CATACLYSM DEVASTATED WHOLE VALLEY

down upon the cottages nestled at the foot of the mountain, those few who were fortunate enough to be out of the direct line of flight of the rocky downpour, rushed out into the night, and panic-stricken, ran up the steep away from the roar. The worst of the noise was over in three or four minutes, and they returned back to the hotel, but those few minutes were enough to fill up a peaceful valley with debris that looked like the ruins of an imperial city and to crush out in a moment the lives of nearly 100 sleeping men, women and children.

It is strange indeed, but it's true that the men at work in the mine in the bowels of the very mountain which was hurled death over their heads in the valley, should have been safe at work, there in all probability than they would have been in the city homes asleep. These men had a miraculous escape, plucked between the towering mists of death, and yet alive to tell the tale.

Everything is quiet and orderly at Frank now, and many of those who deserted the town yesterday and slept at Blenheim, have returned, but there is still some fear that Turtle Mountain may break out again. There is a tremendous mass of limestone overhanging the main part of the town. If it fell the whole town would be buried. Some people think it is only a matter of time before it will come down. The C.P.R. is cutting a pack trail for horses around the road which will be some four miles long for the purpose of making transfers. C.P.R. officers are discouraging all attempts to make the trip thru the pass under which the railway track for two miles runs. The district in this neighborhood is covered with a mass of snow and this fact helps render a trip thru the pass extremely hazardous. The walk around and across the mountain to Frank covers a distance estimated at more than five miles.

A special party from Calgary, with nurses, doctors and mounted police, in charge of Superintendent Grimrose, arrived here yesterday. The police will help Premier Haultain, with Inspector of Public Works Sounders, J. R. Fisher, and others, who were employed in the Frank mine was told by Joseph Chapman at the inquest, which was opened today. Coroner Anderson and W. Hardy, C.P.R. Engineer, and MacLeod conducted the inquest. The coroner's jury was composed of: Thomas McDonnell, foreman; C. A. Leitch of Oak Lake, Minn., brother of Mr. Leitch, who with his wife and children, was killed by falling rock; John Leitch, who with his wife and children, was killed by falling rock; John Leitch, who with his wife and children, was killed by falling rock.

The Most Tiring Time For Teachers and Pupils

After the Winter's Confinement They Are Pale, Weak and Exhausted and Quite Unfit for the Excessive Mental Exertion of Examination Time.

Early and late teachers and pupils have been bending over their books, contracting their lungs and exhausting nervous energy at an enormous rate, and spring finds them weak, languid and run down. The air of the crowded school room is bad enough at any time, but where the dry air system of heating is used the atmosphere is still further vitiated and seems to entirely lack life and all invigorating qualities.

If your boy or girl is weak, puny or nervous, do not suppose for one moment that the trouble will wear away of itself. It will not. External assistance is necessary if you would prevent St. Vitus' dance, epilepsy, paralysis, brain congestion or some dreadful form of brain or nerve disease. What is the use of education if the health of the body is to be ruined in getting it? If the health of the children is neglected they can never develop into healthy, hopeful, robust men and women.

contains in concentrated form the very essence of the most effective blood and nerve restorative to be found in nature. Not only is it the most satisfactory spring medicine obtainable, but it is especially suited to the use of children because of its gentle and natural action on the system. Note your increase in weight while using it.

50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50; at all dealers or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

To protect you against imitations the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt; book author, are on every box of his medicine.

We will forfeit $500.00 if these testimonials are not genuine.
