NUNS AS PRINTERS.

Printing Office For Convent Home of Sisters of Holy Child Jesus. Who would ever expect that a complete printing and publishing house was contained in the convent home of the Sisters of the Holy Child Jesus, a beautiful retreat at Sharon Hill, Delaware county, Pa.?

The faces of the women who work at the cases are almost hidden beneath the big black veils, and as they bend back and forth in reaching for the type the crucifixes at their waists swing in rhythm to the movement. At the imposing table other black veiled sisters are busy making up forms and correcting mistakes, while in one corner a black robed figure is feeding a press run by a small engine.

There is no typesetting machine in this printing office. There is no need for one. In the gray old building rooted in a quiet park, far from the rush of commercial life, the nuns are serenely indifferent to the demands of the age for time saving devices that cuttravels speed at the expense of workmanship.

As in medieval times, the monks and nuns preserved arts that the indifferent world outside the walls would have permitted to fall into disuse, so these sisters of Sharon Hill will probably be the means of perpetuating the finest features of the art of printing, which are falling more and more into disuse in this bustling age.

The Best Cosmetic.

Water is the most universally employed of all cosmetics, and rightly applied it is the best. Notwithstanding that with the great majority the act of face washing averages more than twice a day, the number who know how to do this correctly is comparatively small.

The enemy to a fine complexion is dirt. In no place do complexions suffer so much from it as in the city, especially in those cities where soft coal is burned. In such places it is almost impossible to keep the face clean. Dust, dirt and impurities collecting upon the face choke up the pores of the skin and interfere with the circulation, making the complexion muddy and causing eruptions.

As a general thing men's faces show a clearer, better skin than women's, though naturally it is of a coarser texture. This is due to the fact that men use much soap in lathering for shaving, and the shaving soaps are much finer in quality than most toilet soaps.

Many complexions are ruined by the employment of sponges and face cloths; not that these are pernicious in themselves, but they are not properly cleaned after using. They are carelessly wrung out of the water in which they have been used and hung out to dry by the washstand out of the light. The soap and impurities of the water remain in them, and as they are used time after time the decayed soap and collected matter are applied to the face and will occasion the appearance of blackheads and little pimples, and the skin will become muddy. A sponge is well enough in itself, the wash cloth is well enough in itself, but even after being used once the sponge or the cloth should be washed most carefully and after being rinsed in boiling water, hung to dry in the sunlight and rain.

To Embroider Flower Stems. Remember that stems are not merely bits of sticks by which the flowers are connected with the plants, but are integral parts of the plant and full of individuality and character. Remember that every stem is as unlike every other stem as the flowers and leaves are unlike.

Remember, since the stems are individual in themselves, it is well to observe from nature what the particular characteristics are of each stem.

Remember that all stems are larger at the bases than at the calyx of a flower, and it is a violation of the laws of nature and design to make them otherwise.

Remember to realize the importance of the stems in order not to feel that the work is practically finished with the completion of the flowers and leaves and that all that remains is to get the troublesome things in by some or any means.

Remember a point to consider before deciding upon the method by which any certain stem should be embroidered is whether it is lithe or supple, bearing a nodding flower, or stately and firm, supporting leaves and blossoms of weight, or rugged and woody.

Remember that the material must be considered, whether it shall be full or solid or "half worked" only.

Scented Waist Hangers.

Shirt waist boxes are all very well, but they cannot accommodate more than two or three waists without crushing, and invariably the waist which one wants is at the bottom of the box.

If one has plenty of closet room it is a much better plan to use waist hangers on a clothes pole extended across the platform.

Every woman delights in dainty toilet belongings and will appreciate pretty covered waist hangers scented with her favorite perfume.

The frame should first be covered with cotton plentifully sprinkled with sachet.

An additional touch of daintiness may be had by suspending six or more tiny sachet bags from the center with baby ribbon.

This is also a very good idea for a hanger for lightweight skirts.

Odd Handkerchief Case.

A pretty handkerchief case can be made of two Japanese paper serviettes, with plain borders. Cut a square of cotton wool the exact size, sprinkle with scented or sachet powder or insert within it a small silk bag of powderedorris root, and place the scented wool between the serviettes. Fasten firmly but lightly together and then neatly bind with ribbon matching the pattern of the serviettes. New turn in each of the corners toward the center in envelope style and on one of the points fix a piece of ribbon to tie together in a bow.

