WELLINGTON STREET METHODIST CHURCH ENJOYED GOOD YEAR

Annual Reports, Presented Last Night, Show Progress.

The annual congregational gathering the Wellington Street Methodist hurch was held in the Sunday school room last evening. A large company of members, adherents and friends of the church listened to most gratifying re-ports from the different departments of church work.

John Watson, who has been recording steward of the church for years, in moving a vote of thanks to those who so ably gave the reports, said he did not remember a year when the spiritual tone of the church had been higher or the financial returns better than the past year. The attendance at church services and society meetings and Sunday f church work.

The department has four sheep-shearing outfits working in the province, one of which is in the county of Elgin at present. Middlesex and surrounding counties will be covered by this machine. If the wool proves satisfactory this year it is the intention of the department to put out several more department to put out several more department to put out several more and Robert of Management to put out several more machines next year. One man can run ters, Mrs. Daniel Lang, Gladstone ters, Mrs. Thomas, and Mrs. T. L. the machine, but two are usually sent out with it. The cost to the farmer is 15 cents for each fleece. The great advantage of the machine, it is claimed, is the speed with which the work ed, is the speed with which the work can be done. Many experienced sheep-shearers have enlisted and the formers are finding it hard to get men to do the work, and they are employing the machine to a great extent. Other machines are working in the counties of Brant, Oxford and Lanark.

will move from Queen's Park to Carling Heights camp.

The men will, for the time being at least, be transferred to Carling Heights on the day following their second innoculation, according to instructions in camp orders.

While at Carling Heights camp, the companies will aggregate 500 rank and file. The battalion orderly-room, quartermaster's stores, medical stores, etc., will be maintained at Queen's Park until further orders.

The company organization at St. Thomas will be maintained for the time being, and the next drafts will be drawn as far as possible from the personnel now at St. Thomas.

The training of the units at St. Thomas and Carling Heights will be pushed as rapidly as possible, as this is the primary work for these groups.

It was at first intended to move the more advanced troops from St. Thomas to Carling Heights camp, but this plan has now been abandoned. The advanced troops at St. Thomas will supply drafts for overseas, and the newer troops will be moved after a few days at Queen's Park. Eventually all the troops will be moved after a few days at Queen's Park. Eventually all the other camps will then be closed.

The public works department, it is expected, will undertake the construction of some permanent huts at the leights for use as quartermaster's stores, and orderly-rooms, lavatories and kitchens. In the meantime, the troops will be moved gradually into camp.

Samara, Russia, Thursday, May 2-(By the Associated Press).-In connec tion with the reports that much of the fertile land of European Russia will go uncultivated this year, the Associated Press correspondent has made a tour of the governments of Samara, Simbirsk, Moscow, Penza, Tambov, Ryanzan and Saratov, the chief remaining wheat-producing districts. The ma-jority of the larger estates and peas-ant tracts have been seized and divided etween the poorer peasants.

also been divided and scattered. The distribution of seed has been unequal, owing in part to the large requisitions made by the central government in some sections to feed the cities and because also of the disorganized transportation.

Peasants Hide Seed.
Peasants have hidden their seed and resisted the food committees. Many resisted the food committees. Many districts consequently have seed potatoes, wheat, barley and oats, but the peasants are not willing to plant all the acreage possible, fearing the future disposition of the land and the control of the harvested crop. The hostility of the farmers towards city workers generally is about by their unwillingness. erally is shown by their unwillingness to surrender grain to the food commit-tees and their hesitation to plant ex-tensively lest their crops be requisi-

The wheat planting season ends this week in Central Russia, and in most of the districts less than half the grain land has been plowed. The exodus of city dwellers into the grain sections has been so large that breadstuffs are extremely scarce, even in grain cen-tres like Samara where bread sells res like Samara, where bread sells for two rubles per pound. The price gradually rises approaching Moscow, and at some towns located in the grain states children gather at the incom-ing trains and beg bread from the passengers.

Several provinces have issued their own money, but the peasants and merchants refuse to accept it, unless forced to do so by armed guards. Even the provincial cities are issuing their own recovery and are legalizing the circulamoney, and are legalizing the circula-tion of officially-indorsed checks on state banks. But the peasants do not willingly accept such mediums of ex-
