

THE J. E. FAIRBANKS CO. LTD. DIAMONDS FIFTEENTH YEAR MANY MAIL BAGS RIPT.

THIEVES GO THROUGH A GRAND TRUNK STATION.

Secured $700 from the Registered Letters and Stripped the Contents of the Boxes and Threw them into the Street.

Kingston, Oct. 31.—Thieves broke into the mail house at the Grand Trunk station last night, and secured several registered bags, containing $700.

The police arrested three men and Patrick Clark, George Brown, Walter Cooper and John McDermott. The last is a brakeman on the suburban train.

The burglar or burglars took plenty of time in laying his plans. The first move was to cut out a pane of glass in the window of the baggage room.

A sensational escape. It was at this point that the first alarm was raised, for as he had one leg out of the window Thomas Swainman, a train dispatcher, passed through the yard and saw him.

It would seem that for some reason nobody suspected the robbery when George, the baggage man, entered the mail room at train time.

The registered mail was unusually heavy last night. It is said one leading street man from here had a remittance of $1500 in it.

Were Robbed Before. A year ago last May the postoffice building was broken into at the lower S. E. station before they were placed on the train.

The protest against the return of J. I. Platt in South Westworth will be presented and the respondent will be ordered to pay the costs of the proceedings.

A Last Tribute of Respect. Montreal, Oct. 31.—A vast concourse of people gathered for the funeral of a man who died last night.

Resolutions of Condolence. Quebec, Oct. 31.—The Liberal members of the Local Parliament for the district have passed resolutions of condolence on the death of Hon. Mr. Mercier.

THE BOARD OF ARBITRATION. Names of the Newly-Elected Council—What Their Duties Will Be.

Political War in Newfoundland. St. John's, N.F., Oct. 31.—The nomination of candidates for the seats in the Assembly, vacated by the passing of the former representatives, took place today.

A Russian Woman's Story. A brilliant novel by Robt. Appleton, Author of 'The Boy in the Blue Uniform'.

There is Nothing Like Pure Water to Keep in Good Health. We are great believers in pure water.

For men, a Beware of worthless imitations. Charged With Treason. Paris, Oct. 31.—Captain Dreyfus, an officer in the French army, has been arrested for treason.

ASSESS WEALTH AT ITS REAL VALUE. The Patrons Join With the Ratepayers' Association in Petitioning the Legislature to Change the Assessment Act.

IT WAS STUDENTS' NIGHT.

The Boys Celebrate Halloween in Glorious Style. They Gathered in the Opera House and Provided an Excellent Entertainment—Thousands in the Procession Which Marched Through the Principal Streets—Lots of Fun and Little Mischief.

Oh! we're the boys of Varsity. We're out to-night upon a spree. We're our best, our suits hanging To fill the "gods" with melody.

Last night was Halloween, and the 3000 students of Toronto allayed their feelings in the good old way.

The annual appearance at the Grand Opera House was an immense success. The house bore a carnival appearance.

The chief amusement along Yonge-street was the stopping of street cars by snatching the string attached to the pole out of the hands of the conductor.

Proceeding as far east as (Mount's College) the boys secured an establishment. From the grounds of the college some people delivered a speech.

There were fully 1600 students in the house and for the first time in the history of Halloween their friends were there.

The boys came early. The Varsity boys were the first to appear. They were dressed in their best.

John Crowther, one of the burglars arrested last week for breaking into the grocery store of Barnes & Parry, had the honor of being the first to appear.

William Marshall, 46, Armstrong-avenue, who was arrested for the murder of a woman, was also present.

The Varsity Glee Club practically took charge of the proceedings. It had an elaborate program arranged, which was carried out to a nicety.

It seemed as if there was less excitement from the gallery than from the stage. Student wit has often more of the bludgeon quality than justifies the phrase.

After the great scene of the second act, the whole company was called out. The ladies all got bouquets of flowers.

After the great scene of the second act, the whole company was called out. The ladies all got bouquets of flowers.

