NEPHEW OF INSPECTOR COLTER KILLED IN WEST

Telegram From Winnipeg Received—Pair of Chickens Weighing Ten Pounds

Fredericton, N. B., Nov. 5—(Special)—A despatch from Winnipeg tells that Charles Cliff, only son of Mrs. A. E. Cliff of Kingsclear and grand nephew of Post-office Inspector Colter of St. John, was accidentally killed in a harvest excursion. No particulars were given. He went west on the harvest excursion three months' ago. He was seventeen years old. He is survived by his mother and five sisters.

The police commission intend to put a stop to the use of firearms by youthful hunters in this vicinity.

It has been raining heavily here today and there is a slight rise in the river.

Thomas Gray of Kingsclear and Dudley Currie of MacNaquac recently imported twenty three head of cattle from Ontario. They will fatten them and sell to St. John and Fredericton butchers.

Charles Inch of Keswick had in the market today a pair of chickens which weighed ten pounds.

COMMERCIAL

Financial Letter

New York, Nov. 5—The reaction yesterday afternoon seems to be natural. It also has the earmarks of having been a shakeout and was successful. There may be some irregularity this morning but we think it wise to buy good stocks on setbacks for turns. The bank statement outlook is conflicting and there may not be much change in the surplus. Money should now be watched. Some people seem to think a little of the selling yesterday afternoon was based on money but we doubt it. It seems to have been based on the New York Central note issue rumors which were denied and this note matter may have been engineered by the manipulators themselves to induce the shakeout. There is said to have been some calling of loans but we cannot find much evidence of it. The shortage was reduced to some extent, but there is still the outstanding bear commitment. Political developments continue to be about the same.

Wall Street Notes.

New York, Nov. 5—Storm affects wire communications at many points.

Express strike in New York and Jersey City still unsettled because refusal to recognize union.

President Brown of N. Y. C. contradicts rumor of a bond issue.

Dun's Review says very little change and the volume of actual transactions continues below production.

Bradstreet's says the leading issues send very much the same news as heretofore.

Banks lost $4,215,000 on week's currency movements.

Idle cars for fortnight ended Oct. 26, 7235 against 13,318 two weeks before.

Twelve industrials declined. 21; twenty active rails declined .56.

Western railroad men generally believe that rate advances will be conceded.

Wall Street Today.

New York, Nov. 5—First prices of stocks showed very small changes from last night's closing and the dealings were light. Gains were the more numerous and important, but there was a sprinkling of declines. Great Northern Preferred and U. S. Steel rose large fractions, and National Railways of Mexico 2nd Pfd declined 5-8.

MR. FOSTER IS QUITE CHIPPER

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 5—(Special)—Hon. Geo. E. Foster attended the annual meeting of the Ward Six Conservative Association last night, and made a vigorous address, in which he declared Sir Wilfrid Laurier was the only man in Canada, with the exception of Hon. Mr. Fielding, who favors reciprocity with the United States.

"If Sir Wilfrid persists in his stand," Mr. Foster added, "he will meet another Waterloo similar to the one he met on Thursday."

PRAISE FROM HIS CHIEF.

In speaking of the death of Sergt. Ross this morning, Chief Clark said that he had always been an honorable official, and by that term was meant all that the word implied. In the early days of his duty on the force he had had considerable hardships in the way of service, but had borne himself with distinction through it all. He was a good, official, the chief said, and had always done his duty.

The "November Sale" at F. W. Daniel & Company's grows busier every hour and Monday is likely to eclipse all previous selling; some lines of goods already sold out, but others just as interesting replace them. Throngs of people are filling the store and even those who come only to look are so impressed with the offerings that few leave without purchasing; an attractive programme of sale items for Monday's customers. See advertisement on page 5.

CITY CORNET BAND.

A musical event that is being anticipated with a great deal of interest is the concert to be given in the Opera House on Tuesday, Nov. 15, by the City Cornet Band, in commemoration of their 36th anniversary. In addition to selections by the band, which will include portions of the Merry Widow opera, there will be songs by local talent, and the concert will conclude with the old-time popular sketch; "The Skidmore Guards." This sketch, which will be in costume, was given thirty-one years by the Cyprus Club, and made a great hit at that time. Mayor Frink will deliver an opening address.

ALDERMAN-ELECT REPORTED

What was probably the last official act of Police-Sergeant Jacob Ross, was the reporting of Alderman-elect, Norman P. McLeod for having a ferocious dog, which bit Mrs. George Holder, of Carleton.

