WALK UPSTAIRS AND SAVE TEN

I'm Enthusiastic!

I've just put my final O.K. on the new Robinson models for Spring, and I've got what the boys call 'A Wonderful Kick!' I claim they're by far the best—the handsomest, snappiest, most distinctive suits I've ever turned out. I'll go further: Money won't buy any cleverer togs than these to-day.

That's strong. But not strong enough, for I can't 'get over' the enthusiasm I feel—that you'll feel when you see these clothes—fashioned of rich, distinctive fabrics full of character, vigor, manly grace.

More than this: This style is "built into" these Robinson garments, right in my own workshops, under my personal supervision. Hand tailoring and careful finishing put personality into the style. Dependable garments, that will give you long and satisfactory service! Priced $25 and $35.

Better Still: There's a $10 bill in the pocket of the new Robinson suit. My "maker to wearer" policy and merchandising method put it there—But come in and slip into a coat—The only way to induce you to take it off will be to show you another. You'll enthuse I know that! Breeze in.

It is estimated that the trip will cost $200 out of which $50 will be taken by the Winnipeg Club.

AQUATIC.

Oxford Abandons New Shell.
London, March 16.—Oxford University has sprung a big surprise, according to a published report by abandoning the new shell built especially for the annual race with Cambridge and ordering another to be constructed as rapidly as possible.

The abandoned shell had many new features which were expected to be of great advantage and was successfully tested on the smooth waters of the Henley course, but it was found to be too shallow for use in the tidal waters between Putney and Mortlake, where the Oxford-Cambridge race will be rowed, as it shipped water constantly.

FOOTBALL.

LEARN MUCH BY PLAYING ST. PATS.

Amherst Ramblers Picked Up Considerable Knowledge of Finer Points of the Game.

(Amherst Daily News)

As was expected, St. Patrick's world's hockey championships came, and conquered, but against them the Amherst Ramblers, strengthened by Nolan and MacLeod, put up a game fight, going down to defeat with the score 7-3. Although the Irishmen did not let out at any time—sending only one and two men down the ice for scores, the fans for the most part, were well pleased with the exhibition.

While the St. Pats had a huge margin over the locals, at the same time the Ramblers picked up a good deal of fresh knowledge about the finer points of hockey. The system of covering opposing players as adopted in the N. H. I. was one of the points and even if the fans booed Bill Stuart for marking his man closely, not giving him a chance to shoot, it was the type of hockey drilled into the opposing team by the Irishmen, and the tour was a valuable experience for the quick turns of the defence men, and the back skating of the forwards to present a six man defence against the attacking team were outstanding features. There were a hundred and one minor tricks of the game that were displayed by the Irishmen, and the tour should go a long way to improve the brand of hockey played in the sea provinces.

HOCKEY STARS IN ACTION TONIGHT

St. Pats and All-Star Teams to Meet at Arena—A Big Crowd Expected.

The famous St. Pats of Toronto, last year's champions of the N. H. A., will appear in the Arena this evening competing against an all-star team composed of some of the best independent players in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. This game should be one of the best ever played in this city and will not only provide a stellar brand of the greatest Canadian winter pastime, but will give fans in this city of seeing some of the best hockey players in the world in action. It is also given opportunity for local players to study the style and actions of these crack professionals and get pointers, which should prove invaluable and do much towards bringing the popularity of the game back to a pre-war basis. The game will start at 8:30 sharp.

U. S. MAY PLAY CANADA FOR THE TITLE IN HOCKEY

Pittsburgh, March 15.—The Canadian Hockey Association will decide at its annual meeting in Winnipeg on March 20 whether the champion team of that league will compete in an international match with the winner of the United States Amateur Hockey Association, President W. S. Haddock announced here. In the event an international series is decided upon, Mr. Haddock said, the teams will play for the Wiltz Trophy.

ANOTHER SEMI- PRO TEAM IN THE FORMATION

The first step towards the formation of another semi-professional baseball team in this city was taken last evening at a meeting of players held in the East End Club house. The meeting was called by Dave Stewart and those present were: Stewart, Jack Copeland, Eddie Ramsay, Albie Henderson, Lawlor, Marshall and others. It was reported that other players were willing to join if the team materializes. Eddie Ramsay and Jack Copeland were appointed to interview the St. Peter's management regarding a series of home and home games. It was also decided that if St. Peter's team is willing alternate games will be arranged for Saturday afternoons. David Ramsay, who was present on behalf of the East End Improvement League, which controls the grounds, explained that if a good team was secured the League was prepared to contract for the erection of a fence, the