After the great scene of the second act, the whole company was called out. The ladies all got bouquets of flowers.

After the great scene of the second act, the whole company was called out. The ladies all got bouquets of flowers.

After the great scene of the second act, the whole company was called out. The ladies all got bouquets of flowers.

After the great scene of the second act, the whole company was called out. The ladies all got bouquets of flowers.

After the great scene of the second act, the whole company was called out. The ladies all got bouquets of flowers.

THE MORNING AFTER HALLOWE'EN.

WAITING DEATH'S SUMMONS.

NEWS OF THE CEASES DENISE HOUR BY EXPECTED. The Prince and Princess of Wales have left for Canada by special train.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 31.—The Prince and Princess of Wales started for Livadia by special train at 8.45 this morning.

Copenhagen, Oct. 31.—The Crown Prince started for Livadia this evening.

London, Oct. 31.—A despatch from Berlin to the Globe says that Prof. Leyden was telegraphed from Livadia by Count Schouvaloff, the Russian Ambassador.

The Fall Mail Gazette's despatch from Livadia says: "Throughout yesterday the condition was most distressing."

Washington, Oct. 31.—Prince Cantacuzene, who was most distressing, is the following cablegram from St. Petersburg.

And Repeated On a Charge of Robbing a Sydney-street House. The residence of J. Fletcher, 31 Sydney-street, was burglarized Tuesday morning.

Quebec's New Treasurer. Montreal, Oct. 31.—It is understood that Mr. Simpson, member for Argenteuil in the Quebec Legislature, has received the appointment of Treasurer.

Quebec's New Treasurer. Montreal, Oct. 31.—It is understood that Mr. Simpson, member for Argenteuil in the Quebec Legislature, has received the appointment of Treasurer.

Quebec's New Treasurer. Montreal, Oct. 31.—It is understood that Mr. Simpson, member for Argenteuil in the Quebec Legislature, has received the appointment of Treasurer.

Quebec's New Treasurer. Montreal, Oct. 31.—It is understood that Mr. Simpson, member for Argenteuil in the Quebec Legislature, has received the appointment of Treasurer.

Quebec's New Treasurer. Montreal, Oct. 31.—It is understood that Mr. Simpson, member for Argenteuil in the Quebec Legislature, has received the appointment of Treasurer.

Quebec's New Treasurer. Montreal, Oct. 31.—It is understood that Mr. Simpson, member for Argenteuil in the Quebec Legislature, has received the appointment of Treasurer.

Quebec's New Treasurer. Montreal, Oct. 31.—It is understood that Mr. Simpson, member for Argenteuil in the Quebec Legislature, has received the appointment of Treasurer.

Quebec's New Treasurer. Montreal, Oct. 31.—It is understood that Mr. Simpson, member for Argenteuil in the Quebec Legislature, has received the appointment of Treasurer.

Quebec's New Treasurer. Montreal, Oct. 31.—It is understood that Mr. Simpson, member for Argenteuil in the Quebec Legislature, has received the appointment of Treasurer.

Quebec's New Treasurer. Montreal, Oct. 31.—It is understood that Mr. Simpson, member for Argenteuil in the Quebec Legislature, has received the appointment of Treasurer.

Quebec's New Treasurer. Montreal, Oct. 31.—It is understood that Mr. Simpson, member for Argenteuil in the Quebec Legislature, has received the appointment of Treasurer.

Quebec's New Treasurer. Montreal, Oct. 31.—It is understood that Mr. Simpson, member for Argenteuil in the Quebec Legislature, has received the appointment of Treasurer.

THE MORNING AFTER HALLOWE'EN.

MR. MOWAT, after contemplating the ruin: It's too bad, y' know, that a man should have his property destroyed like that.

MR. MOWAT, after contemplating the ruin: It's too bad, y' know, that a man should have his property destroyed like that.

MR. MOWAT, after contemplating the ruin: It's too bad, y' know, that a man should have his property destroyed like that.

MR. MOWAT, after contemplating the ruin: It's too bad, y' know, that a man should have his property destroyed like that.