A glove sachet may be made the same way, only the serviettes are folded lengthwise, and the corners of the upper part are turned down, a tiny bow of ribbon at each point. The edges are bound same as handkerchief case, and lightly tied in the center with bows of ribbon.

Rainy Day Plans For the Children. Rainy days often mean trouble in the household where there are plenty of children, and some one has suggested that the mother of such a brood would do well to provide herself with a rainy day cupboard.

To it will find their way special playthings reserved for state occasions - pictures, scrapbooks, paste pots, scissors, old magazines and paint boxes - anything, in fact, that can provide indoor amusement. When the rainy day comes round the cupboard may be opened and a distribution of its blessings made.

Sewing Hints.

Use double thread for gathering. Use as fine a thread and needle as the garment will allow.

When threading your needle, make the knot on the end broken from the reel.

The rule for frilling is to allow one and a half the length of the edge to be trimmed.

When sewing on a button, place the knot on the right side of the cloth directly under the button.

When Making Bubbles.

When preparing suds for a soap bubble party the bestness added a little glycerin to the water, which made the bubbles last longer and grow to a larger size than when soap and water are used alone. One teaspoonful of glycerin to about two cups of water is the right proportion. - What to Eat.

To Prevent Oily Skin.

A clear, dry skin will be the result of three months' constant use of the following solution: Pulverized borax, one ounce; pure glycerin, two ounces; camphor water (not spirits of camphor), two quarts. The skin should be bathed with this lotion two or three times a day.

Japanese Salad.

Cook a cupful of rice in boiling water, add one small onion chopped, a teaspoonful of salt and one of chopped red pepper. Serve garnished with sardines and sweet red pepper placed on a lettuce leaf with French dressing.

Suede Gloves.

One of the best ways of keeping suede gloves in good condition is to place a piece of rock ammonia in the box or drawer in which they are laid. The ammonia must not, however, be allowed to touch the gloves.

Before using a lemon for flavoring purposes it is a good plan to heat it by placing it on the lower shelf of the oven for a few moments. This has the effect of considerably increasing the amount of juice obtainable.

A frying pan should not be scraped. Instead fill it with cold water to which a little soda has been added and let it stand for several hours.

SCARE AT HAMIOTA.

Fire in Hotel Where Mr. Borden Was Staying.

Hamiota, Man., Oct. 23. - While Mr. R. L. Borden's advent cannot be said to have set the place on fire, still it is a remarkable circumstance that within two hours after he had registered at the Hotel Cecil fire broke out in the kitchen basement. The maids ran through the house bringing forth the contents of their wardrobes, guests rushed for their grips, and the fire department, which was sent gliding down the hill, was disturbed in his toilet. The fire was, fortunately, quickly put out, and the company forgot the panic in a hearty supper.

What Do They Cure?

The above question is often asked concerning Dr. Pierce's two leading medicines, "Golden Medical Discovery" and "Favorite Prescription." The answer is that "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most potent alterative or blood-purifier, and tonic or invigorator, and acts especially favorably in a curative way upon all the mucous lining surfaces, as of the nasal passages, throat, bronchial tubes, stomach, bowels and bladder - curing a large per cent. of catarrhal cases which otherwise affects the nasal passages, the throat, larynx, bronchia, stomach (as catarrhal dyspepsia), bowels (as mucous colitis, hemorrhoids, etc.), and the bladder. Even in the chronic or metastatic stages of these affections it is often successful in effecting a cure.

"Favorite Prescription" is advised for the removal of one class of diseases - those usually weakly, upon which it has a powerful purifying and invigorating tonic and nerve. For weak women, over-worked women - no matter what has caused the breakdown - "Favorite Prescription" will be found most effective in building up the strength, regulating the womanly functions, subduing pain and curing all kinds of nervous, hysterical and other conditions of the whole system.

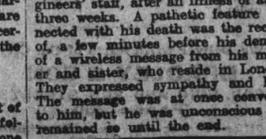

A book of particulars wraps each bottle giving the formula of both medicines and quoting what scores of eminent medical authors, whose works are consulted by physicians of all the schools of practice as guides in prescribing, say of each medicine, containing in these medicines.

