PAUL VANE'S WIFE

As he stood staring at the beautiful wreck before him with dazed eyes a great wonder came over him.

Was it all a dream, his leaving Richmond last night to keep his vow of vengeance against Loraine (for he had meant to tell Paul Vane the terrible secret of Loraine's bad, black past); the detention at the Natural Bridge station of his train in the early dawn of Christmas Day; the journey to the bridge to pass the two hours of torturing suspense that must intervene ere the iron steed would tear on to Lisle, and his vengeance be complete?

Some time in his childhood he had "Good Poor No."

be complete?

Some time in his childhood he had heard at his mother's knee the words, "Vengeance is mine, I will repay, saith the Lord." Here, in this supreme moment, he felt its full significance, for Providence had intervened in his behalf by retaining up this powerful weapon, as if by raising up this powerful weapon, as if from the dead, with which to break y woman's spell from around a good Reverently and with something like Reverently and with something like awe he approached the trembling figure before him, and, taking the nervous little hand in his, spoke to her in tones of such thrilling tenderness that ever afterward Widow Morley would say, "It made me think of the Man of Sorrows. Ah, well, there!" the favorite ending of her speeches.

speeches.

"Mrs. Vane—Vivian, don't you know me?" he asked, eagerly. "Why are you here at this time, when your husband, Paul Vane, is to be married to your enemy, Loraine Lisle?"

"The lady is blind, sir—blind and weak minded," interposed Mrs. Morley, in a timid explanatory voice.

timid, explanatory voice.

Why did he not die in that supreme moment? Heaven and earth seemed to meet. Eugene Fairlie shivered from head to foot; a choking, gasping sob escaped him, and two big tears rolled gently down his cheeks. Pressing the little hand that he stil held gently and tenderly, he repeated, yearningly:

"Vivian! Vivian! Do you not rememremember me, Eugene Fairlie!"

The big, summer-violet eyes turned slowly and settled on his face with a vacant stare; a momentary smile flitted over those pallid lips, and then, ever so faint and low, came forth the whispered words:

"Vivian? Paul? Lower of the country of the start of the hour, but the sleigh can go no further, for at that moment he draws rein on the brink of the river, and the bridge words:

"Vivian? Paul? Lower of the country of the hour, but the sleigh can go no further, for at that moment he draws rein on the brink of the river, and the bridge words:

"Vivian? Paul? Lower of the country of the hour, but the sleigh can go no further."

A great wave of dames of the property of the hour, but the sleigh can go no further. The sound strikes a chill to his heart. It is this wild journey all for naught?

It is still wanting a few minutes of the hour, but the sleigh can go no further. The sound strikes a chill to his heart. It is this wild journey all for naught?

It is still wanting a few minutes of the hour, but the sleigh can go no further. The sound strikes a chill to his heart. It is this wild journey all for naught?

It is still wanting a few minutes of the hour, but the sleigh can go no further. The sound strikes a chill to his heart. It is this wild journey all for naught?

It is still wanting a few minutes of the hour, but the sleigh can go no further. The sound strikes a chill to his heart. It is this wild journey all for naught?

It is still wanting a few minutes of the hour, but the sleigh can go no further. The sound strikes a chill to his heart. It is this wild journey all for naught?

It is still wanting a few minutes of the hour, but the sleigh can go no further. The sound strikes a chill to his heart. It is this wild journey all for naught?

It is still wanting a few minutes of the hour, but the sleigh can go no further. The sound strikes a chill to his heart. It is this wild journey all for naught?

It is still wanting a few minutes of the hour, but the sleigh can go no further. T words: "Vivian? Paul? Loraine?"

A flickering light of season began to dawn in the pale, sweet face, and she moaned in terror:
"I know you, Eugene Fairlie! Save me, save my child! Oh, God! the eagle! I am falling!" She sunk in a swoon to the floor, the dazed brain recalling in the first moment of consciousness the words she had uttered on falling from the balloon that fatal day.

CHAPTER XXXIX.

CHAPTER XXXIX.