MR. MOWAT, after contemplating the ruin: It's too bad, y' know, that a man should have his property destroyed like that.

MR. MOWAT, after contemplating the ruin: It's too bad, y' know, that a man should have his property destroyed like that.

MR. MOWAT, after contemplating the ruin: It's too bad, y' know, that a man should have his property destroyed like that.

MR. MOWAT, after contemplating the ruin: It's too bad, y' know, that a man should have his property destroyed like that.

MR. MOWAT, after contemplating the ruin: It's too bad, y' know, that a man should have his property destroyed like that.

MR. MOWAT, after contemplating the ruin: It's too bad, y' know, that a man should have his property destroyed like that.

MR. MOWAT, after contemplating the ruin: It's too bad, y' know, that a man should have his property destroyed like that.

MR. MOWAT, after contemplating the ruin: It's too bad, y' know, that a man should have his property destroyed like that.

MR. MOWAT, after contemplating the ruin: It's too bad, y' know, that a man should have his property destroyed like that.

MR. MOWAT, after contemplating the ruin: It's too bad, y' know, that a man should have his property destroyed like that.

MR. MOWAT, after contemplating the ruin: It's too bad, y' know, that a man should have his property destroyed like that.

MR. MOWAT, after contemplating the ruin: It's too bad, y' know, that a man should have his property destroyed like that.

MR. MOWAT, after contemplating the ruin: It's too bad, y' know, that a man should have his property destroyed like that.

MR. MOWAT, after contemplating the ruin: It's too bad, y' know, that a man should have his property destroyed like that.

MR. MOWAT, after contemplating the ruin: It's too bad, y' know, that a man should have his property destroyed like that.

MR. MOWAT, after contemplating the ruin: It's too bad, y' know, that a man should have his property destroyed like that.

THE MORNING AFTER HALLOWE'EN.

ANNEXATION JUSTIFIED.

An Argument in Its Favor That Cannot Be Gained. An annexation is a dead issue—it never was a live one, some people will say.

An Argument in Its Favor That Cannot Be Gained. An annexation is a dead issue—it never was a live one, some people will say.

An Argument in Its Favor That Cannot Be Gained. An annexation is a dead issue—it never was a live one, some people will say.

An Argument in Its Favor That Cannot Be Gained. An annexation is a dead issue—it never was a live one, some people will say.

An Argument in Its Favor That Cannot Be Gained. An annexation is a dead issue—it never was a live one, some people will say.

An Argument in Its Favor That Cannot Be Gained. An annexation is a dead issue—it never was a live one, some people will say.

An Argument in Its Favor That Cannot Be Gained. An annexation is a dead issue—it never was a live one, some people will say.

An Argument in Its Favor That Cannot Be Gained. An annexation is a dead issue—it never was a live one, some people will say.

An Argument in Its Favor That Cannot Be Gained. An annexation is a dead issue—it never was a live one, some people will say.

An Argument in Its Favor That Cannot Be Gained. An annexation is a dead issue—it never was a live one, some people will say.

An Argument in Its Favor That Cannot Be Gained. An annexation is a dead issue—it never was a live one, some people will say.

An Argument in Its Favor That Cannot Be Gained. An annexation is a dead issue—it never was a live one, some people will say.

An Argument in Its Favor That Cannot Be Gained. An annexation is a dead issue—it never was a live one, some people will say.

An Argument in Its Favor That Cannot Be Gained. An annexation is a dead issue—it never was a live one, some people will say.

An Argument in Its Favor That Cannot Be Gained. An annexation is a dead issue—it never was a live one, some people will say.

An Argument in Its Favor That Cannot Be Gained. An annexation is a dead issue—it never was a live one, some people will say.

An Argument in Its Favor That Cannot Be Gained. An annexation is a dead issue—it never was a live one, some people will say.

An Argument in Its Favor That Cannot Be Gained. An annexation is a dead issue—it never was a live one, some people will say.

