline."

"MANLEY M. LEGARDE, Williamsburg."

No home is safe or can afford to miss the manifold advantages of having Nerviline on hand in case of accident or emergent sickness. Large family size bottles of Nerviline, 50c; trial size, 25c, all dealers, or The Cattarhogue Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

Perfectly Simple.

Gladstone, the great English statesman, always took a keen interest in everything that related to rural life. The Tagliche Rundschau tells of one of the earliest manifestations of that interest.

When still a very small boy, Gladstone was visiting with his parents at a country estate. The owner of the estate showed the boy the farm-buildings and pastures.

The young Gladstone took a great interest in everything, but particularly in a large black bull.

"That is a very fine, strong animal, Master William," said the owner of the estate. "And he's only two years old."

"Why, how can you tell his age?" asked the boy.

"By his horns."

"By his horns?" the lad repeated, in an incredulous voice. He continued to stare thoughtfully at the bull; then suddenly his face brightened. "Oh, now I understand," he said. "Two horns—two years."

WATERY BLISTERS INTENSELY ITCHY

Between Fingers, Spread To Tips. Would Swell Up, Itch and Burn. Did Not Dare Put Hands In Water. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment Cured.

Carman, Manitoba.—"A breaking out between my fingers was the first trouble. It was very itchy and spread to my finger tips affecting the nails. It first appeared in watery blisters and they were so intensely itchy I scratched them and let the water out making sores. They would swell up, itch and burn and finally the nails would loosen and come off. I spent many sleepless nights. I did not dare to put my hands in water except to wash them."

"I kept using ointments; the ointment would help a little but I was not free from it altogether. I was then way for nine years trying everything. I heard of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for them and before I had used them half a dozen times I noticed an improvement. By washing with the Cuticura Soap and applying the Cuticura Ointment frequently I was cured in three months." (Signed) Miss Florence E. Sanderson, May 20, 1913.

For more than a generation Cuticura Soap and Ointment have afforded the most economical treatment for affections of the skin and scalp that torture, itch, burn, scale and destroy sleep. A single set is often sufficient. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere. For a liberal free sample of each, with 32-p. book, send post-card to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. D, Boston, U.S.A.

CURIOUS HOTEL CUSTOMS.

Strange Rules Prevail in Some Scotch Houses.

In an Edinburgh hotel the bar counter contains a slot, into which each visitor who is heard to swear must drop a penny, and a notice to that effect is displayed. These pennies are at intervals collected and sent to aid the funds of one of the local institutions, says London Tit-Bits.

A curious custom prevails at an hotel in Dumfries. In one of the public rooms there is an armchair which was often occupied by Robert Burns, who enters the room and seats himself in this chair is expected to "stand treat" to all present, when the memory of the bard is drunk.

At Aberdeen, in a temperance hotel, each visitor, on signing his name in the hotel book, is desired also to add that he is a teetotaler and will not bring any intoxicants into the hotel. In a Glasgow hotel it is the custom, weekly, on Sundays, to go round the various rooms and take a subscription on behalf of one of the city charities. In another Glasgow hotel the proprietor, religiously, holds divine service each Sunday at noon, to which all the boarders are invited. At several of the large hotels in the north of Scotland the guests are bed by the playing of the bagpipes, while in an hotel in Inverness a posthorn is employed for this same purpose.

His Opportunity.

"Well, did he pay you?" asked the wife of a dentist who had been to collect a bill for a full set of false teeth that he had made for a man almost a year before. "Pay me?" growled the dentist. "Not only did he refuse to pay me, but he actually had the effrontery to gnash at me—with my teeth."

Weary Tiredness Changed to Vigor

That Played - Out Feeling Was Quickly Remedied and Health Restored.

Story of a Merchant Who Almost Lost His Business and His Health Through Neglecting Early Symptoms of Disease.

"My life for years has been of secondary character," writes T. B. Titchfield, head of a well known firm in Buckingham. "Nine hours every day I spent at office work and took exercise only on Sunday. I disregarded the symptoms of ill-health, which were all too apparent to my family. I grew thin, then pale, and before long I was jaundiced—eyes and skin were yellow, my strength and nerve energy were lowered, and I was quite unfitted for business. In the morning a lightness in the head, particularly when I bent over, made me very worried about my health. Most of the laxative medicines I found weakening, and knowing that I had to be at business every day I neglected myself rather than risk further weakness. Of course I grew worse, but by a happy chance I began to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I was forcibly struck by the fact that they neither caused griping nor nausea, and it seemed incredible that pills could tone, cleanse and regulate the system without causing any unpleasant after effects. Dr. Hamilton's nature acted with me just as gentle as a lily, gave me new life to my liver, strengthened my stomach, and won me back to perfect good health. My skin is clear, dizziness has disappeared, and my appetite, strength, spirits are perfect."

