SOLDIERS AT COLLEGE

CANADIANS RECEIVE SCHOLARSHIPS IN OLD LAND.

Partially Disabled Men Are Attending British Universities Where They Are Taking Up Special Course of Study Which Will Enable Them to Occupy Good Situations When Peace Comes Again.

THANKS to the scheme of granting scholarships to soldiers and sailors of the overseas dominions, some fifteen partially disabled Canadians are now enjoying the benefits of courses in the best British universities and technical schools. So far 37 such scholarships have been granted, and Canadians hold almost half. The scheme is under the supervision of the Rhodes Scholarship Trust, of which Dr. Parkyn, late principal of Upper Canada College, is head.

But the twenty-three Rhodes scholarships so far allotted to soldiers are quite apart from the regular Oxford bursaries, which during the past few years have been awarded to many Canadian and other university post-graduates. In addition to the Rhodes scholarships are the Kitchener Memorial scholarships, and still others provided by Sir Alfred Beit, etc. In fact, no limit has been set to the number. As occasion arises the trust proposes to call upon wealthy Britishers who have amassed large fortunes from overseas interests to subscribe scholarships for soldiers and sailors of these dominions. The scholarships usually include a cash grant in addition to payment of the fees at the institution in question.

All branches of education—literary and scientific—are comprised in the scheme, and the fact that applicants may have had only a most elementary education prior to enlistment is not necessarily a bar.

Soldiers eligible must in the first place be men who have served at the front and no longer fitted for general service. Then they must be recommended by their commanding officers as men fitted to accept and benefit by the scholarship. Finally, the candidates thus recommended go before a special committee, who decide. The men selected are then given a year's leave, without pay or allowances, though those drawing allowances have this continued. The camps and convalescent homes have been well circularized for applicants.

Unlike the regular pre-war courses, the Soldiers' and Sailors' scholarships are only for one year, and consequently successful completion cannot lead to a degree, but they are very valuable to university men and of great benefit to any man. In recognition of the necessary shortness of the courses the work will be arranged so that the instruction shall be as comprehensive as possible, and the certificates granted will really be in the way of diplomas.

Among those to whom scholarships have been granted are the following:

Sergt. J. A. Church, of Smith's Falls, who had spent four months on his senior matriculation, is going to the Imperial College of Science and Technology to study civil engineering. As long service at the front had made him a bit rusty in his work the Trust has sent him to take a preparatory course at Birkbeck School.

Sergt. P. S. Warren, of Toronto University, formerly a teacher, goes to the I. C. of S. and T. for mineralogy and geology.

Corpl. P. H. Galloway, who before enlistment was in his second year at political science in Toronto University, leaves the 3rd Canadian Reserve Battalion to study economics at Brasenose College, Oxford.

Gunner J. H. Groves, educated at the Toronto Public Schools and a B.A. of Toronto University, also goes to Brasenose College, Oxford, to study law.

Corpl. H. W. Crosbie, 5th C.M.R., of Chatham, who had passed his senior matriculation, goes to Edinburgh University to study forestry.

Corpl. L. S. Cutler, Manitoba Regimental Depot, of Coldstream, Ont., and educated at Woodstock Collegiate, and B.A. of McMaster University, a law student ere he turned soldier, will study economics at St. John's College, Oxford.

Pte. H. H. Blanchard, of Baddeck, N.S., B.A. of Dalhousie University and a student for the Presbyterian ministry and a teacher, is going to Edinburgh to take a course in theology and philosophy.

Sergt. O. R. Ensor, an old 3rd Battalion man from Toronto, goes to study commerce at Birmingham University.

Pte. G. B. Monk, of Ottawa, who fought in the 73rd Battalion, went to school in Ottawa, Almonte and Cornwall, and was bookkeeper in a wholesale grocery warehouse before he enlisted, is off to Edinburgh University to take up mineralogy.

MILLER'S WORM POWDERS are sweet and palatable to children, who show no hesitancy in taking them. They will certainly bring all worm troubles to an end. They are a strengthening and stimulating medicine, correcting the disorders of digestion that the worms cause and imparting a healthy tone to the system most beneficial to development.

carry and foreign languages. Lieut. F. G. Dashwood, of the R.F.C., goes to Oxford to study economics and education.

Lt.-Col. Lascelles, the officer in charge of the above scheme, is loud in his praise of the Canadian khaki college inaugurated by Prof. Tory, and doing such excellent work both in the field and in England. Col. Lascelles, who is an Imperial, hopes to see this Canadian system of education adopted by the British army.

Tommy Burns an Instructor. Tommy Burns, ex-champion heavyweight pugilist of the world, arrived in Vancouver during the last week of May, passed his medical examination and joined the forces as physical instructor at Hastings Park Camp. Tommy Burns, whose real name is Noah Brusso, is a Hanover, Ont., boy. He was well known as an amateur lacrosse player in the province before he took to boxing. Many lacrosse enthusiasts have seen him perform in the national game.

Language on the Prairies.

In charging the twenty-eighth Synod of the Church of England in the diocese of Qu'Appelle, the Bishop of Qu'Appelle spoke strongly on the question of language and religious education in the public schools, as follows: "Canadians, we shall ever take a deep interest in our common school. What our schools are to-day our people will be to-morrow. The importance of insisting upon every child being taught to speak the English language cannot be exaggerated. In an immense country like ours, where it is so easy for a foreign community to preserve its identity and language and for children to grow up in ignorance of British institutions and customs, it is nothing less than criminal in the light of passing events to be indifferent to the education of the children of those who, of their own free will and accord, have sought and accepted the privileges and responsibilities of British citizenship, and to allow them to continue in ignorance of the English language. Without this knowledge it is quite possible for the children of foreigners to dwell in our midst and yet live through life in thought and allegiance to a foreign land."

His Discovery.

A professor of history met one of his class who had returned from fighting on the western front, and asked him if he had learned any particular lesson from the war. "I have discovered," replied the young man, "that it is a great deal easier studying history than it is making it."

Corns cannot exist when Holloway's Corn Cure is applied to them, because it goes to the root and kills the growth.

A Point Edward young man was riding on a Tunnel car, when presently three young ladies got on and sat right down beside him. The young ladies were talking about their hair when one of them remarked: "I washed my hair last night and today I can not do anything with it." When the young man rose to get off the car at his destination and as the car was slackening its speed he started for the vestibule but in so doing awkwardly trampled on one of the young ladies feet. Very politely he turned and said: "Excuse me, miss, but I washed my feet last night and today I can't do anything with them."
