The Big Work Now Started— | CANADIAN PACIFIC Contractors for Terminals Are Now Busy.

SHEDIAC, N.B., Dec. 24 .- The contractors for the terminals at Carleton Head, P.E.I., have arrived at Shediac with their plant and will procure all the stone required for this immense contract from the Smith quarry at that place.

Messrs. Roger Miller and Sons of foronto, who have the contract, are one of the largest contracting firms in the Dominion of Canada in the work. The plant already on the ground consists of engines, both stanary and locomotive; cars for conreying the stones from the quarry to the wharf at Point du Chene, quarrying machinery, hoisting gear, etc., in fact, a first-class plant for the work in view. Several buildings have alteady been crected at the quarry, and every available house that could be seemed in the town of violnity has been rented for the use of the seen rented for the use of the em-pleyes. In fact, the absence of houses picyes. In fact, the absence of houses is a serious drawback to the proper accommodation of such an addition to the Shediec population, but it is hoped by spring to remedy this want by quitting a humber of houses on the Gallagher property about forty lots thing sold already.

At the quarry there is also under construction a Marconi tower, which will keep the firm in constant communication with the work at Carleton Head, where a similar tower is being constructed, and also with their large towboats between the two points, the boats being equipped with wireless apparatus. Large sidings are being failt from the quarry to the main the and at Point du Chene, where the cone is to be shipped, several new dding are being built to facilitate the loading of the large scows from the cars. Three tug boats and a large number of scows will comprise the fleet, and it is expected that the work will take upwards of three years to complete. At the present time it is estimated that the firm will use about 300,000 yards of stone, which figures may be increased, as the stone for making the concrete work will all be crushed at the quarry, and some changes may be made in the concrete work which will increase the quantity When the work is in full swing, upwards of four hundred men will be employed, and the effect of such an addition to the working population of a small town can be easily estimated. RAILWAY HELD BACK BY LACK OF ENTRANCE WAY