An Argument in Its Favor That Cannot Be Gained. An annexation is a dead issue—it never was a live one, some people will say.

THE MORNING AFTER HALLOWE'EN.

THE BOYS CELEBRATE HALLOWE'EN IN GLORIOUS STYLE.

They Gathered in the Opera House and Provided an Excellent Entertainment—Thousands in the Procession Which Marched Through the Principal Streets—Lots of Fun and Little Mischief.

Oh! we're the boys of Varsity. We're out to-night upon a spree. We're our best, our suits hanging To fill the "gods" with melody.

Last night was Halloween, and the 3000 students of Toronto allayed their feelings in the good old way.

The annual appearance at the Grand Opera House was an immense success. The house bore a carnival appearance.

The chief amusement along Yonge-street was the stopping of street cars by snatching the string attached to the pole out of the hands of the conductor.

Proceeding as far east as (Mount's College) the boys secured an establishment. From the grounds of the college some people delivered a speech.

There were fully 1600 students in the house and for the first time in the history of Halloween their friends were there.

The boys came early. The Varsity boys were the first to appear. They were dressed in their best.

John Crowther, one of the burglars arrested last week for breaking into the grocery store of Barnes & Parry, had the honor of being the first to appear.

William Marshall, 46, Armstrong-avenue, who was arrested for the murder of a woman, was also present.

The Varsity Glee Club practically took charge of the proceedings. It had an elaborate program arranged, which was carried out to a nicety.

It seemed as if there was less excitement from the gallery than from the stage. Student wit has often more of the bludgeon quality than justifies the phrase.

After the great scene of the second act, the whole company was called out. The ladies all got bouquets of flowers.

After the great scene of the second act, the whole company was called out. The ladies all got bouquets of flowers.

After the great scene of the second act, the whole company was called out. The ladies all got bouquets of flowers.

After the great scene of the second act, the whole company was called out. The ladies all got bouquets of flowers.

After the great scene of the second act, the whole company was called out. The ladies all got bouquets of flowers.

After the great scene of the second act, the whole company was called out. The ladies all got bouquets of flowers.

After the great scene of the second act, the whole company was called out. The ladies all got bouquets of flowers.

DICKSON & TOWNSEND TELEPHONE 2875 AUCTIONEERS. Sales of Furniture on FRIDAY and FRIDAY at our rooms. ONE CENT.

A DOSE OF KNOCK-OUT DROPS.

MAY EXPLAIN THE SUDDEN DEATH OF JOHN SMITHSON. Opening of the Inquest Last Evening—The Victim Had Been on a Spree for Several Days, But Had Sobered Up—Who Was the Woman Who Was Around With Deceased?

At the Poplar House, Queen-street east, last night, Coroner Atkins opened an inquest into the cause of the death of John Lane Smithson, who died Tuesday evening at the residence of his brother.

William Smithson told of his brother's unexpected arrival in the city from Minneapolis two weeks ago, and of his statement that he proposed settling in Toronto and engaging in the fruit business.

George Alfred W. Smithson, son of W. Smithson and nephew of deceased, said that on Tuesday afternoon he followed the man who had staid for the night and found his uncle in an unconscious condition in a sitting room of the Schiller House.

William Gimblet, 232 Sumach-street, had been employed with deceased for ten days previous to his death. During that time deceased had been intoxicated at least five days.

George Alfred W. Smithson, son of W. Smithson and nephew of deceased, said that on Tuesday afternoon he followed the man who had staid for the night and found his uncle in an unconscious condition in a sitting room of the Schiller House.

William Gimblet, 232 Sumach-street, had been employed with deceased for ten days previous to his death. During that time deceased had been intoxicated at least five days.

George Alfred W. Smithson, son of W. Smithson and nephew of deceased, said that on Tuesday afternoon he followed the man who had staid for the night and found his uncle in an unconscious condition in a sitting room of the Schiller House.

William Gimblet, 232 Sumach-street, had been employed with deceased for ten days previous to his death. During that time deceased had been intoxicated at least five days.