While Emma Morley and her mother were resuscitating the fainting girl, Dr. Miller drove up with his pony, Doc, in his handsome new sleight. Seeing the door wide open, he enteged without knocking, and started back in surprise at the scene before him; and while he gave his assistance to succor Vivian, Colonel Fairlie tersely explained the exigencies of the case, telling the astomished listeners the truth of Vivian's identity—that she was the missing wife of Paul Vane, the handsome ex-rector of Forest Church at Lisle, forty miles away, and supposed to have been drowned more than a year ago. When he added that her husband was to marry another woman at 1 o'clock to-day, Mr. Marley and the convention of the control of the ry another woman at 1 o'clock to-day, Mrs. Morley and the young physician were speechless from surprise and con-sternation; but Emma, romantic Emma,

"My! that sounds like a story I am "My! that sounds like a story I am reading in 'The Fireside Companion!"
"It may sound like a novel, but it is the cruel truth; and if it is possible to move Mrs. Vane, I must take her at once to Lisle to stop this mad marriage," Colonel Fairlie answered, gravely, looking anxiously at Dr. Miller for his animion.

Wivian had begun to revive, and the young physician said at once that the journey could do no harm to the pati-ent, but would be of great benefit to her in the peculiar condition of her

"that her condition was brought about by a great shock of some kind, and that something in the nature of a shock alone could restore her reason." Then he drew Eugene Fairlie aside and whispered to him of some suspicions he had

But it resisted a maining as firm as but and hold it.

"Oh, what shall I do?"
He sees an axe. With a cry of joy his ver it, and as the quick,

"Oh, what shall I do?"
He sees an axe. With a cry of joy his fingers close over it, and as the quick, sharp blows fall on the oaken panel it gives way. He rushes inside and grasps the key to send the telegraphic message to Lisle. There was no response to the pressure. The instrument did not answer to his touch. In the wild storm of yesterday the wires had all been thrown to earth and the connection bestroyed.

The half-crazed man drew out his watch. Eight-thirty. What was to be harp blows fall on the oaken panel it ives way. He rushes inside and grasps he key to send the telegraphic message o Lisle. There was no response to the ressure. The instrument did not anyer to his touch. In the wild storm of yesterday the wires had all been brown to earth and the connection between the anyer to his touch. In the wild storm of the half-crazed man drew out his ratch. Eight-thirty. What was to be lome!"

Only four and a half hours before the wedding, and forty miles stretched out to white, grim oathway between them and Lisle.

miles to Lisle.

On, on, on, dashed the light sleigh over the frozen snow! How the mileposts flashed past as the man urged the tired beast forward, ever forward.

"Good Doe! Brace Doe! You are doing your duty well!"

Colonel Fairlie looked at his watch; it was almost deswe colonel. Still many ing your duty well!"

Colonel Fairlie looked at his watch; it was almost eleven o'clock. Still many miles lay betwen them and Lisle.
On, on! But the faithful horse stumbles and almost falls, recovers, and dashes forward again, bathed in sweat, blood-streaked foam dripping from its mouth, his smoking nostrils dilated as the cold air dushes into them. Brave Doe! henceforth your name will be added to the list of brute heroes, excelling them all in dumb patience. Exhausted nature succumbs just as a farm house looms up in the near distance like a beacon of hope. As they reach the gate the panting animal falls—dead!

Fairlie sprung out and turned eyes of pity on the faithful dead brute; then, looking at a sign post by the road, he saw that it was fifteen miles still. Must he give up now? No!

Into the farm yard springs the excited man. He raps at the house door. There is no response. The family had all gone to Forest Church to the wedding. He runs to the barn, and to his joy finds a horse. Hurriedly he removes the harness from the dead animal and places it on the living one. A moment more and the fresh animal is between the shafts ness from the dead animal and places it on the living one. A moment more and the fresh animal is between the shafts and he is speeding on up hill and down dale. At last, at last, the tall spire of Forest Church looms up in the distant clear, blue air! Will he be in time?

What is that far away sound? Church bells! Wedding bells!

ther, for at that moment he draws rein the filitted floor is gone!

A great wave of despair rolls over Col. Fairlie's heart. The end which seemed so near is far away!

an to d she Save eagle!

In a moment he has jumped out and fastened the bridle to a tree, telling his dazed companion to remain where she is till he returns in a few moments," he said, cheerfully; and carefully drawing the warm buffalo robe closer around the dainty little figure, he turned away with a return of the old bridge, which was vesterday denueded of its wom-out flooring to be replaced with a new one.

