MR. COCHRANE DEFENDS HEALEY'S FALLS LEASE

Minister of Lands and Mines De nies That Bargain is Inconsistent With Govt. Policy.

The Globe in an editorial yesterday on the Healey's Falls power franchise spirit, if not also the letter, of the law Healey's Falls lease is for twenty years, renewable afterwards for ten, and then for another twenty. In other has stood for several years past.

call attention further to the fact that the hydro-electric commission, which has been specifically clothed by the Ontario parliament with authority to fix the amounts charged for electric energy, is entirely ignored in this lease, that duty being assigned to the lieutenant-governor in council—in other words, to the ministry of the dayand that to it is assigned also the tensor of commenting the nower comments of the dayand that to it is assigned also the tensor of comments of the fact that the hydro-electric commission, which has everywhere. There were no accidents reported. The ambulance made but a single trip, a sufference. function of compelling the power company to take steps to supply all the local demand up to the limit of the capacity of the waterpower. The fact is that if the government refuses to require the company to produce more energy than it is at any time developenergy than it is at any time developing no other authority can be brought to bear on the company; and if the government fixes a price for electric energy, no matter how favorable it may be to the company as against the purchasers, whether municipalities or private parties, 'any order in council fixing such rate shall be final and conclusive, and binding on all parties concerned."

The attention of Hon. Frank Coch-ine, minister of lands and mines, was wer at Healey's Fulls, and the gov-nment would regulate the prices.

'The government maintains full ntrol under the arrangement. There has been no semblance of overriding the hydro-electric power commission the hydro-electric power commission. The cabinet was unanimous on the matter. The locality strenuously advocated the deal going thru. Twelve neighboring municipalities, thru their reeves and large deputations, urged the government to go ahead, and the lease will meet with their approval.

John Curran Saw Parade, Walked Home and Died.

After having viewed the Labor Day parade John Curran, aged 67, returned to his boarding house at 42 West Gerrard-street. He made some joking remarks to a friend and proceeded upstairs to his room. A heavy fall almost immediately alarmed the household. He was found on the floor unconscious, Dr. Wagner was sent for, but life was extinct. An unidentified woman was run down and instantly killed by touring car, Na. 1100, owned by Ambrose J. Small of the Grand Opera House, and driven by Charles Segar, near the corner of College-street and Palmerstonavenue, at 8 o'clock last night.

On their way for a spin thru the west end, the party including Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Small, father of A. J. Small, and Mrs. A. J. Small, and Miss Small, a niece Segar was driving along West College. He had crossed Bathurst-street safely and on nearing Pal-merston-avenue noticed a woman step off the curb. He slowed up to allow her to cross the street, but she went back to the north side. He started forward and again she stepped out on the road. Segar could not stop the car before the woman's skirt caught in the wheel and she was thrown headlong to the pavement.

Dr. Clarkson of College street was immediately summoned by Mr. Small and pronounced the woman dead. Her neck and shoulder blade was broken. Ellis' private ambulance was called and the body removed to his establishment, where Coroner Young examinment, where Coroner Young examined the body. Witnesses say the autowas going at a moderate speed.

With the exception of a stickpin and a gold hunting case watch with the initials "P. J.," nothing on the woman could give the police the slightest clue the stightest clue. to her identity. Dressed in a dark skirt and cravenette coat and white straw hat, with a corded silk waist, the woman looked to be about 45. Her hair, dark brown, was turning grey.

The occupants of the car waited in the locality for about three-quarters of ney Corley and was allowed his liberty. He will appear at the opening of inquest to night.
