Ramsay MacDonald Heads Opposition.

Socialist Defeats Clynes For Leadership -- President Poincare Expresses Satisfaction -- Clemenceau Throws a Scare Into United States.

RAMSAY MACDONALD ELECTED LABOR LEADER.

LONDON, Nov. 21. Ramsay MacDonald, member of Parliament for Aberavon, Division of Glamorganshire, and long prominent as a labor leader, was today elected leader of the Parliamentary Party, John R. Clynes, former chairman of the Parliamentary Party, being elected to the leadership was generally anticipated, and was elected party leader in the House of Commons, who failed of election in the recent balloting, was made chief whip, with Ben Spoon acting as deputy whip.

WAS A SURPRISE.

LONDON, Nov. 21. It is a strange turn of the political wheel which within four years has placed James Ramsay MacDonald, a pronounced pacifist and opponent of the war, in the position of leader of His Majesty's Opposition in the British Parliament, and in a prospective Prime Minister of England in the event of the Conservative Administration suffering defeat during the coming five years. MacDonald's election was a surprise, the reelection of John Robert Clynes having been expected. The vote was exceedingly close, 61 for MacDonald, 56 for Clynes, and it is understood the Scottish Labour members were the swing. The Scottish members are for forcing the pace on unemployment and other questions on which it was supposed Clynes would be counselled going more slowly. There is little doubt that the Labor Party as a whole favored MacDonald over his superior Parliamentary opponent, and his superior knowledge of foreign affairs, but there was a strong element of protesting Clynes, at present for the first session of Parliament out of gratitude for his services to the party during recent years. MacDonald had a stormy career. He was elected by a large majority at Leith in the 1918 election, owing to a party quarrel and he was again elected in the Woolwich constituency by-election in 1921. He was elected by a large majority last week. Clynes in an interview, was depreciating the action of the party members, professed hearty approval of party quarrels and declared his intention to loyally co-operate with MacDonald for the advantage of the whole party. MacDonald is a man of much education and a writer of reputation on political and economic subjects. As a debater he has a facility for caustic and telling utterances, with what might be called a pugnacious disposition in political affairs and a readiness in repartee. He has been a Socialist of rather extreme type, but not of Communist tendencies.

POINCARÉ WELL SATISFIED.

LAUSANNE, Nov. 21. Premier Poincaré left Lausanne for Paris tonight. It is understood that Poincaré is well satisfied on the whole with the prospects of the Conference. French circles have the greatest hope for success on the skill and tact of Lord Curzon who has already done much to facilitate proceedings. Curzon had a talk with Ismet Pasha which appears to have allayed many of the misgivings in the minds of the Turks and greatly relieved the strain on Turco-British relations.

CHINESE BANDITS ON RAMPAGE.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 21. The bandit army of Honan Province thirty thousand strong, which had kidnapped a number of foreign missionaries recently, is laying waste a path of six miles wide across the Province, burning every city, town and farm in the line of march, according to a letter received here from H. E. Ledgard, English Missionary, who escaped.

22 MINISTERS FOUND GUILTY.

SOFIA, Nov. 21. Twenty-two former ministers were apparently voted guilty by about 75 per cent of the voters at the National Referendum on Sunday to determine whether they were responsible for embroiling Bulgaria in war without sufficient diplomatic preparation.

ASHORE IN THE ST. LAWRENCE.

QUEBEC, Nov. 21. The Cairn Line steamer, Cairn Dhu, from Montreal with heavy cargo, is ashore at Cape Rouge, about Quebec Bridge this evening, and reported leaking.

STORM BEATEN.

SEATTLE, Nov. 21. Storm beaten in the Pacific, five hundred miles off Cape Flattery, the steamers Besse, Dollar, Stuart Dollar and the tug Sea Monarch, sent out distress calls. The coast guard cutter Naide was ordered to their assistance.

IF FRANCE HAD KNOWN!