Save agle!

"Do not fear, Mrs. Vane! I shall return in a few moments," he said, cheerfully; and carefully drawing the warm buffalo robe closer around the dainty little figure, he turned away with a return of the dependent of the old bridge, which was vesterday denueded of its wom-out flooring to be replaced with a new one.

moments fly.

It is passed. He has crossed. He is climbing the steep hillside to Lisle. Onward he dashes. He can feel his heart thump against his side. On, on! At last he is at the dor of the church. He enters, sees the bridal couple, hears the words of the solemn service ring through the church. He tries to speak, but exhausted nature gives way, and he falls senseless to the floor.

CHAPTER XL.

CHAPTER XL The bride of wealth and place,

Society crowns you quen; With your Brussels lace and your angel A fairer never has been.

-Mrs. Alex. McVeigh Miller.

People held their breath with some beautiful, haughty heiress, came up the aisle of Forest Church to meet her hand some, happy lover at the chancel rail, where he waited with the love-light in his grave, sweet eyes. Such diamonds a blazed on her throat and arms had neve something in the nature of a shock alone could restore her reason." Then he drew Eugene Fairlie aside and whispered to him of some suspicions he had had on first finding Vivian, and a groan of pity and grief commingled attested the listener's sorrow "lost!" he said, "adiy; and then it dawned on him that the journey to Lisle must be begun if he would reach there in time.

Vivian was sitting up now, only half realizing her own identity and his. She yielded quietly as a little child to be wrapped up in a warm fur circular, Charley's Christmas gift to his sweetheart, the hood drawn over her head, and a thick black veil placed over her face. But on going to the window, he found that the sleighing party, weary of waiting, had returned to the station. "Take mine," said Dr. Charley; and in another moment Fairlie and his precious charge were dashing over the two and a half miles that lay between them and the railway station on the Richmond & Alleghany Railroad, What was his consternation and despair to find that he had missed his train by twenty minutes.

"We ere lost!" he exclaimed. But, na—a brilliant thought: "I will telegraph Paul Vane!"

"We see lost!" he exclaimed But, na—a brilliant thought: "I will telegraph Paul Vane!"

He sprung out of the sleigh and ran to the little frame shanty used for a station house. He tried the door; it was locked. The station agent had locked on pand gone.

"If only I can get inside, I know enough of telegraph myself," he muttered, as he threw himself furiously against the oaken door.

But it resisted all his frantic efforts, remaining as firm as bolt and bar could hold it.

"Oh, what shall I do?"

He sees an axe. With a cry of joy his fingers close over it, and as the quick.

He sees an axe with a cry of joy his fingers close over it, and as the quick.

He sees an axe with a cry of joy his fingers close over it, and as the quick.

a waste.

Slowly, solemnly, the voice of the bishop broke the stillness, and a sad echo rang through the church. Will Fairlie not come in time?

Hasten, brave heart! hasten and stop this bad, bitter act!

to attend the marriage; so that the best men, Willie Benners, had to give the bride away, thinking sadly as he did so of the little grave behind the church and of the beautiful girl who rested there "safe in the arms of Jesus."

What was Paul Vane's surprise to find in the unconscious man outside, whom the sexton was vainly trying to restore to consciousness, his old friend Colonel Fairlie. He whispered to his bride that he should like to have him placed in one of the carriages and taken to Aready.

Loraine looked down at her foe with a steely glitter of hate in her eyes. Why had he come, she wondered, after his refusal. But she could not refuse this first reguest of her new-made husband, her heart's idol. As she consented, she thought darkly: "I will have him in my wer. He will not escape me this time (To be continued.)

MOORS BEATEN.

ANOTHER VICTORY FOR FRENCH IN MOROCCO.

Arabs Driven Off With Heavy Loss After Fight Which Lasted Two Hours-Eight Frenchmen Killed and Fifty Wounded.

