The sadness of coming parting gave an added impressiveness and solemnity to the evening service in St. David's church last night when Rev. J. A. Mac-Keigan delivered his farewell message and preached his last sermon as minister of the church, concluding a ten-year pastorate. The church was thronged and there was abundant evidence of deep feeling both on the part of Mr. Mac-Keigan and of the intent and earnest Keigan and of the intent and earnest worwhippers who had come to hear the parting words of a well beloved minis-ter, who leaves this week to become min-

Jam.

Mr. MacKeigan, speaking intimately to his people, said the closing service of a supremely happy pastorate had come and he would like to express an appreciation of many things which he had received from the congregation in the last ten years. It had been somewhat against his wish that he had taken the duties of the large pastorate of St. against his wish that he had taken the duties of the large pastorate of St. David's as he had hoped to have gone abroad to continue his studies and as he had come reluctantly in like manner the way of his going was not of his seeking, but duty had called him.

Twice yesterday Mr. MacKelgan was made the recipient of gifts and tokens of high regard. At the close of the morning service the members of the choir presented to him a handsome umbrella, the presentation being made by Byard Currie, the organist and choir leader. At the afternoon session of the Sunday achool Robert Reid, on behalf of the teachers and officers of the school, presented to Mr. MacKelgan an eversharp pencil inseribed with his name, the name of St. David's and the date.

Mr. MacKelgan made brief replies on hoth occasions and expressed his appreciation and gratitude.

At the morning service in the Waterloo street Baptist church yesterday, Children's Day was fitting observed, the service being conducted by the young people. After the singing of O Canada Miss Margaret Hamilton led the congregation in prayer and Miss Audrey Gregg gave the scripture reading. Rev. John A. Swetnam, the pastor, gave as his discourse an object lesson concerning the five classes of people: the Christian, the hypocrite, the moralist, the intemperate man and the sinner.

At the Charlotte street United Baptist church yesterday morning, the pastor, Rev. Charles R. Freeman, B.A., preached their way, and pointed out the wrecks which were evidence of foults. He said that the lighthouses mark the rocks of John Willet, brother of Mrs. J. H. dishonesty, impurity and the like. A large congregation was present, including Robbie, of this city, Ninety-fourth Anniversary Service. The ninety-fourth anniversary of the Sunday school of the Portland street Methodist church was celebrated last Sunday school of the Portland street Methodist church was celebrated last night in a special service in the church in which the children took a leading part. There were exercises, recitations and choruses and addresses were given by the pastor, Rev. H. B. Clarke, and by the superintendent, S. A. Kirk. The auditorium and galleries were thronged and the service was full of inspiration. The musical numbers were given under the direction of H. W. Bromfield, who was assisted by Miss Emma Chown and Miss Elsie Spence. Miss Lillian Bromfield was the organist. After the national anthem had been sung, prayer was offered by Rev. C. N. Brown, who is a member of the Portland church who has recently entered the ministry. Charles McConnell led the scripture reading. Mr. Clarke, in his address, pointed out the lessons to be learned by grown-ups from the lives of children. The superintendent reviewed the progress of the last year, which has been successful and encouraging.

Trinity Sunday was duly observed in the Anglican and Catholic churches in the City yesterday and in Trinity church Rev. Canon R. A. Armstrong preaching in the morning referred to the fact that the day was the patronal festival of the church. He regretted that it had become the custom for many of the coordination to leave the city in the summer and in consequence the attendance on the festival day was less than could have been wished. His sermon was preached from the them "increasing in Knowledge of God." As Trinity Sunday is ordination Sunday in the Anglican church throughout the Dominion, special prayers were offered on behalf of the candidates and in this connection Canon Armstrong spoke of Cecil Markham, a member of Trinity congregation, who was among those ordained yesterday in Federicton. Rev. Mr. Haslam, curate of St. Mary's church, also was among those ordained yesterday and in the patronaction of the petitions offered in St. Mary's church, also was among those ordained yesterday in Federicton. BETTER THAN HARD COAL

Soft coal so free from soot that it does not make whiskers on stove covers or pipe and does not mat or cake when burning, is far better than Hard Coal for general household use. Quicker to light, takes less to make a fire, cheaper in price and can also be used for open fires and small heating stoves. Such a coal is Broad Cove soft coal. The main thing is to insist on getting the genuine article. Yo other soft coal burns just like Broad.