NEW YORK, Nov. 21. Militarists in Germany already are preparing for another war. Georges Clemenceau, War Premier of France, declared tonight. In the first address of his American tour, he was frank in his criticism of the United States' post-war attitude, declaring that America had a large share in imposing peace terms and had a duty to see them enforced. He declared that if France had known in 1918 that the reparations would remain unpaid for four years later, she would have gone on to Berlin.

Miss Major in an Irish Jig

AT THE STAR MOVIE TO-DAY.

The biggest hit of any attractions that the popular Star has placed before its patrons, is offered for to-night. As will be seen from the advertisement on another page, the first item on the programme is the opening chapter of a VITAGRAPH SUPER-SPECIAL serial, entitled "BREAKING THROUGH," featuring talented and beautiful Carmel Myers, and the popular well-known Wallace MacDonald. The serial is entirely different from other serials, and one that is going to please any movie critic. The next item is Charles Ray in a Paramount Special entitled "THE VILLAGE SLEUTH," and produced in seven parts. But what is going to prove the big hit of all will be the dancing of MISS MAJOR. It is unnecessary to make any further reference to this talented lady's ability, but in an IRISH JIG which she dances to-night, she will probably make the biggest hit of her engagement. For Friday night there will be shown a WILLIAM S. HART special production entitled "OMALLEY OF THE MOUNTAIN," that it goes without saying the Star has certainly swung into their stride.

The Price of Fish and Other Matters.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir—Will you allow me through the hospitality of your widely read and reliable journal to say that our intelligent fishermen and men in other walks of life in Twillingate are heartily disgusted with the absurd buncombe published in the sheet known locally here as the Advocate (Advocate), and which is supposed to be edited by the Hon. A. Mews. I wonder is he as ignorant as he seems of prices of fish, and other conditions in this country, or is the poor man so lost to all honor that he fathers for his employee anything he is ordered to print.

Does the Editor of the Advocate not know that all our merchants in this place (Twillingate) paid seven dollars ($7.00) per quintal for Shore fish from beginning of this season up to the end of September or later. If he does not this is to inform him of that fact, and that his preaching in the Advocate of the great Cocker leading the price in giving $8.50 and $6.75 is all pure humbug, as it is 30 to 50 cents less than should have been paid. Our merchants here and at Herring Neck: paid Seven Dollars, and seem perfectly satisfied with the profit they made after paying $2.24, insurance and charges to St. John's for shipment abroad.

If Mr. Mews didn't know that why did he not ask our all knowledgeable and peppery little member—W. B. Jennings, or why didn't that pugnacious little man uphold the honor of the metropolis of his District and publicly correct the Advocate's statements, or wrong statements. Perhaps the poor innocent didn't know that I don't suppose he did, or didn't care; or what is more likely dare not refute anything the Advocate published. Did he not inform several of our fishermen when he was here in March, 1921 that he did not know or believe that the Government did guarantee or buy any Labrador fish in St. John's in November month previous. He must have been asleep then, or it was convenient for him not to know. That is how our district has been and is being looked after, and when the Bonavista Bay man wakes him up and tells of some of the conditions on Badger Road endured by his constituents—oh! my what a rage he flies into like a giant awakened. It would have been dangerous for anybody to go near his office then. He covertly insinuates that he would be alone, with nobody to witness if there should be a tragedy as like dangerous folk generally do, he said he would not be armed. Sleep on friend Jennings, it is too late now to awake. Your day is done politically in this district. More anon.

Yours truly,
SHOAL TICKLE.

Rotary Luncheon.

