The Best.

The Chatham Business College

CHATHAM, ONT.
It is unquestionably Canada's greatest business school.
No other school gets such RESULTS.
It is now current talk throughout the country that the student who wants the best training and a good position when graduated must attend this school.
250 students placed in year 1900 304 " " 1901
350 " " 1902
375 " " 1903
If these were placed in picturesque positions worth $3 or $4 per week, the showing would not be worth the space in this paper that it takes to tell it. But when the salary averaged $500 per annum, a few of them over $1000, the public should know that no other business school in Canada publishes such lists and gets such RESULTS.
Many of our former graduates are now commanding salaries from $500 to $1000 annually.
WHY SHOULD IT NOT BE YOU?
We pay your railway fare up to $3.00.
Good board in Chatham, $2.00 to $2.50.

CHINA AND GLASSWARE.

A Good Deal Depends Upon the Way
They Are Washed.

There is nothing which delights the heart of the housewife more than pretty china, sparkling glass and bright silver pieces for the dinner table. It is not considered necessary to have all the pieces match, and if collected whenever opportunity is offered one will scarcely miss what they cost.
Bowls and sauce dishes in many pretious shapes may be obtained in plain tableware or beautifully decorated.

The preservation of decorated china depends a great deal upon the way it is washed. This task is quickly accomplished, and if the proper utensils are provided it is not a disagreeable one. Tin dishpans wear out so quickly that it seems a waste of money to buy them. Galvanized iron is hard to keep clean, while granite ware seems to be the perfect material for the purpose. Two pans are needed, one for washing, the other for rinsing, and a larger tray—a rack is better—should be provided for draining.

Use water that is as hot as the hands can bear comfortably and add enough powdered soap to make a good suds.
Have a clean dishcloth or mop and all the clean, dry towels necessary. Wash the glasses first, dip them in the pan of rinsing water and dry immediately.
Then wash and dry the silver, plates and the china cups, saucers, plates and larger dishes in the order named.
Silverware that is treated in this way will be kept so bright that it will not be necessary to use the silver polish often than once in two weeks.—Chicago News.

DUST IS DANGEROUS.

Be Careful How You Send It Flying
About the House.

Whether the bacilli that cause tuberculosis in the human being are the same as those which cause it in other warm blooded animals and even fish or whether they merely change their appearance with their environment is a question for the bacteriologist expert. That we may become infected from other animals has not the vital interest that the undoubted fact has that we can and do become infected by the germs that other men carry about and that the home, the place where we take refuge from the ills of life, is precisely where this dread disease attacks us.

Inside the four walls of our houses is where these deadly germs are implanted, are nurtured and bring forth their harvest. It is at home we must begin to defend ourselves. It is the part of wisdom to do away with dust catching draperies and carpets. Have the rugs shaken and beaten out of doors. If you must have carpets, sweep them with wet tea leaves sprinkled on them. Wipe the furniture with a moist cloth; don't flit the dust about with a bunch of feathers on a stick.
Dust is dangerous. Remember that.
Better to have some critic write "Sloven" in the dust upon the mantelpiece than cloud the air with it and poison your whole family.—Everybody's Magazine.

THE HOME DOCTOR.

Palpitation of the heart may be arrested by bending down so as to allow the blood to run to the head.

It is said that a muskrat skin worn the fur side next to the lungs will bring certain relief to asthma sufferers.

Fomentations of hot baked onions will not only relieve earache, but will sometimes cure the deafness that results from earache and hard clogs.

Blisters which form after burns or scalds should be pricked immediately, the water squeezed out and pressed down gently with cotton wool.

The skin of a boiled egg is the most efficacious remedy that can be applied to a boil. Peel it carefully, wet and apply to the part affected. It will draw off the matter and relieve the soreness in a few hours.

The Figure and Walking.

A woman who leads a very active life has a theory that the preservation of a good figure depends to some extent on the manner of walking. Many experts, she says, as they advance in years allow themselves to walk heavily and without elasticity, so that the whole weight rests on the lower part of the limbs at every step, the only effect of exercise being weariness of the legs and feet. Instead of this the body should be held erect and poised so as to have a perfect balance. In this way the muscles are braced and strengthened throughout, the lungs must of necessity be well expanded, and it seems quite reasonable to suppose that the tendency to increase the weight may be checked. At all events a lighter step and a brisker and more enjoyable manner of walking can be kept up, and that in itself is a very great gain.

Medicinal Baths.

