BROOMFIELD CHURCH,--- The new Church of St. Patrick's, Broomfield, is making rapid progress. Though the actual work of building was begun but five months ago, the edifice is already 16 feet high. It is of very substantial structure, and when finished will be a beautiful churchan ornament and credit to the parish of Donaghmoyne and the pride of its Catholic people.

The funds subscribed for its erection-all inadequate though they beare made up chiefly of the hard-earned shillings of the poor. They contain many a "widow's mite," as a proof of the strong, ardent faith and devotion of the people of to-day, and and the priests and people of Donaghmoyne, grateful for such outside assistance, offer up public prayers every Sunday in all the churches of the parish for the "spiritual and temporal welfare" of all such benefactors of their new church.