NO IMPROVEMENT

The condition of Rev. I. N. Parker seriously ill in the General Public Hospital is reported today as showing no improvement.

INTEREST IN RECITAL.

Much interest has been aroused by the announcement of the recital to be given in Brussels street Baptist church on Thursday Nov. 10, by Floyd Baxter, of Philadelphia, and local talent. There will be selections by the ladies' and girls' quartettes of the church, and readings by Miss Stella McKay. Miss Bertha Worden will act as accompanist.

IN NEW QUARTERS.

Contractors Myles and Stentiford have completed alterations in the interior of the store in Mill street, formerly occupied by the Peoples' Department Store and on Tuesday Waterbury & Rising will remove their Mill street store there. The store has been thoroughly remodeled —and will be a welcome addition to that busy section. Joseph B. Patchell, for years in the firm's employ, will be in charge.

TAKE NOTICE.

That J. Marcus, the old establishment, at 30 Dock street, has no connection whatever with any other firm of similar name. J. Marcus has only one store, that at 30 Dock street, and all accounts against, or payable to, him should be sent or taken to 30 Dock street, and to no other place. 11—5—tf.

MISS MARGARET MARTIN

Many will regret to learn of the death of Miss Margaret Martin which occurred this morning in the General Public Hospital. She had been ailing for considerable time. On Wednesday last an operation was performed. Miss Martin was an employe of Manchester Robertson Allison, Limited, where she had gained the esteem of her employers. She was 48 years of age and is survived by four sisters—Misses Elizabeth, Ellen and Julia and Mrs. W. H. Doherty all of this city. The funeral will take place on Monday from her late residence, 21 Wright street.

MRS. DUKE'S FUNERAL.

Many attended the funeral of Mrs. Sarah Duke this morning from her late residence, Waterloo street. Requiem high mass was sung by her son, Rev. W. Duke, in the Cathedral. Interment was in the new Catholic cemetery. Burial service was conducted at the grave by Father Duke. The pallbearers were: Michael Cotter, S. Fitzpatrick, Henry Bolan, Michael Ryan, John Allan and John Lee. Many floral tributes were received including one from the Y. M. S. of St. Joseph.

FELL FIFTEEN FEET

Roy Belyea, of Main street, a surveyor employed with Stetson Cutler & Co., in their lumber yard in Indiantown, suffered painful injuries yesterday in a fall from a deal pile on which he was working. As a result he will be unable to use one of his arms for some time. He was tallying on top of the pile, when a deal on which he was standing, turned under him, and caused him to fall almost fifteen feet. The deal falling with him, severely scratched his arm. Dr. C. M. Pratt attended him.

SENATOR DOMVILLE

In England, He Urges Claims of Maritime Province on Prospective Emigrants

Senator James Domville, of Rothesay, now in England, has been saying some nice things about the eastern portion of the dominion. In an interview published in "Canada," he holds that the east has advantages that more than balance the attractiveness of the west. He says the maritime provinces farm more per acre than the west and the advantages in the way of education and comfortable living conditions, should draw a class of people who are not in a hurry to grow rich, but want to obtain an income from what they have, and enjoy a happy and comfortable home.

He touches on the subject of maritime province representation in the federal house and says he thinks steps should be taken to have the British North America act amended so that there would not be a further cutting down of the parliamentary representation. He advises the people of Great Britain to come to Canada and to invest more money in the dominion, and assures them that Canadian people are more loyal than are those of the old country. "Talk about annexation and severance is idiotic; Canada takes no stock in it at all," he concludes.

CZAR GOES A HUNTING

Berlin, Nov. 5—Emperor Nicholas hunted today in Emperor William's new game preserve near Granienburg, twenty-six miles north east of Potsdam. A battalion of soldiers with foresters had been engaged for several days assembling some 1,500 deer, hare and other four-footed game.

STRICKEN WITH FAMINE

Cerbore, France, Nov. 5—Advices from Sabadell, Spain, say the town is stricken with famine as a result of the general strike which has cut off supplies.

AN EARLY CLAIM.

(Washington Star.)

"I dined with Henry James, the American novelist," said a magazine editor, "at his London club, the Athenaeum. Over the dessert I reproached James for the dreadful way he roasts the morals and manners of our millionaires in 'The Jolly Corner.' James said they deserved roasting—and to prove it he told me a story.