Here is a simple and available recipe —a medicinal bath for the nervously worn and those who cannot sleep at nights. It was the prescription of an old physician. Recipe: Take of sea salt four ounces; spirits of ammonia, two ounces; spirits of camphor, two ounces; of pure alcohol, eight ounces, and sufficient hot water to make a full quart of the liquid. Dissolve the sea salt in the hot water and let stand until cool. Pour into the alcohol the spirits of ammonia and camphor. Add the salt water, shake well and bottle for use. With a soft sponge dipped in this mixture wet over the surface of the whole body. Rub vigorously until the skin glows. When nervous or "blue" or wakeful do not omit the bath. The rest and refreshing that follow will amply repay the effort required to prepare it.

JUSTIFIED IN WHAT HE SAYS

Why J. J. Perkins Owes his Life to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Doctor Had Given Him up and he was Hopeless and Desperate Before the Great Canadian Kidney Remedy put Him on His Feet.

Tyndall, Man., August 1.—(Special).
—When a man has had Kidney Disease; when the doctor has given him up; when that man takes Dodd's Kidney Pills, begins at once to recover and is soon a well man, that man is surely in a position to say that Dodd's Kidney Pills saved his life.

That is the experience of Mr. J. J.
Perkins of this place. Speaking of his case Mr. Perkins says:

"For two years I was troubled with my kidneys and at last became so bad that the doctor who was attending me gave me up and said I was incurable."

"I continued to grow worse. I was unable to work and was becoming destitute when to please a friend I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills."

"The first box did me so much good I felt like a new man and after taking five boxes I was completely cured."

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure the kidneys, and cured kidneys cure Dropsy, Rheumatism, Heart Disease and all other diseases resulting from impure blood.

Bible Translation.

At the beginning of the nineteenth century the Bible was current in some forty languages—today in some 400.
It is necessary to use sixty different sets of types to print in these many tongues, while some fifty languages require to be printed in more characters than one to be legible to all races and creeds in that particular country.
Again, to translate the Bible into one foreign tongue is in itself a work of more than a lifetime very often. What must be then the labor required to learn some barbaric tongue which has no writing, no characters or alphabet of its own and to supply all deficiencies before the task of translation can begin? Moreover, the Biblical metaphors and similes have to be altered and made comprehensible to un-tutored minds. One translator, Henry Nott by name, spent twenty years in Tahiti to learn the language, after which he spent another twenty years in translating the book into the Ta-hitan tongue.—London Chronicle.

A Singular Coincidence.

One Sunday afternoon in the summer of 1889 Mrs. K., a northern woman, said to her husband: "I don't know why it is, but all the afternoon I have been thinking of our old friend, Emma, in Natchez, Miss. We have not heard from her for several years. I believe that I will write to her." She did so. The letter was mailed that evening. It would reach Natchez on the next Tuesday. On Tuesday morning Mrs. K. received a letter from Emma, dated Sunday afternoon, commencing:
"My dear Mrs. K., I don't know why it is, but I have been thinking of you all the afternoon and concluded that I would write to you. It has been several years since I have heard from you." Hence these two ladies, one in the far south, the other in central Illinois, were thinking of each other, writing in almost the same language and evidently at the same moment.

Where It Is Always Leap Year.

In one part of "all the Russias," the province of Ukraine, it is always leap year as far as the female privilege of proposing is concerned. It is said to be customary there when a young woman falls in love with a man for her to go to his father's house and in the most tender and pathetic manner plead with the young man to take her as his wife. She promises the most submissive obedience to his will if he will but accept her. If the young man says, "I beg that you will excuse me from this," she tells him that she is resolved not to depart until he shall promise to take her for better or worse. She accordingly takes up her abode there and remains until he is wooed and won or until he ends the siege by fleeing to parts unknown.

Smoothering Trouble at Sea.

"Once, crossing the Atlantic," said an old traveler, "a tremendous row arose among the sailors. They fought down in the forecabin like a pack of wild beasts. Luncheon was going on at the time, and the first officer left the table to see if he could quell the disturbance."

"He had only been gone a little while when the hubbub began to die down.
Everything was quiet when he returned.
The captain called across the saloon to him in an approving tone:

"Things seem to be smoother now."
"Yes," returned the first officer; "we have ironed the sailors, sir."

DIVINE OPTIMISM.

I held it rash, with him who sings
To one clear harp in divers tones, That men may rise on stepping-stones Of their dead selves to higher things.

I sometimes hold it half a sin To put in words the grief I feel;
For words, like Nature, half reveal And half conceal the Soul within.