The words of praise bestowed on the several ingredients entering into "Doctor Pierce's" medicines by such writers should have more weight than any amount of non-professional testimonials, because such men are writing for the guidance of their medical brethren and know whereof they speak.

Both medicines are non-alcoholic, non-secret, and contain no harmful habit-forming drugs, being composed of glyceric extracts of the roots of native, American medicinal forest plants. They are both sold by dealers in medicine. You can't afford to accept as a substitute for one of these medicines of known composition, any secret nostrum.

Marconi's Engineer Dead. Glace Bay, N.S., Oct. 23. - The death took place yesterday at the Marconi towers of Edward Hankey, of the engineers' staff, after an illness of about three weeks. A pathetic feature connected with his death was the receipt of a few minutes before his demise, of a wireless message from his mother and sister, who reside in London. The message was at once conveyed to him, but he was unconscious and remained so until the end.

FOR THE TABLE.

Old Fashioned Silver Tray Used as an Artistic Centerpiece. Silver bowls, salvers and other artistic specimens of silverware are being utilized this season, as in former years, for the decoration of the table, and the accompanying illustration shows how long stemmed blossoms may be utilized in conjunction with a silver tray for an effective centerpiece.

Sheffield variety and filled to the brim with water. The stalks of the flowers, in this instance yellow iris, are held in place with lead clips, but any other device for flower support would be equally serviceable. A border of similar conceals the supports. The glistening centers, together with the bright hued flowers mirrored in the water, is very effective, and a tray thus adorned constitutes a most artistic decoration.

DUTY TO THE NATION.

Future of the Country in the Hands of Its Women.

The following advice to mothers was taken from an article written recently by a clever woman who has the welfare of society deeply at heart: "Is it not time for mothers to take their stand at a point where they can survey their own relation to society at large and realize their duty to the nation? Will they not teach their children the value of character as an asset in life and show them that if 'having' is good 'being' is better? Let American mothers take their children to the mountain tops instead of through the valleys and demonstrate to them that they are but units in the sum total of the nation - units, however, upon the soundness and value of which the entire total depends and without which the sum is incomplete.

"It is not too much to say that the future of the country is largely in the hands of its women. As mothers they have the first chance at the molding of their sons' characters when at the most plastic stage, and they hold up to them their first standards of conduct. As friends and sweethearts they give the young man at his most impressionable age his first idea of the visible type most admired and desired as well as most likely to win in this great world which he dreams to conquer. Is this type to be the mere money maker, regardless of honesty; the mere politician, regardless of principle; the mere social leader, regardless of manliness; or the gentleman, 'sans peur et sans reproche,' whose sturdy nobility of character obliges him to consider the moral cost of worldly success and who feels rewarded for the sacrifice by the safety of his honor and the force of his personality?"

A Girl's Girl.

Whenever you hear a girl called a "girl's girl" try to know her, if you do not do so already. She is sure to be nice in the best sense of the word. In nine cases out of ten you will find her true and sympathetic, always ready to listen to confidences and, above all, ready to keep them as such. She is always doing a kind act for some one, and thought of herself comes nowhere in her calculations.

Such a girl is always popular with her friends, and you will hear golden opinions of her on all sides. There may be nothing specially about her to attract notice. It is just a natural individual charm in her nature that stamps her with this engaging characteristic. She is generally frank and honest in expressing an opinion, and her friends may be sure it is a genuine one. She is at once unaffected and simple and ready to show an interest in all her friends' undertakings.

If you cannot count among your friends a girl who earns this title, try to find one, and when you find her congratulate yourself upon your success.

A Moral Pin cushion.

There are few families in which there is not a moral pin cushion, and the people who are forced to live with them are the only ones capable of telling just how aggravating these self-made martyrs are, for the moral pin cushion is usually a person eaten up with self-consciousness. This type of woman gets wrinkles around her eyes, has her mouth drawn down at the corners and her forehead puckered with heavy lines, the result of deep study as to how each wicked speech could be meant for her.

To Clean Bronzes.

Sweet oil applied with a soft flannel is excellent for cleaning bronzes. Brush all the dust out first, then rub the object with the oil, using as little as possible. Polish first with a soft duster, then with a chamolus leather.

When Washing Clothes.

A tablespoonful of turpentine boiled with clothes will greatly help to whiten and disinfect them.