Paris, Feb. 3.-Eight Frenchmen were tilled and fifty wounded in a desperate conflict which the French forces in Morocco have had with natives just south of Kasbah-her-Rachid. Word of this enof Kasbah-her-Rachid. Word of this engagement was received here to-night from General d'Amade, the commanding general in Morocco, who reports that a French column, commanded by Colonel Bouttegourd, was suddenly attacked by a vast herd of Arabs while marching to the south for the purpose of punishing the Chaouia tribeamen. The combat opened at midday yesterday. Thousands of Moors seemed to spring out of the hills and sought to surround the French column. A fierce fight followed, which lasted two hours, the enemy finally retiring, with heavy loss.

Meanwhile the French column was reinforced by two companies of infantry and a battery of artillery commanded by Lieutenant-Colonel Brollard, and after the Arabs had been driven off the combined forces returned to Kasbah-ber-Rechid.

Rechid.

The dead include Lieutenant Ricard, of the Third African Chasseurs, four privates of the Foreign Legion, two Chasseurs and one sharpshooter. Lieutenant-Colonel Fessard was among the wounded. It is believed that the tribesmen who opposed the French soldiers included the Mazambas as well as the PILES CURED IN 6 TO 14 DAYS. PAZO OINTMENT is guaranteed to cure any case of ltching, Blind, Bleeding or Protrud-ing Piles in 6 to 14 days or money refunded. SEED GRAIN FOR WEST.

Hon. W. S. Fielding Presents Supple

mentary Estimates. mentary Estimates.

Ottawa, Feb. 3.—Hon. Mr. Fielding presented to the House this afternoon supplementary estimates totalling $2.850,000, to be used by way of loan to settlers and homesteaders in Alberta and Saskätchewan, to enable them to purchase seed grain for this year's crops. Under the arrangement reached by the Federal Government with the Provuncial Governments of Alberta and Saskatchewan, the Dominion will set aside the sum of $585,000 to purchase seed grain for homestead settlers in the two Provinces; the sum of $440,000 will be advinces; the sum of $440,000 will be ad-vanced to the Government of Alberta to purchase seed grain for settlers in that Province, and the sum of $1, 825,000 will be advanced to the Govenment of Saskatchewan for similar pur In the case of seed grain furnished to

In the case of seed grain furnished to homesteaders, the cost of the grain is to be repaid, with interest at five per cent., and until repaid it will be a lien or charge upon the lands held under the homestead. In case of the settler whose lands have been patented, the Province will exact similar securities, and the Dominion Government will have a further security of a claim against each Province for the whole amount advanced. In each case the Dominion is amply secured.

An effort will be made to have the supplementaries put through supply at supplementaries put through supply at once, so that the money will be speed ily available, and the distribution of seed be completed by early spring.

TO PREVENT THE GRIP. LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE removes the cause. To get the genuine, call for full name and look for signature of E. W. GROVE. Sc.

TWO BOILERS EXPLODED.

condition.

Monaca, Pa., Feb. 3.—Three foreigners were killed and six others seriously injured to-day, when the boilers in the Welch brick plant here exploded. It is supposed frozen water pipes caused the accident. The damage is estimated at $7,000.

Abscesses and Ulcers Cured by "THE HOUSEHOLD SURGEON."
Druggists refund money if DR. PORTER ANTISEPTIC HEALING OIL fails. Sc.

Frozen to Death.

Kingston, Feb. 3.—Charles McKay, a single man who lived alone, was found frozen to death in his house at Collin's Bay on Sunday. McKay was noticed around as usual on Saturday night. He was 44 years of age. Coroner Ross who was notified, decided an inquest was un-

Vancouver, Feb. 3.—The Japanese arrivals from Mexico tried to escape the customs, attempting to land from the steamer Lonsdale at New Westminster last night. Three were recaptured and one drowned in the Fraser River.

Workers on the Ice Can find suitable clothing at prices that are amazing. Lined leather mita, 25c; heavy sweaters, rubber shoes and boots, reefers, extra heavy sox, fur lined caps, etc. We must sell. M. Kennedy, 240 James street north.

Removing Ink Spots From Wood.

Ink spots may be removed from hardwood by applying spirits of nitre. When the surface turns white, clean it with a cloth. No trace of the ink will be seen after a few applications.

AT R. McKAY & CO'S, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 5th, 1908

Second Day of

HOUSEKEEPERS'LINEN SALE Manufacturers' Seconds

perfections do not mar the wear or the beautiful appearance of the Linens. They are on sale Wednesday at one-third less than regular prices.