But, for the unquiet heart and brain, A use in measured language lies;
The sad mechanic exercise, Like dull narcotics, numbing pain.

In words like weeds I'll wrap me o'er, Like coarsest clothes against the cold;
But that large grief which thence enfold
Is given in outline and no more.

I hold it true, whatever befall;
I feel it, when the sorrow moves;
The better to have loved and lost Than never to have loved at all.
—Alfred, Lord Tennyson.

PERPETUATE CHARTER.

The Ontario Government Purchases the Toronto Medical School Building.

At the last session of the Legislature an act was passed authorizing the Government to purchase for $1,000,000 the building of the Toronto School of Medicine on Gerrard street, which, since the federation of the universities, is no longer required.
Recently an Order-in-Council was put through, taking over the building at the price stipulated, as well as the charter of the Toronto School of Medicine. There can be now no revival of that school as a rival to the university," said Premier Ross, speaking of the matter. "It is believed that the property can be sold for at least the price we paid for it under the terms of confederation, and probably for more than that. We will sell it as soon as we get our price for it."

The Toronto School of Medicine was incorporated in 1851 by special act of Parliament, the charter being granted to Dr. John Rolph, Dr. Joseph Workman, Dr. W. T. Atkins, Dr. James Langstaff Gavin, Dr. Russell and Dr. T. D. Morrison. The corporation at the time of its incorporation was as follows: Dr. J. H. Richardson, Dr. Hugh Ogden, Dr. James Thornburn, Dr. W. W. Ogden, Dr.
Moses Atkins, Dr. R. A. Reeve and Dr. William Oldright.

An interesting little ceremony took place in the office of the Minister of Education when the charter was formally turned over to the Government. The nominal members of the corporation now are: Hon. R. Harcourt, Mr. J. R. Cartwright, K.C., Deputy Attorney-General; Mr. John Millar, Deputy Minister of Education; Mr. Thomas Mulvey, K.C., Deputy Provincial Secretary, and Dr.
C. A. Hodggets, Assistant Registrar-General.

The charter of Trinity Medical School was surrendered to Trinity College some time ago, and in the federation was absorbed by the University of Toronto.

OUR PEDAGOGUES.

Protest Macklem Gives Some Good Advice to Embryo Teachers.

The closing exercises of the Toronto Normal School were marked by forceful addresses to the students from the Minister of Education and Rev. Dr. Macklem, provost of Trinity University.

Mr. Harcourt dwelt on the importance of inculcating Christian character in the minds of children. Added to this was perseverance, which was the foundation of genius, a high aim and tenacity of aim. The habit of reading should also be inculcated, and the direction of pupils in the selection of literature was most important.

Provost Macklem said that teachers were looked to just as preachers to foster higher ideals and assist in the formation of character. That the Canadian youth required training in manners was hardly open to question. The average boy knows little of respect and nothing of reverence.
The Bible Society meeting in Massey Hall, of which they were thoroughly ashamed, proved there was much to be done. The lack of good manners ran like a thread through our whole social system.

"Each of you should become such a book to your pupils that in future life they will keep you on the shelf of memory," said the speaker in referring to the inspiration which each should give to the scholars. "Success was impossible without discipline and true success was achieved easily and naturally and not forced. Fact was the greatest possession, and it was comprised of joy, love, faith, meekness, confidence and moderation."

In conclusion he impressed upon the graduates high ideals, broad sympathies and unflinching hopefulness.
Narrowness was always weakness, while broadness meant strength; and they should always keep in touch with the best and greatest in the movements of the world.

A Successful Canadian.

Dr. Adolf Lehmann is a Canadian who has met with success in India.
A native of Simcoe County, Dr. Lehmann graduated from the Ontario College of Agriculture, Guelph, in 1889, and later went to India.
Five years ago the Maharajah of Mysore decided that his Government should take up the question of scientific agriculture, and to this end, Dr.
Lehmann was appointed to establish the department and to be its head.
The appointment was for five years, and when the term elapsed a few months ago he was re-appointed for a similar term and given a year's furlough. The other day he was at the Parliament Buildings renewing acquaintance with Mr. C. C. James, Deputy Minister of Agriculture. Dr.
Lehmann said that there were very few Canadians in Mysore, a fact which caused the doctor some surprise. He thought that Canadians would do good work in the Indian Civil Service. The examinations had to be taken in England, but the appointments were very lucrative, ranging from $2,000 a year up as high even as $20,000.

Woe unto the politician whose nerve has become effete.
Woe not for the fools the wise guys would get left.
