

support of the international community will be an important element in the maintenance of confidence in Hong Kong.

July 15, 1989