One of the Most Successful Writers on Record

THE PRODUCER—Wm. N. Selig, to whose credit can be attributed some of the greatest achievements of the silent stage.

THE DISTRIBUTORS—Super-Features, who control such massive features as "The Whip," "Lone Wolf," "Civilization," "The Barrier," etc.

THE STARS INCLUDE—Tom Santschi, who first startled and fascinated the public in his scenes with wild animals, and later in "The Spoilers," when he played opposite Wm. Farnum in the sensational encounter of the two strong men, with Bessie Eyton, Marshal Neilan, Cecil Holland and Geo. Fawcett.

Another great film triumph, different from most, and some critics say a little better.

One of Churchill's best efforts produced by Mr. Wm. Selig with an especially select cast of players.

Special musical arrangement with piano, organ and the new Edison Recreation.

WILLARD MAY FIGHT DEMPSEY ON JULY 4

Latest Heavyweight Prodigy
Matched to Fight Champion?

Chicago, Feb. 25.—Jess Willard, world's heavyweight champion, and Jack Dempsey, the Utah heavyweight, will battle for the title and a purse of $10,000, at Cheyenne, Wyo., the afternoon of July 4, according to Jack Kearns, manager of Dempsey.

Kearns declared the money for the purse already has been posted and that Willard had come to an agreement with the promoters.

Willard, according to Kearns, agreed to the match recently when under the guise of going to Jacksonville, Fla., he made a trip to Kansas City, and there met P. Chester Thompson, of Cheyenne, who will promote the match.

Otto Flotto, sports editor of the Denver Post, and the Kansas City Post, it is declared, was a witness to the agreement. After the Kansas City trip, Willard continued to Jacksonville, where he now is with his family.

The money for the purse already is in the hands of Thompson or Harris Himes, of the Plains Hotel at Cheyenne, Kearns said.

"As for our end," said Kearns, "you know we will accept what is left. I honestly believe Dempsey can trim Willard on July 4, and we are willing to accept nothing but training expenses for the chance. Willard won something like $8,000 when he won the title from Jack Johnson, but the victory netted him close to a million.

"Promoter Thompson says he will give Dempsey a cut of the receipts, but how much depends on the gate the fighters draw."

Willard, it has been definitely learned here, did make a flying trip to Kansas City recently, when he announced he was going to Jacksonville. Whether he closed while there for a match with Dempsey is without corroboration other than Kearns' statement here.

Dempsey has a good record in the four round game on the Pacific coast. His most notable achievement of late was a victory over Carl Morris at Buffalo recently. Dempsey also claims a decision over Gunboat Smith.

Dempsey is six feet two, and when in condition scales a few pounds more than 200. Most of his battles have been in San Francisco or in that vicinity.

Dibble May Row Kelly.
Toronto, Feb. 25.—As soon as we are favored with suitable weather I will commence training preparatory to endeavoring to arrange a match with John B. Kelly, of the Philadelphia Vesper for the Amateur Single Sculling championship of America," said Lieut. Bob Dibble.

Dibble, despite very serious wounds, received on two occasions in the fighting on the western front last fall, is now in fine physical condition again and believes he can regain the form which made him champion of the United States and Canada and carried him to the final of the diamond skulls in England against the late Giuseppe Sinigaglia, the Italian giant who was killed while fighting with the Italian army.

Kelly won the United States championship at the last annual regatta.

Chicago, Feb. 25.—Grover Cleveland Alexander is in training at Hot Springs, Ark., according to word received here today. No agreement has been reached regarding a bonus for him. His friends, however, consider the training an indication that he will pitch for the Cubs this season.