Refuse anything offered you instead of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which are sure to cure. Sold in 25c. boxes, five for $1.00, at all druggists and storekeepers, or postpaid from the Cattarhogue Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

A Good Thing.

"You knew old Dempster, who was said to be so well off? As you know, he died the other day, and now the story goes that his one and only possession was an old grandfather's clock." "Ah, well, there's one good thing about that. The trustees won't have much difficulty in winding up his estate."

We believe MINARD'S LINIMENT is the best:

Charles Wharton, Niagara, N.S.
Rev. B. O. Armstrong, Mulgrave, N.S.
Pierre Landers, senr., Pokemouche, N.B.
Thomas Watson, Sheffield, N.B.

Boarder (on leaving)—"Madam, you are one of the most honest persons I ever met." Landlady—"I'm glad to hear you say that, sir."

Boarder—"Yes, your honesty is even apparent on the very front of your establishment. Your sign says 'Boarders taken in.'"

Minard's Liniment Cures Diphtheria.

Doctor—"You must be careful, man. The influenza is not so very dangerous, but it may have extremely unpleasant consequences." Patient—"I noticed that when I got your bill the other day."

ADVENTURES OF A SLEEPER.

Tells His Experience of a Night With Mosquitoes.

Richard Brinsley Sheridan said that had the fleas of a certain bed on which he once slept been unanimous, they could easily have pushed him out. Arthur T. Johnson, who writes of a camping trip in his book, "California, An Englishman's Impressions," says that had the mosquitoes that attacked him one night been unanimous in their attentions, he thinks he must have perished. Mr. Johnson continues: "All that night did I lie awake, the suffering prey of legions of these pernicious pests. 'Dopes!' I had long ago given up as entirely impotent to deal with the foe; the stronger the smell, the better they appeared to like it. With yards of cheese-cloth I now endeavored to parry their assaults, only to find the old truth verified, that one mosquito on the wrong side of the net is more venomous than a hundred when there is no net at all. I smoked until I could smoke no longer. I remembered the midges of Lakeport, how they so obligingly committed suicide by casting themselves into the flames, and lit a fire in the vain hope that the mosquitoes might be equally accommodating. But the taste of imported blood was far too good for them to dream of doing anything half so foolish. The fire only attracted more. For every one I slew, a hundred arose to avenge its death. My hands and arms tingled to the elbows, my neck and face were swollen and aflame. I buried myself in my blankets, but that only made the venom of the demons still more irritating; besides, it was so hot and sultry that the lightest covering was as much as I could bear. Sounds of the distress of others came to me; and there was a satisfaction, however feeble, in feeling that I was not suffering in solitude. Not before the brief twilight of dawn had announced the sun did the pests depart.

At the next camping-place there were no mosquitoes to speak of. Still, I was not permitted to have the restful night I desired, for no sooner had I lain down than I was serenaded by a playful kitten. Whether it was the mere desire for company that brought her out of the barley barn to me, or whether she was attracted by my hairy blanket, I know not. But she persisted in dancing about on my recumbent body, and catching imaginary moths with fore paws, like a juggler with his balls. I put her to flight; but she only enjoyed the fun, and returned to her capers as soon as I had lain down. She toyed with my hair and clawed at my blanket. While the buggy whip was in my hand she kept a safe distance, only to return with fresh vigor just as I was passing off to sleep. Ultimately, a more desperate determination to get rid of the pest possessed me. When a very small boy I once, with the best intentions in the world, attempted to wash a cat under the scullery tap. That cat fled and never returned. The memory of the episode stirred me to make a final effort to put this one to flight with a bucket of cold water.

But I could not catch her. She had the light-hearted, wanton spirit of a butterfly, the slippiness of an eel. At length, however, after a considerable time spent in stalking, I managed to give her a fairly successful douche. But before I had got comfortably settled again, she was back, and, perched on my shoulder, actually began to lick herself with her tongue. I was beaten. She had come as near to my ear as she well could, to do her toilet; and as the night grew colder, I dragged some folds of my tent over my head, and finally went to sleep to the monotonous tune of that scraping, insistent tongue.

LIQUID SULPHUR cleanses the blood.

Those Wives.

Griggs—My wife has a habit of spending money before she gets it. Briggs—Mine is worse; she spends it before I get it myself.

Carlyle once told of a lawsuit pending in Scotland affecting the succession to a great estate of which he had known something. The case depended upon a family secret known only to one old servant, who refused to reveal it. A kirk minister was sent to tell her that she must speak on peril of her soul. "Peril of my soul!" she said. "And would ye put the honor of an auld Scottish family in competition with the soul of a poor creature like me?"
