BENEFIT SOCIETY SCRAP ONE MAN GETS BOUND

Factions Evenly Divided for Control of Council—Minor Hamilton Mention.

HAMILTON, Jan. 10.—(Special).—Chairs and knives, it is alleged, were used to canvass votes for the candidates in connection with the employees of the steel plant at a meeting held Saturday evening in the Orange Hall.

A heavy crowd fell on the hand of Archie Gibson, 708 East King-street, while he was playing around the cars at the corner of King-street and Sandford-avenue, Saturday afternoon, and two of his fingers had to be amputated.

Rev. D. C. Hossack, Toronto, preached both morning and evening to-day at special services marking the opening of St. Giles' Presbyterian Church.

The firemen were called to the residence of Fred Roblin, 4 North West-avenue, this evening by a small fire. Dick Johnson, 67 Smith-avenue, was arrested to-day by Constable Brennan, charged with stealing a pair of shoes from Geo. Findlay. It is alleged that he, and two others, went into Mr. Findlay's store and were fitted with shoes. It is charged that Johnson tried on a pair and walked out with them without settling with the storekeeper.

Miss Boyes died to-night at the residence of her nephew, J. M. Boyes, 17 South West-avenue.

Garnet Austen, who had been in the city only five days, died in the city hospital to-day, having been in operation. His remains will be sent to Haliburton.

Geo. Howcroft, 304 North Catharine-street, was sent to the city hospital Saturday for acting improperly on the streets.

Council Inaugural. The inaugural meeting of the city council will be held Monday at 11 o'clock. The factions trying to make a slate are evenly divided. Aid-elect Ryan is not allowed to take his seat, and the result will probably be that Mayor McLaren will be placed in the position of having the whole say as to how the honors are to be divided.

It is rumored that Constables Hay and Emerson had my scrap in the police station, as a result of which the former has been forced to lay up. Fred Wild, 122 North St. George-st., was robbed of jewellery valued at $100.

Stirred up and misled by agitators, some of the street structure has been created disturbances on the streets the last two Saturday nights. While only a few boys are affected, a great many young boys are in the habit of fun and mischief have joined in and paraded up and down the streets. The police took a hand Sunday night and arrested Lawrence Mulholland on a charge of disorderly conduct. He is not a newsboy. The names of several newsboys were taken by the police.

Fire at Niagara Falls. NIAGARA FALLS, Jan. 10.—(Special).—Fire of a dancing estimated at $1500 at the Parkside Inn Saturday morning, destroying the top floor of the building. The fire was caused by a cigarette thrown thru a defective chimney. The flames were discovered by the night watchman at the Clifton hotel, who roused the fire brigade. The interior is finished in quarter-cut oak with marble fittings. The pulpit and chair space is elevated according to the most approved ideas and surrounded by gorgeous brass railings.

One Gallery. There is but one gallery across the front end of the building over the vestibule, making the interior differ from other churches. The windows are of light colored decorated glass, the tracery being of stone, which produces a pleasing effect. Two of these have already been appropriated as memorials, one on the north to the late George Craig and the other on the south to the late James Livingston, one time preacher of the church, both given by the families of these members. Above the entrance are three large windows, which will shortly contain memorials, the centre one to the late Jesse Ketchum, while on each side will be windows in memory of Mrs. Donald Mackay and William and Mrs. Farley, all deceased members of the congregation. The tower contains a large bell, the gift of Sir Mortimer and Lady Clark.

The entire cost of the church, exclusive of furnishings and school house, will be about $110,000. The latter is one of the most perfectly equipped Sunday school rooms in the city and cost about $45,000. It was erected and has been used for holding the last services in the old church were held on July 9, 1905, while the cornerstone of the new edifice was laid on Jan. 26, 1907. The day before the new school room was opened. The location of the organ will cost about $4000, while the site of the church, which has a frontage of 125 feet, cost $32,000. The heating and lighting systems are both of the most modern kind.

Rothschild's Munificence. PARIS, Jan. 10.—Baron Edmund de Rothschild has donated $10,000 for the distribution among the poor of Paris on Jan. 12, the date of the marriage of his son, Baron Maurice de Rothschild, to Miss Noemie Halphen, daughter of Jules Halphen.

Broke Wrist While Skating. Frank Meehan, 348 West-avenue, fell and broke his wrist while skating on the Don flats Saturday afternoon. He was taken to the General Hospital.

Brakeman Hurt. Bert Sherrin, 23 years, a G.T.R. brakeman, living at 1483 Danforth-avenue, fell from his train at Port Hope Saturday, breaking his right arm above the elbow. He was brought to the city and taken to Grace Hospital.

HANDSOME NEW CHURCH FOR KNOX CONGREGATION

Opening Services on Sunday Attract Large Crowds—Rev. F. L. Patton Preaches.

To the members of Knox Church yesterday will be a Sunday long to be remembered. There may be a few who recall with the old church, which was opened after the fire in 1847, but that event was no more impressive than the divine service and opening services held yesterday in the new Knox Church on Spadina-avenue near the corner of Harbord-street.

The cornerstone of this new edifice is supposed to hold about 1100 people, but at each of the services yesterday it was filled to overflowing, and in a row that started chairs were used the whole service.

The sermons at the morning and evening services were preached by Rev. Francis L. Patton, D.D., LL.D., president of Princeton Theological Seminary, and the dedication prayer and address at the morning service was delivered by Rev. A. B. Winchester, minister of the church, while Rev. J. G. Miller, assistant, read the lesson, and Rev. Dr. Parsons, for twenty years minister of the old church, but now retired, led in prayer. On the platform besides those mentioned were Rev. Dr. McLaren, Rev. Dr. Somerville, and Rev. Mr. McMillan, father of the young organist of the church.

