HAMILTON NEWS

Ben Parrott, jr., Committed One the Most Inhuman Crimes Imaginable.

Hamilton, Feb. S.—(Special.)—Benjamin Parrott, jr., a carter, committed a murder-ous assault on his aged mother in front of his father's house, 4k Stevenstreet, shortly after 5 o'clock this evening. He chased her out of the house with an ax. She fell in the middle of the road, and just as she was arising he reached her and brought the tool down on her head, making a lor-rible gash, from which her brains cozed. Standing over the prostrate form of his mother, like a frenz'ed animal thirsting for blood, he struck her three times more, using the sharp edge of the ax. Two of the blows were on the head and one on the left arm. Then the inhuman monster ran back into the house. A newsboy called to a man driving by in a breck vagon, but the man took no notice of the affair. Word was sent to the joble, and a crowd scong athered, but no person went to the woman's s'de for fally 10 minutes, when Dr. Cockburn happened along. He stopped and moved the unconscious form to the boulevard and there examined it. He said steed out was ratically and there examined it. He said she could not live. age, and is an habitual Grunkard. His father says whiskey has affected his brain.
Mrs. Parrott and the son had frequent quarrels, and a few weeks ago Parrott, st., told Magistrate Jelfs to send the young man away or he would surely kill someone. Mrs. Parrott was also a hard drinker, and her husband says he has had ro

He went eastward over vacant lots. In a short time he was seen coming out of Tindall's Hotel, where he had been in to get a drink. A woman told P.C. Cruickshanks, who had not heard of the affair, what Parrott had done, and the officer arrested him.
Parrott said he did not care what hap-

Is the Catania Afloat?

The Tweedle Trading Company's steamer Catania, from Glasgow, Dec. 21, which met a gale that carried away the smokestack and partly wrecked the upper works, sought repairs at St. Michael's, Azores, on Jan. 6 last, three days after tidings regarding the disabling of the vessel had been brought to London by the Mesaba of the Atanic Transportation line. The Catania started from. The agents of the Catania siy that the boat ought to have been here several days ago, but it has probably been delayed by the hurricane. The owners of part of the cargo on the Catania to-day had it re-insured. The overdue Tweedle liner is an iron schooner-rigged steamer of 253 tons. It is in charge of Capt. Furlong and has a crew of 35.

A Funny Occurrence.

A few days ago the Monsoon Tea Co., in one of their advertisements, said that "all unmarried ladies would get a mon-soon if they would only insist on getting the right brand of tea from their grocers." One lady wrote to the company asking if there were coupons in the packets to be sayed in order to get the prize or how they proposed giving them out. She was written to and informed that it was only an advertisement.

Modjeska To-Night.

Madame Modjeska, who returns to Toronto this evening after a long absence, will find that she has a loyal and generous following in this city. Of the many talented bidders for public favor Modjeska appears to be the only actress or player of either sex, for that matter, who has been able to maintain an exclusively Snakespearean and classic repertoire. There have been so many instances in recent years of unfulfilled promise, that Modjeska's devotion to the highest ideals is the more conspicuous. Shakespeare's version of Cleopatra, which she will present to-morrow night, has aroused as much curiosity as interest. Whether Modjeska will present as sizzingly passionate a Cleopatra as the divine Sarah or her less divine contemporaries is hard to say, but that it will be a queenly Cleopatra and one endowed with as much intellectual as physical charm, without which it would be hard to find an excuse for poor Marc Antony, is very sure. This evening she will be seen as Mary Stuart. It will be repeated at the matine on Saturday, and her engagement will close on Saturday night with Macoetn. Modjeska To-Night.

"Tess" at the Toronto Opera House next week will prove an attraction of potent interest and Mrs. Fiske will undoubtedly receive a most cordial welcome. The story draws its motivity from the living world, its olctures are from the open fields of nature and it breathes vigorously of out-of-doors, and its characters show every sign of life natural to the freedom of the whole almosphere. The indorsement of Mrs. Fisle's play made from "Tess," come from higher sources than the merely critical, and every lover of the theatre in this city will wish to enjoy the animate story to be presented by the actress, as well as to study her own work in it that has done so much for her artistic fame. Prices for this engagement only have been arranged at 25 cents, 50 cents, 75 cents, $1 and $1.50. Good seats on the ground floor may be obtained for $1. Other seats can be reserved at 50c. "Carmen" was again greeted yesterday by two good audiences, and the unanimous verdict was that it was a rattling good show. Miss Marshall's "business" all the way through is excellent. Her voice is not perhaps so strong as it might be and a little more emphasis in places could be stood. Mr. O'Nell is a really excellent Escamillo, but Mr. Glazier lacks fire as Don Jose. The play is certainly intensely picturesque, and is entitled to rank among the best of the company's productions. Next week's attraction, "Mixed Pickles," is bound to draw well. The title is not so high-sounding as "A Brace of Partridges" or "Incog," but the fun, is even more contifiuous than in either, and there is the advantage of more incidental variety. The piece was played 900 times by the author, J. B. Pokk, for whom it netted the nice little fortune of $70,000. The three acts are simply three successive screams of laughter. The sale of seats will commence at the box office to-morrow.

Although the weather is extremely cold the audiences at the Bijou keep up to the usual standard. The Cherry Sisters are still very "punky," although some of the audience sympathize with them. Whitney Bros, give a very finished performance and Miss Belle Wilton gives some very popular songs in a very clever style. Mr. Ray S. Royce is a big favorite and in his line has no equals. Sunday evening the British-Royce is a big favorite and in his line has no equals. Sunday evening the British-Canadian Band will give a magnificent concert, Miss Alice Raymond will be the soloist, and Hon. W. L. Sewell will act as spokesman for the band. Mr. Kurkamp has prepared a very fine program and he thinks it is the best one ever given here. This band goes on a tour in the States later.
