"Gone down to fetch some yeast from Morehead."

"She's ever gadding, and you're allus o' th' fashion o' abetting on her."

His wife silently turned away to her stirring of the wash-tub, by means of a sort of churn called a "doily" -adevice by which the ——shire mountaincers had anticipated the idea of the American machine.

The old man's complaints went on almost as astisfactorily to himself, shouted through the open door.

"Lyddy! and where's German ? Hes off somewhere too, I'll be bound."

"Why, he took the milking-stool and the pail not ten mint back; ye mun hamet him as ye came in," answered the patient wife. And old German had seen him, and did know perfectly where he was although he indulged himself in complaints as some people do in spirits, though he by no means denied himself either in this mafter.
