THE MISSION

Continual Increase in Attendance—Earnest Address by the Mission Preacher.

There was quite a large congrega-tion in Christ Church last night listening to a very earnest address by the Rev. Arthur Murphy, on the "Parable of the Prodigal Son," The scene in the far off country was vividscene in the far off country was vivid-ly described, and the wretchedness, degradation, which are the awful in-heritance of the restless and aband-oned sinner, clearly set forth. "The oned sinner, clearly set forth. "The soul" said the preacher," was made for God, and if it is not living in harmony with God's holy will, misery and ruin will surely follow. Man cannot feed on the tainted and perishing husks of the world of pleasure and hands sin, and enjoy sweet rest and happiness. Man cannot live away from God mingling with profligates in the far-off country, without being dragged down into the awful depths of sin and ruin. The younger son left a well furnished and comfortable home, left a loving father and plunged into dissipation which ted to indescribable suffering and poverty. He was covered with the ugly scars of sin and the rags of poverty. One day, however, he thought, and he thought seriously, he seriously considered his awful condition. It is a blessed thing to considered and he was speedily convinced that he had acted the fool. "He came to himself," acted the fool. "He came to himself," That is, he came to a right mind, "What a fool I have been," he said. "I left a good home, and a rich and affectionate father, and here am I how, in this bitter distress and pover-index. It is a matter purely between the steamship lines and ferries and the government. Mr. Malcolmson—I am opposed to the resolution.

Mr. Quinn—The whole matter originated with the ferry boats at Windson and there was great feasting and rejoicing in the old home. OF TRADE

Mr. Piggott-I have always been a strong advocate of free trade between Great Britain and her colonies. It yould be a good thing if we could ecure it. I think it would be the secure it. I think it would be the cause of a reduction on the tariff between Canada and the United States. There is one question on which I think the present Government has made a very bad mistake. That is prohibition and the referendum. I think they have made a very injudicious move and I hope that the referendum bill will be withdrawn. I cannot see any benefit to be derived from prohibition. In other countries where it has been tried it has proved a failure. Any of us who have traa failure. Any of us who have tra-velled will know that no matter where you go you may get a glass of liquor at any time. If the referendum car-ried would it be enforced? Where there is a demand the supply will surely be found. We all know that Blue and Navy, Cardinal, Brown, Grey, during the past two years temperance has made great strides. If the referendum carries it will only results. The ladies of the First Presbyterian in a drawback to the temperance which I would like to see established in this country and that is a fast steamship line between Canada and the old country. I would like to see this suggested to this Dominion meeting. The Government are not doing in this line what they ought to do. We have no facilities for the export of our produce such as fruit. of some of our produce, such as fruit,

Mr. Ball-I agree perfectly with Mr. Wheeler, but I would move no action as to sending a delegate to this

Mr. Malcolmson moved that the matter of offering suggestions on broad and patriotic questions to this Board of Trade be left in the hands of the council of the Board.

Mr. McKellar also spoke in favor of the idea.
Mr. Piggott—The idea is simply to equilize the matter between Canada and the United States. The percent, while it from a sentimental standpoint, but it from a sentiment have been a strong supporter of pre-ferential trade. Even in one thing alone, binder twine, this principle is clearly shown. The factories in the United States are waiting until the united States are waiting until the small factories in Canada place a price on twine, when they will at once step in and sell at such a reduced price that we will either have to sell at a loss or close up our doors. loss or close up our doors. I think, however, that the resolution from this Board should be very carefully word-

CHERRY'S BAD HEART

Put him "down and out" so far as working was concerned but Dr. Agnew's Oure for the Heart made a man of him again.

Heart weakness and fainting spells were so acute that Wm. Cherry, of Owen Sound, Out., had to quit work. His sufferings were very great. One day a druggist said: "Cherry, try Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart; it must be a good thing for it has a large sale." He did so, and took five bottles. To-day he takes his place beside the other workmen, and does as big a day's work as any of them, thanks to this great remedy. Sold by J. W. McLaren, Chatham.
