SOMEONE who believes that "brevity is the soul of wit" writes: "Don't eat stale Q-cumbers. They'll W up."

"THE ministry have thrown me overboard," said a disappointed politician, "but I've strength enough to swim to the other side."

WHEN you begin to praise a man for anything he has done you should tell him beforehand that you don't want to borrow any money from him.

A widow being cautioned by her minister about flirting, said she knew it was wrong for unmarried ladies to flirt, but the Bible said "widow's mite."

THE principal resemblances between a man who stops his team on the cross-walk of a crowded street, and a half barrel of flour is that both make about a hundred wait.

THE difference between the preacher, builder, and the architect of a church is simply this: One is the rector, the other the erector and the third the director!

No matter how a young lady's hat is lost, it is almost certain to turn up—either behind or at the side.

What is the difference between a girl and a right-cap? One is born to wed; and the other is worn to bed.

A young lady being asked by a rich bachelor, "If not yourself, who would you rather be?" replied, sweetly and modestly, "Yours truly."

Nobody likes to be nobody; but everybody is pleased to think himself somebody. And everybody is somebody, but when anybody thinks himself somebody, he generally thinks everybody else is nobody.

"WHY is this called Jacob's ladder?" asked a charming woman as he and she were going up the steepest portion of the Mount Washington railway. "Because," he replied, with a look that emphasized his words, "there are angels ascending and descending occasionally." He squeezed her hand.
