fact by the year 1900, Dr. Grant replied as follows:

PRINCIPAL GRANT: You ask me why may not an organic union of Protestantism in Canada take place by the year 1900, and I answer by saying that I would prefer not to fix a date. Some aanguine people might ask, why may such a union not take place at once? Others might wish to postpone it for a century, and others are satisfied with the present condition of things in which they see the spirit of union gaining victories notwithstanding, it may be partly because of, outward disunion.

If you refer to the difficulties in the way, it is evident that these are different, not only in different countries, but as regards different denominations. They cannot be ignored, and it seems to me, therefore, that it would be best to divide them; that is, that the union cause should be satisfied with taking one step at a time, and that it should move along the line of least resistance. According to this view, the duty that lies mearest us is to unit the Methodist and Presbyterian churches. In these the spirit of union is strongest, because both have already tried the experiment and found it a success, and their differences are of least consequence. In polity, in ritual, and in discipline they are substantially at one, and as regards doctrine both are evangelical, and that is the heart of the matter. Each church has special excellencies, and these would be combit of in the united church. The union of these two denominations would at once greated all over the land that we should very soon see fresh triumphs. It would be hased on the spirit of Christ and not with a view to the aggrandizement of a sect. It would be accomplished not in an attitude of hostility to any other church, but in the

The Queen Troubled About the Guards.

Loxdox, July 25.—Advices from Osborne state that her Majesty is completely prostrated by the trouble with the Guards. She has always regarded the Grenadiers as the elite of her household troops, and their mutiny came upon her as a shock. For the past wee's he has been in daily and hourly telegray in communication with the War Office, i id has insisted upon being kept informed spon every phase of the movement. Before leaving Windsor for Osborne she summoned the Duke of Cambridge, Lord Wolseley and six other leading generals in extraordinary council to explain the deplorable incidents. The Queen insisted upon their suggesting remedies which she will see carried out, and has expressed her determination to probe the grievance of the men to the bottom. It is stated that Colonel Maitland has been summoned to Osborne bill in lieu of a carried out, and has expressed her determination to probe the grievance of the men to the bottom. Bloody Work in Montenegre.

London, July 25.—A band of Arnauts recently made a night attack upon the Montenegrin village Rogmore, surprising the inhabitants, many of whom were murdered. The Arnauts plundered the village and then left. Afterwards the band was attacked by Turkish troops and in the fight which ensued 60 Arnauts were killed and many others wounded.

London, July 25.—The Heligoland Cession Bill passed the second reading in the House of Commons to-night by the vote of 209 to 61.

The Liberal leaders abstained from the division on the Heligoland Bill. A number of Radicals aiso refrained from voting. Lord Hartington, Mr. Chamberlain, Sir Henry James and Mr. Bradlaugh voted with the majority.

Balfour's Ambition.

London, July 25.—The prominent part taken by Mr. Balfour in the debate on the Heligoland question is taken by many as an indication of the correctness of those predictions which have assigned the successoriship of Mr. Smith as Government leader in the House to the present Chief Secretary for Ireland. Mr. Balfour has seldom here tofore been put forward as a spokesman for the Government on questions outside his own province, and this fact made his utterances all the more conspicuous.

SALISBURY AT A DISADVANTAGE.

LONDON, July 25.—The Chronicle says:

"Mr. Blaine proves himself an abler man in controversy than Lord Salisbury, although having a worse case to defend. The representatives of England seem mere babies in the hands of Mr. Blaine. It is obvious that Lord Salisbury at an early period of the discussion became sensible of his inferiority in dialectic skill to his opponent, lost his temper and deliberstely insulted Mr. Blaine by declaring he conducted the negotiations in the interests of a party and not of one country. Lord Salisbury has never been guilty of a more reprehensible breach of diplomatic courtesy. Happily Mr. Blaine, untouched by the taunt, was contented to drive Lord Salisbury into a corner."