Housekeepers' Sale of Linens

Great sale of Mill Seconds, from one of the best makers. Cloths, Nap-kins, Table Damask, slightly imperfect, at one-third less than regular prices. Don't fail to share in the bargains.

Bleached Damask, 72-Inches | Slightly Imperfect | Regular $1.85 yard, for ... $1.35 Regular $1.80 yard, for ... $1.19 Regular $1.50 yard, for ... $1.10 Regular $1.25 yard, for ... 90e Cream Damask, 72-Inches All Linen .... 65c Regular 65c, for Regular 50c, for slightly imperfect. $8.50, for $0.00 lb. 150 dozen Pure Linen Napkins, % size, Pure Linen Napkins, % size, regular choice range of patterns; worth up $3.50, for $2.50 choice range of patterns; worth up 83.50, for $2.55 ozen, special $1.80 ozen Pure Linen Napkins, $6 size, regula or 15e each $3.00, for $2.00

A Grand Opportunity for Lovers of Fine Linen

Hand Polished Pearl Buttons 5c Dozen

50 gross of fine hand polished Pearl Buttons, in all the best sizes, in, regularly 10c, on sale Shell Hair Pins 3 Cards for 5c

Fine hand polished Shell Hair Pins, mounted in half dozen on fancy card, ularly 5c. on sale 3 cards for ... Fancy Steel Combs 25c

Culled Embroidery Handkerchiefs 10c

500 dozen of Swiss Handkerchiefs, manufacturers' culls, some slightly soil-and damaged, come in fine scolloped edge and neat hemstitched hems, worth to 30c, on sale . . . . . 10c each

65c Cream Silk Finish Mohair for 49c Just passed into stock, two pieces of 44-inch Cream Silk Finish Mohair, of the best washing materials to be had, so don't miss this chance to secure ength, at a good reduction for you. Our regular 65e quality, on sale to-more

Black and Cream Serge Regular Value 85c for 65c

44-inch Fine French All-wool Serge, in cream and black only, nice, fir will and a very firm weave, our regular 85c quality, on sale to-morrow for

Bargains in Housefurnishings Exceptional bargains for February are attracting the bughout the store, but our housefurnishing department list read carefully from day to day, as every article means a sub-# of prices which is easy to choose from. Regular prices 95c, single bed size, sale price ....... Regular price $1.00, ¾ bed size, sale price ........ R. McKAY & CO.

ST ELIZABETH HELD ANNUAL.

Mrs. W. R. Davis Again Elected as Regent.

Much Good Work Done During the Past Year

And Plans For the Future Are Being Worked Out.

Ten Men Killed at Pennsylvania as a Result.

Sunbury, Pa., Feb. 3.—Seven men were killed and a half dozen injured to-day by the explosion of a boiler in the rolling mill of Van Allen & Company at North-tumberland, near-here.

The dead are: David Clark, Samuel Sarviss, George Kress, Wm. Jones, Grant Leader, Willis Brouse, John Sholvin.

Four of the injured were brought to a hospital here. Two are in a serious condition.

Monaca, Pa., Feb. 3.—Three foreigners were killed and six others seriously in-discussion of the book bear and has spent money freely on its many charitable enterprises but ended with a balance in the bank of $141.31. The collections and expenditures were as follows:

Will have charge of two of the booths, the ice cream and novelty booth will be fully discussed at the first meeting in March. It was proposed by the Regent that the novelty booth will be fully discussed at the first meeting in March. It was proposed by the Regent that the novelty booth will be fully discussed at the first meeting in March. It was proposed by the Regent that the novelty booth will be fully discussed at the first meeting in March. It was proposed by the Regent that the novelty booth will be fully discussed at the first meeting in March. It was proposed by the Regent that the novelty booth will be fully discussed at the first meeting in March. It was proposed by the Regent that the novelty booth will be fully discussed at the first meeting in March. It was proposed by the Regent that the novelty booth will be fully discussed at the first meeting in March. It was proposed by the Regent that the first meeting in March. It was proposed by the Regent that the first meeting in March. It was proposed by the Regent that the first meeting in March. It was proposed by the Regent that the first meeting in March. It was proposed by the Regent that the first meeting in March. It was proposed by the Regent that the first meeting in the first meeting in March. It was proposed by the Regent that the first meeting in March. It was pro follows: Received from various sources $381 75 Cash on hand from '06 . . . . . $317 15

Balance on hand ... ... .$141 31

Secretary, Mrs. C. Gurney,
Treasurer, Mrs. R. O. MacKay,
Standard Bearer, Mrs. Slater,
"Echo" Secretary, Mrs. Earnest Lazer,

"Echo" Secretary, Mrs. Earnest Lazier.

