Middlebury College,
Middlebury, Vermont.

My dear President Moody:-

Thank you very much for your letter of May 12th.

I find the train schedule rather awkward and shall wait a fortnight or so before informing you definitely as to the hour of my arrival, because it has been intimated to me that a different schedule may go into effect on the Rutland. It looks now as if I may have to arrive some time in the middle of the night. I must return to Montreal on the late afternoon of the 15th. The Governor General of Canada, who was my old chief in the war and who is a very great personal friend of mine, is paying his farewell visit to Montreal that week and there are certain functions which I would like to attend. I remember when coming home from Burlington I left there at five or six o'clock in the evening, and that may be a convenient train. I suppose that would involve motor-ing from Middlebury to Burlington.

I shall be only too happy to say a few words at the luncheon. Are you counting on me to make an address at the Commencement Exercises as well?

Yours faithfully,
