Preaches to Large Congregation Strong Arraignment of Those at Talbot Street Baptist Church Sunday.

Search After God One of the To Men Who Lead Evil Life Toll Basic Elements of the Human Soul

Every available seat was occupied, nd even standing room was at a premium, when Rev. H. H. Bingham. pastor of Talbot Street Baptist Church, preached his first evening sermon since his return from a five-months' vacation, on Sunday night. In a few wellchosen words, he expressed his appre ciation of the loyalty and affection manifested towards him by his congregation, and expressed the belief that he would spend with them a very successful winter. His sermon was entitled "Thirsting For God," and his text was selected from Psalms, xlii., 1-2, "As the hart panteth after the water brooks, so panteth my soul after and dies—he becomes a suicide," said Mr 1000 thee, O God. My soul thirsteth for God, Norwood. "And whenever you encounter for the living God."

The Wounded Heart.
"This cry," said Rev. Mr. Bingham, was the sob of a wounded heart. The writer was an exile, separated from his 1000 people and from the temple he loved. 1000 And yet it was not merely the cry of the Levite for the temple of the Lord, for in it I hear the cry of the universe, of the people of the world, crying and longing after God. This is the deepest cry of the human heart. 0 1000 | Many seek in vain to satisfy this cry in the wrong direction. They travel far and wide, but beautiful scenery, Niagara, the Alps, the Rockies, while they subdue to reverence and seem 1000 sublime, yet the world's wonders never satisfy the inner longing of the soul after God. Some men seek to satisfy this soul longing in politics and commerce. These may be stimulating, but they are never fully satisfying.

Modern Gods. "You can't prove the existence of God by argument. The intuitive longing in human nature after God, is the greatest proof of God's existence. God 976: New never gives to any creature a longing or desire that can never be satisfied. You may seek to crush this thirst after God, but down in the human heart, touched by a loving hand, chords that were broken will vibrate once more. The Vedic scriptures say nothing better than this, 'Let us meditate on the adorable light. It will guide our intellect.' but the Bible says, 'Fear not am with thee.' Yet India still has her millions of gods, and tonight half he world worships innumerable gods OUT FRANK KLAUS Even in this country men make gods for themselves, ambition, fashion, fame, and the like, but they do not sat Middleweight Champion Was Put Out isfy. TWO O. H. A. TEAMS Christian Travellers Deliver Addresses and Give a Program.

> The usual attendance at the York Street Mission Sunday evening, and a splendid program given by the Gideons of the city, took the place of the regular service. The Gideons are not only "hustlers" in their varied lines of commercial activity, but are preachers as well. Every speech made contained all the elements of a sermon, are fluency, eloquence and faith. They showed themselves not only to be men of action in a commercial way, but men of strong faith as well. ness for the firm represented, and business for the King Emmanuel, the thought that inspires each Gideon in his travels. His field of activity not only embraces the hotel and its environment, in which he lives, moves, and has his being, both physically and spiritually, but among the churches as well his influence is felt. Wherever humanity can be touched for good, there the membership of this association has a mission. wherever a Gideon goes, he not only invites men to inspect his wares as a commercial salesman, but he seeks through personal contact to scatter the sweet aroma of a Christlike influ-

His first mission as an evangelist is to his fellow-workers, and through the bond of Christian fellowship thus formed to extend a helping hand to the businessmen of the country. And the speakers affirmed that in this age, when material considerations seemed to hold sway in the public mind, there is to be found among the mer. chants a very needy class. Seeking to gain the wealth of the world, while their soul languishes in an environment of poverty. There is an organization seeking to do colportage work: it seeks to educate the public mind along correct lines of Bible study; to uproot heresies, and to plant the seeds of fundamental truth. Every teaching or doctrine at variance with the orthodox conception of the Christian faith, finds in this association an antagonist. There was much of commendation in those addresses as to the Gideon band as being an organization of modern adaptability; bearing gifts of priceless worth into many needy fields. And i cannot be too strongly emphasized that the Gideons in their methods and varied lines of work are performing in a practical and a very common sense way, too, a most worthy mission. The program was interspersed with excellent singing. Miss Elsie Bacon, of the choir, entertained the audience with

FIFTY YEARS WEDDED

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Hardy, of Birr, celebrated their golden Monday, Oct. 6, at the residence of their son, Mr. John R. Hardy, Proof Line, Lendon Township, About twenty relatives and friends, from London, Brinsley Centralia, and Denfield gathered in honor of the occasion. Their pastor, Rev H. J. Creasey, and Mrs. Creasey, of Ilderton, were among the guests. After partaking of a sumptuous repast, numerous toasts were given. The Rev. H. . Creasey performed the duties of toastmaster in a very able manner. Mr. and Mrs. Hardy were made the recipients of a purse of gold by the relatives and friends, and also a very handsome present by Mr. Andrew Hardy, of London, Mr. Hardy's brother, after which Mr. Hardy replied very feelingly in wellchosen words. A very enjoyable afternoon was spent, everybody wishing that the happy couple might be spared to enjoy the celebration of their diamond wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Hardy were married at St. Marys, Ont., in 1863, by the Rev. Mr. Learovd.