The councillors were all re-elected, with the exception of Mrs. R. Y. Parry, who has transferred to Paarderburg Chapter, and Mrs. G. W. Robinson was elected in her place. The councillors are as follows: Mrs. E VanAllen, Mrs. Walter Briggs, Mrs. Jas. McPherson, Mrs. Jas. Dickson, Mrs. J. J. Evel, Mra. G. W. Robinson, Mrs. E. Lazier, Mrs. H. Mullen, Mrs. S. D. Biggar and Miss Wickins.

The Secretary's report was read by Mrs. Gurney and contained much that was worthy of praise. There have been ten regular meetings during the year and six special once all of which were largely and enthusiastically attended. Forty-eight new members have been

Only One "BROMO QUININE," that is Laxative Bromo Quinine & The Livered College College One Day, Grip in 2 Days

ded at yesterday's meeting. During the year $266.99 has been expended for the year $266.99 has been expended for the sanitarium and smaller sums have been sent to the Grafton Infirmary, to the Canadian Woman's Hospital in India and to the local hospital. All obligations have been met and a satisfactory balance is still on hand. With regret the death of Mrs. W. J. Waters, an esteemed member of the chapter, was noted. Thanks were tendered to A. M. Cunningham for the use of his studio for the past year for meetings and for the offer for similar privileges this year which was accepted. Mention was made of the "Feast of Blossoms," which will open in the Conservatory of Music the day after Easter Monday, St. Elizabeth Chapter will have charge of two of the booths, the ice cream and novelty booth and the

After the meeting refreshments were served. The membership fees received and God speed was wished Mrs. Gurney, who left to-day for a trip to the Med-iterranean. Her sister, Miss Stevenson, was accepted as the Secretary pro tem.

WINNIPEG FOR CHEAP POWER.

ject to Dismissal of C. B. Smith. Winnipeg, Feb. 3.—One of the stormi-est meetings of the Winnipeg City Council was held to-night, when the question of the dismissal of Cecil B. Smith, power engineer, came before the meeting. Eventually the police had to be called to keep the crowd back and in quietness. The recommendation was referred back to the controllers by a be called to keep the crowd back and in quietness. The recommendation was referred back to the controllers by a vote of 9 to 7, the majority being stampeded apparently by the impression that the discharge of Mr. Smith meant the destruction of the power scheme.

The supporters of Mr. Smith, headed by ex-Mayor Sharpe, asked the Council for three days in which to present a petition, claiming 10,000 signatures against his dismissal.

GTE A MEHTPS

CPR STEAMSHIPS

all steamers. Steerage Liverpool to St. John via "Empresses" $22.50, other steam-ers $20. "Lake Erle" and "Lake Champlain" carry one class second and steerage only. For full particulars apply to steamship

DOMINION LINE ROYAL MAIL STEAMSHIPS

FROM PORTLAND.

For all information apply to local agent or DOMINION LINE, 17 St. Sacrament street, Montreal.

SAME.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for New Entrance to Toronto Harbor, Ont.," will be received at this office until Monday, March 2, 1968, inclusively, for the construction of a New Western Entrance to the Harbor on the Construction of the Construction of

Department of Public Works,
Ottawa, January 31, 1908.
Newspapers will not be paid for this advertisement if they insert it without authority from the Department.

List of Agencies where the

HAMILTON TIMES may be had:

G. J. M'ARTHUR, Stationer, Rebecca St., 4 doors from James, F. W. SCHWARTZ, Royal Hotel News Stand. THOS. FRENCH, Stationer, 90 James Street North.

G. B. MIDGLEY, Printer, 282 James Street North.

A. F. HURST, Tobacconist, 294 James Street North A. A. THEOBALD, Tobacconist, 358 James Street North.

IAS. M'KENZIE, Newsdealer, D. MONROE, Grocer,

R. B. GARDINER, Waldorf Hotel.

JOHN HILL, Tobacconist, 171 King Street East, W. R. FLEMING. Barber and Tobacconist, 243 King Street East.