George Alfred W. Smithson, son of W. Smithson and nephew of deceased, said that on Tuesday afternoon he followed the man who had staid for the night and found his uncle in an unconscious condition in a sitting room of the Schiller House.

William Gimblet, 232 Sumach-street, had been employed with deceased for ten days previous to his death. During that time deceased had been intoxicated at least five days.

George Alfred W. Smithson, son of W. Smithson and nephew of deceased, said that on Tuesday afternoon he followed the man who had staid for the night and found his uncle in an unconscious condition in a sitting room of the Schiller House.

William Gimblet, 232 Sumach-street, had been employed with deceased for ten days previous to his death. During that time deceased had been intoxicated at least five days.

George Alfred W. Smithson, son of W. Smithson and nephew of deceased, said that on Tuesday afternoon he followed the man who had staid for the night and found his uncle in an unconscious condition in a sitting room of the Schiller House.

William Gimblet, 232 Sumach-street, had been employed with deceased for ten days previous to his death. During that time deceased had been intoxicated at least five days.

George Alfred W. Smithson, son of W. Smithson and nephew of deceased, said that on Tuesday afternoon he followed the man who had staid for the night and found his uncle in an unconscious condition in a sitting room of the Schiller House.

William Gimblet, 232 Sumach-street, had been employed with deceased for ten days previous to his death. During that time deceased had been intoxicated at least five days.

George Alfred W. Smithson, son of W. Smithson and nephew of deceased, said that on Tuesday afternoon he followed the man who had staid for the night and found his uncle in an unconscious condition in a sitting room of the Schiller House.

William Gimblet, 232 Sumach-street, had been employed with deceased for ten days previous to his death. During that time deceased had been intoxicated at least five days.

THE MORNING AFTER HALLOWE'EN.

ANNEXATION JUSTIFIED.

An Argument in Its Favor That Cannot Be Gained. An annexation is a dead issue—it never was a live one, some people will say.

An Argument in Its Favor That Cannot Be Gained. An annexation is a dead issue—it never was a live one, some people will say.

An Argument in Its Favor That Cannot Be Gained. An annexation is a dead issue—it never was a live one, some people will say.

An Argument in Its Favor That Cannot Be Gained. An annexation is a dead issue—it never was a live one, some people will say.

An Argument in Its Favor That Cannot Be Gained. An annexation is a dead issue—it never was a live one, some people will say.

An Argument in Its Favor That Cannot Be Gained. An annexation is a dead issue—it never was a live one, some people will say.

An Argument in Its Favor That Cannot Be Gained. An annexation is a dead issue—it never was a live one, some people will say.

An Argument in Its Favor That Cannot Be Gained. An annexation is a dead issue—it never was a live one, some people will say.

An Argument in Its Favor That Cannot Be Gained. An annexation is a dead issue—it never was a live one, some people will say.

An Argument in Its Favor That Cannot Be Gained. An annexation is a dead issue—it never was a live one, some people will say.

An Argument in Its Favor That Cannot Be Gained. An annexation is a dead issue—it never was a live one, some people will say.

An Argument in Its Favor That Cannot Be Gained. An annexation is a dead issue—it never was a live one, some people will say.

An Argument in Its Favor That Cannot Be Gained. An annexation is a dead issue—it never was a live one, some people will say.

An Argument in Its Favor That Cannot Be Gained. An annexation is a dead issue—it never was a live one, some people will say.

An Argument in Its Favor That Cannot Be Gained. An annexation is a dead issue—it never was a live one, some people will say.

An Argument in Its Favor That Cannot Be Gained. An annexation is a dead issue—it never was a live one, some people will say.

An Argument in Its Favor That Cannot Be Gained. An annexation is a dead issue—it never was a live one, some people will say.

An Argument in Its Favor That Cannot Be Gained. An annexation is a dead issue—it never was a live one, some people will say.

An Argument in Its Favor That Cannot Be Gained. An annexation is a dead issue—it never was a live one, some people will say.