"He said a New York multi-millionaire got converted one night at a revival meeting, and, standing up in his place, the rich convert declared that his conversion was retroactive, and he proposed to make restitution to anyone he had ever wronged.

"Well, about 2 o'clock that morning the millionaire was awakened by a long ring at the bell. He put his head out of the window.

"'Who's that?' he said

"'I'm Thomas J. Griggs,' was the reply 'I heard about your conversion and I'd like you to pay me back that two hundred thousand you cheated me out of in the U. B. D. receivership.'

"'All right, I'll pay you,' said the millionaire. 'But why the deuce," he added, angrily, 'do you want to ring me up at this hour?'

"'Well, you see,' was the reply. 'I thought I'd come early and avoid the rush.'"

TO RUB THEM THE WRONG WAY.

(Illustrated London News.)

A new and wholly unique use for comminuted rock has been discovered by a Spanish lady, who recorded her find in her will in these terms:

"As to my sisters, nieces, nephews, brother-in-law, and cousin, nothing, nothing shall come to them from me but a bag of sand to rub themselves with. None deserves even a good-bye, I do not recognize a single one of them. It is useless even to communicate my death to them; they have too much abused and lied against me."

MERCHANT COULD NOT BUY CHICKENS

More Incidents in the Market Upheaval — One Man Sells Out Stock

While a number of changes were ordered in the country market this morning, affairs there for the most part were pretty quiet. Stands in the centre aisle which were occupied by the Messrs. McDonalds, and from which they were turned out a few days ago, were restored to them today. Several more of the traders and commission merchants who have been located at stands at the head of the market were shifted to the lower end this morning. W. Howe, who has conducted a commission stand has sold out his stock, rather than be shifted from place to place, and will await the verdict of the investigating committee.

It was said this morning that a merchant from the north end was prevented from purchasing a pair of chickens, the clerk of the market contending that the law providing for goods being on sale three hours, must be observed. It was in vain that the merchant pleaded that the chickens were for his own personal use, he could not buy, under pain of being reported.

The goods owned by F. E. Williams are still reposing on a stand at the lower end of the building and Mr. Williams threatens suit against the city or Alderman Vanwart contending that as the stock has been moved around so much and handled carelessly, that it is now unsaleable. It has been practically abandoned.

THE FIGHTING BOY.

"A boy will fight," said the Settlement deaconess. "It is apparently an essential necessity of boy nature. But he will fight just as readily for the right as for the wrong if he's only started that way. Let me tell you a story: I live right in the midst of boys. The streets around the Settlement fairly swarm with them. Once, in the early days of our work, these boys mischievously got wind of a meeting in our club rooms, and they besieged the door in a boisterous mob. It was all we could do to keep them from breaking up the meeting. Our janitor was not as gentle as he was forceful in his management of the situation, and in shutting out one obstreperous youngster, whose wizened little face looked almost as devoid of any moral sense as a monkey's, he caught the boy's foot in the door. The boy screamed in pain. I was conscience-stricken.

"'Oh, g'wan!' said a policeman, who had been attracted to the spot. 'He ain't hurt none!' But I insisted. I brought the sobbing child inside and took off his ragged shoe, to find out how badly he was hurt. I did not need to take off the stocking, for it ended abruptly at the heel—that a stocking should have a foot, which is, of course, all covered up by the shoe, is an unnecessary luxury, anyway. The foot was not much hurt, but I bathed it and bound my handkerchief carefully around it—it was an old handkerchief.

"The night of the next meeting, the unruly crowd gathered again at the door, and again we were bordering on serious trouble, when, with a whoop of defiance, there bore down on the scene our lad of the hurt foot experience with a valiant companion whom he had enlisted for his holy war. They were each armed with a big banana stem, which they had picked out of some refuse heap—really formidable weapons in vigorous hands. The lad had not seemed very large the first night, but now his strength was as the strength of ten. We had no further need of policemen."—Lucy Rider Meyer, in The Christian Herald.

HOW TO EAT WAFFLES.

(Lippincott's.)

The Republican nominee for governor of Ohio is very fond of waffles.

"I have a regular formula for eating waffles," said Mr. Harding to a friend, "and I recommend it to every one. You eat the first fourteen waffles without syrup, but with lots of butter. Then you put syrup on the next nine and the last half dozen you eat just simply swimming in syrup. Eaten that way waffles never hurt anybody.