ADDRESS ON BUSINESS ETHICS. The weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club, held at the Green Lantern yesterday, was presided over by Rotarian James J. McKay. The guests included Messrs. R. H. Anderson, D. P. Duff, J. A. Winter, A. E. Holmes, and J. Baggis. The report of the Boy's Survey showed that 3900 cards had been filled in. It is expected that the work of covering the city will be completed by the end of the week. A short address on Cancer, its prevention and cure, was given by Dr. T. M. Mitchell. Major Leonard Outerbridge, D.S.O., was the speaker of the day. His subject was "Business Ethics." In his opening remarks he defined ethics as morality and the four fundamentals of business morality as patriotism, faith, industry and honesty. It is essential, said the speaker, that the captain of industry or business magnate must be patriotic, and that he must realize that the wealth and power that he possesses should be used by him for the advancement of his country. He is a public trustee and he is no asset to his country if he uses his wealth merely for his own selfish objects. He instanced the action of the Germans in East Africa, who had discovered a cure for sleeping sickness and were keeping it a secret in order that they may use it as a bribe to recover their lost colonies. That was not the British way for a Mayor Becher had stated at the previous meeting, one of the aims of the British Empire Exhibition was the establishment of an Institute for Research whereby all may obtain information and instruction as to the cure of diseases. So with the business man, he must use his resources—wisely and for the benefit of his country. Honesty in business is essential. The sanctity of contracts and agreements must be respected; the prospectuses of companies must set forth with truth the facts upon which capital is sought to be obtained; statements to obtain credit should set forth matters faithfully and truthfully and standard of goods must be what they are claimed to be. Patience is another essential because without it business cannot be developed. It follows as a matter of course the without industry no man can succeed in business. In business as in social life the teachings of the Christian Religion must be applied. They will do more to bring about stability in business than force or legal penalties. In closing, the speaker said that fundamentals could be easily remembered for the initial letters of Faith, Industry, Service (which is Patriotism) and Honesty made up the name of our country's main industry—fish.

Major Outerbridge's address was brightened by many witty observations and humorous stories and was much appreciated. At its conclusion a vote of thanks, proposed by chairman McKay, was carried with enthusiasm.

C.C.C. Officers Dance.

BRILLIANT FUNCTION HUGELY ENJOYED.

The C.C.C. officers dance held last night in the Cadet Hall was largely attended, despite the inclement weather. The ballroom was specially decorated for the occasion and presented a very pleasing appearance. The dance programme consisted of fourteen numbers, the music being furnished by the full brass band of the corps under the direction of Capt. Arthur Bulley. An enjoyable supper was served during the interval by a number of lady friends. The affair concluded at an early hour this morning.

I want all my Customers to buy and try a can of DE-LECTA COCOA

DE-LECTA—which is made by a reputable firm in London, is really good value for 15 cents. Delecta is economical, has a nice flavor and is pure

If for any reason you find it unsuitable, you may return it and get your money back. Fifteen cents is a good price for good cocoa. You cannot lose anything by trying Delecta, because you need not keep it unless you like it. Isn't this a fair offer?

DELECTA IS FOOD AND DRINK. Better than tea for young and old people.

Wisteria Leaves.

WARSHIP SAILS FOR HALIFAX. H.M.S. Wisteria, which arrived here unexpectedly shortly after the start of the United Fishermen Movement, sailed yesterday for Halifax, presumably en route for Bermuda. It is understood that the ship took a quantity of ammunition that had been stored at the Powder House, Signal Hill. That the Wisteria was ordered here by the Government may be hard to verify, but it is significant that the ship sailed as soon as the fishermen's demands were complied with.

ANITA STEWART AT THE NICKEL THEATRE.

Anita Stewart in "In Old Kentucky"

The above is only one of the sensational scenes contained in Anita Stewart's great picture, "In Old Kentucky" which is the extraordinary feature attraction at the Nickel to-night. The picture is exciting and interesting from start to finish and there is not one lulling moment throughout the entire story. In the supporting cast is the popular Mahlon Hamilton. This is honestly a particularly good photoplay and we would therefore advise patrons to attend early.

"I Had Bilious Attacks and Stomach Weakness"

Mrs. Wm. Robinson, York, Pa., writes: "I suffered from stomach and liver trouble, and used to have bilious attacks so bad that I could do nothing for weeks at a time. My stomach would be so weak that not even a drink of water would stay on it. On my sister's advice, I began to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and must say that they have made me feel like a new woman."