H. P. TEETER, Druggist, King and Ashley.

T. J. M'BRIDE, J. WOODS, Barber, 401 Barton East.

H. HOWE, 587 Barton East. A. W. SWAZIE, 647 Barton Street East.

J. A. ZIMMERMAN, Drugglat, Barton and Wentworth, also Vic-toria Avenue and Cannon. H. E. HAWKINS, Druggist, East Avenue and Barton

A. GREIG, Newsdealer, 10 Yerk Street.

JAMES MITCHELL, Confectioner, A NORMAN, 103 York Street.

MRS. SHOTTER, Confectioner,

NEW TROY LAUNDRY, 357 York Street. 8. WOTTON, 376 York Street.

T. S. M'DONNELL, 374 King Street West. M. WALSH, 244 King Street West.

D. T. DOW, 172 King Street West. JOHN MORRISON, Druggist, 112 Main Street West. A. F. HOUSER, Confectioner, 114 James Street South. BURWELL GRIFFIN, Queen and Charlton Ave.

MRS. SECORD, Locke and Canada

CANADA RAILWAY NEWS CO., G. T. R. Station. H. BLACKBURN, News Agent, T., H. & B. Station.

It will pay you to use the Want Column of the Times. BUSINESS TELS

RAILWAYS

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY

$1.15 To Toronto and Return

Account of Ontario Horse Breeders'

Exhibition Tickets good going Feb. 11th, 12th, 13th and 14th. Valid returning until Feb. 15th, Secure tickets from Chas. E. Morgan, city gent, W. G. Webster, depot agent. Ocean steamship tickets on sale.

CANADIAN PACIFIC

YOUR WINTER TRIP Special winter tourists rates now in effect. Through tickets, with-aut any troublesome exchanges, etc., on sale to California, Florida, Mexico, Cuba

IlliOrula, Fivitue, including anywhere away below the snow line, far from fogs and thaws and other wintry discomforts.

Liberal stop-over privileges.
Wide choice of routes.
Return limit May 31st, 1908. Full information at Hamilton offices:
W. J. Grant, corner James and King St.,
A. Oralg, C.P.B. Eunter Bt. Station,
or write C. B. Fostor. D.P.A., C.P.B., Tores

RAILWAY

ROYAL MAIL TRAINS FROM MONTREAL TO HALIFAX

ROYAL MAIL STEAMERS FROM HALIFAX TO LIVERPOOL

Canada's Famous Train THE MARITIME EXPRESS

Leaving MONTREAL Fridays at 12 (noon), carries passengers, baggage and European mails, reaching the steamer's dock at HALIFAX the folowing Saturday afternoon.

SPECIAL TRAINS carrying passeng-ers, bagage and mails when inward steamers do not connect with the MARITIME EXPRESS, leave HALLI-FAX immediately after the arrival of the steamer, making connections for Ottawa, Toronto, Detroit and points west. FOR TICKETS AND FURTHER IN-FORMATION application nearest GRAND TRUNK BAILWAY AGENT, or to TORONTO TICKET OFFICE, 51 King street east.

T., H. & B. Railway

NEW YORK $9.40

Via New York Central Railway.

(Except Empire State Express).

The ONLY RAILROAD landing PASSENGERS in the ALLROAD landing PASSENStreet Station). New and elegant buffet ilecoling car accommodation.

A. Craig, T. Agt. F. F. Backus, G. P. A.

"Phose 1000.

INSURANCE

WESTERN ASSURANCE Co. FIRE AND MARINE

MARRIAGE LICENSES Phone 2551 W. O. TIDSWELL, Agent 75 James Street South F. W. CATES & BRO.

Royal Insurance Co. OFFICE-39 JAMES STREET SOUTH.
Telephone 1,448.

We Do Galvanizing and Tinning PROMPT AND GOOD WORK.

THE CANADA METAL Co.

Limited 31 William Street, Toronto.

COAL

L. L. & W. R. R. Co.'s. Scran-ton. Prompt delivery. The Magee-Walton Co., Limited