Afternoon Service. At the afternoon service the speakers were Rev. Mr. Murray of Erskine Church, Rev. Mr. Robertson, secretary of the Presbyterian Sunday School Association, and John Loudon, a layman. Rev. F. B. Duval of Winnipeg, moderator of the general assembly, will preach next Sunday.

The musical part of the service was in charge of Ernest McMillan, the talented young organist and choir master, who is only 16 years of age. The organ embodies the old instrument, but with many additions, but it was not completed for the opening Sunday. However, it was sufficiently advanced to give the necessary support to the singing.

To-night Rev. Mr. Patton will deliver a lecture and through the week services will be held nearly every evening.

The New Church. Knox Church ranks among the most beautiful churches on the continent, and cost in the neighborhood of $150,000. In its architectural design the classical style of the decorated period was adhered to. From the exterior the roof every vestige of exterior frame work was constructed of Queenston granite and the interior is finished with carved stone tracery. Facing Spadina-avenue on the west side the massive structure makes a very imposing appearance with its tall needle-like spire tapering to a height of 215 ft. From the avenue the church is entered by a wide flight of steps, which are deeply revealed Gothic doorways distinctly separated by groups of fluted columns. The interior is finished with handsomely carved gables with carved finials. The heads of the arched doorways are filled with rich tracery and the niches which base are an easy flight of stone steps broken up by landings.

The main entrance communicates with a long vestibule of mosaic floor, traversing the entire front of the church. The vaulted ceiling of the auditorium is gilded, decorated with plaster ornaments and supported by twelve large iron columns with fluted plaster caps. Over the organ and pulpit is suspended a large canopy. The interior is finished in quarter-cut oak with marble fittings. The pulpit and chair space is elevated according to the most approved ideas and surrounded by gorgeous brass railings.

NEW YORK BUSINESS MAN'S EVANGELIST. William Phillips Hall's Address to Men at Jarvis Street Baptist Church.

Wm. Phillips Hall, the Broad-street, New York, capitalist, who devotes a portion of his time to evangelic work under Baptist auspices, attracted large congregations to Jarvis-street Church yesterday. Mr. Hall "comes at his own expense." C. J. Davies, a young man with a well-trained baritone voice, assists with sacred solos. His recital of a men's meeting was held at 4.15. Rev. Dr. Perry presided.

The evangelist is a portly man, in the prime of life, with dark flashing eyes, jet black hair and mustache. His address was delivered with rapidity, dramatic passages and abounded in stories of conversions. His recital of Gen. Grant's defence of his father's memory at one of Mr. Hall's meetings at Jarvis-street Church in New York City, proved one of the most interesting. It was about the time, said Mr. Hall, that much was being heard of Gen. Grant having been a drinking man. It was true that Gen. Grant was a drinking man in his younger days, but in later life he was a sober, God-fearing man. Such a man, said Mr. Hall, is the one to be followed. It was to the divine guidance which he received as an answer to prayer that his father attributed his success in business. "He that conceals his sins shall not prosper," Proverbs, 28. Such a policy is disastrous spiritually, morally and in the long run materially. A man may succeed in deceiving his fellows, and himself, but he is a fool if he imagines he can deceive his Maker. The study of psychology has revealed that the conscientious mind, and the other the sub-conscious, is the seat of the soul. This sub-conscious mind, developed under hypnotic influence, appeared to have a perfect memory. It was possibly the subconscious mind, in which God recorded the every word and act. This, in the day of reckoning would blaze out the hidden sin, unless it had been washed away thru redemption.

Confession of Christ opened the way to mercy, but he found after he had made a confession of sin, that he was within the soul, to be obtained by prayer. This grace, while the Christian man might still be fallible, would make it impossible for him to do wrong than to do right.

At the close of the address cards were distributed for the signature. Eighty entries, of those who would pledge themselves to pray for the coming of a great revival.

Mr. Hall will speak at the Bible Institute this afternoon and evening.

Hain's Trial Nearing End. PLUSHING, N.Y., Jan. 10.—With the calling of one or two minor witnesses on Monday morning the defence in the trial of Hain vs. Hains will run up its case to the jury. Prosecutor Darin promised Justice Crane Saturday afternoon that he would only take an hour to present his case. He is expected to present his case in the afternoon. Mr. McIntyre said that he would require all of Monday's session to make his argument for the defence.

All of the session Saturday was given over to rebutting the evidence that James Tierney, the defence's eye-witness to the shooting of the publisher, had seen the defendant on the boat when the tragedy occurred. Members of the Bay-side Yacht Club swore that they did not see Tierney. These witnesses further declared that the actions and appearance of Capt. Peter C. Hains were those of a rational man.

Assault on "Enec." While trying to hook a piece of jewelry in Harmon Westburn's second-story room 246 East King-street Saturday afternoon, Ernest Evans and two friends got nasty. "Uncle" on the second floor, and ran from the shop with the bleeding Jew after him. At the corner of Berkeley and King-streets Evans again turned on his pursuer and beat him up pretty badly. P. C. Page turned up, and after a short chase, arrested Evans, who lives at 214 Terrace-street.

Brakeman Hurt. Bert Sherrin, 23 years, a G.T.R. brakeman, living at 1483 Danforth-avenue, fell from his train at Port Hope Saturday, breaking his right arm above the elbow. He was brought to the city and taken to Grace Hospital.

Broke Wrist While Skating. Frank Meehan, 348 West-avenue, fell and broke his wrist while skating on the Don flats Saturday afternoon. He was taken to the General Hospital.
