I know that the world—the great big world—

From the peasant up to the king, Has a different stage to sing.

But for me, and I care not a single figs. If they say I am wrong or an right; I shall always go in for the weaker dog, For the under dog in the fight.

I know that the world—that it is great fig. Will never a more tatop. To see which dog any be in the fault, But will should for the dog on top. But for me—I never shall pause to ask, Which dog may be in the fault, For the under dog in the fight.
