series of campaign meetings which have been held. There will be revelations made and information given out of vital interest to every elector in London. His Wo-ship Mayor Stevenson will be the chalrman, and the speakers secured are men who have received international recognition for their sterling ability. Fine Speakers.

Thomas Moore, general organizer of the Carpenters and Joiners of America, is one of the men who has appeared on practically every deputation of labor to the Government or to Government officials. He was chairman of the pensions committee at the last Trades and Labor Congress, recently held in Ottawa, which brought in the recommendation for equal pensions for soldiers regardless of rank.

John Kennedy spoke at the Gibbons' meeting on December 7th, and it is safe to say that everyone who heard him then is eager to do so again. While he is Canadian organizer of Sheet Metal Workers, his efficiency in this capacity attracted to him the attention of labor on the other side.

MOTHERS' CLUB MEETS.—The regular monthly meeting of the Wortley soldiers regardless of rank. sheet Metal Workers, his child the sheet Metal Workers, his capacity attracted to him the attention of labor on the other side the line, with the result that he was called to take up similar work in the United States, a tribute not only to this Canadian citizen, but to Canada as well. Both of these men are widely known as forcible, logical speakers, men thoroughly informed in regard to public questions, and particularly as these affect labor. Mr. Gibbons and others will also speak.
