FARNHAM DEATH LIST PLACED AT SEVENTEEN

Belief Expressed That Short Circuit in Electric Wiring Caused Fire.

MANY RUMORS AFLOAT

Series of Other Fires Thought to Be Work of Incendiaries.

Farnham, Que, Oct. 27.—The fotal number of lives lost in the destruction by fire of the hospice of St. Elizabeth here Wednesday was reduced to 17 today, two aged inmates who were amongst the missing last night having been found today. Coroner Joanette has decided that an inquest is unnecessary.

Mayor McCorkill, Inspector R. H Mayor McCorkill, Inspector R. H. Gooley of the provincial government, acsisted by the coroner, and Sister Elizabeth, the superior of the hospice, conducted an investigation today and they came to the conclusion that the cause of the fire was a short circuit in the electric wiring of the building that was burned and that no person was to blame for the catastrophe. The five fire escapes on the building were considered by the government inspector as sufficient. The building was old, and in some cases, partitions between rooms consisted merely of boards.

Rumors of Incendiaries.

To guard against the firebugs who have thoroly alarmed the residents of this village provincial detectives have been engaged to keep watch tonight in co-operation with a voluntary local vigilance committee. The numerous control of the contro small fires of apparent incendiary origin are regarded in a class by themselves, and there is no hint that the destruction of the hospice was due to

Pieces of paper with the word "next" written on them have been found on several premises, it is said and four "strangers" who were in the village yesterday mysteriously disappeared today. Before they went one was heard by a citizen to warn the others of the party "be careful or you will be caught."

Otto R. Brener's cigar factory is thought to have been among the buildings marked for the flames as a bag of dead leaves, surrounded by some kindling wood, was found near a doorstep at the factory.

FRICTION EVIDENT IN MILITIA DEPARTMENT

Thomas Cloaks Reasons for Resigning With Mystery.

LARGE ISSUES RAISED

So He Says in Statement, But Declines to Specify Them.

Ottawa Oct. 27.—An announcement that Lieut.-Col. Owen Thomas, director of mechanical construction, has resigned from the militia department has caused considerable comment in military and parliamentary circles.

Col. Thomas is an American with wide technical knowledge of automobile manufacturing and engineering He purchased and assembled the motor trucks for the second contingent and since then has had general charge of this work along with his brother, Capt. T. R. Thomas. Col. Thomas has been the centre of considerable con-troversy in Ottawa and was the star witness before the public accounts committee when an investigation was being made into purchases by Mr. T. A. Russell, of Toronto for the first con-

Guarded Statement.
Col. Thomas issued today the following rather mysterious statement which he refused to elaborate:

"Referring to announcement this morning, Lieut.-Col. Owen Thomas said that he had never been director of mechanical transport and that there was no such office in Canada. He stated that both he and his brother Captain T. R. Thomas, had conditionally resigned from certain appointments but that they had no intention of leaving Ottawa while there were duties to perform. Since he returned from England and the front there has been discussion with the department regarding technical matters, but he was not free to discuss the details.

"It was evident from his high regard for the work of the minister of munitions in England and his refusal to answer questions on similar subjects in Canada that issues of considerable importance have been raised in the milltia department."
