Sir Charles now makes his home in Winnipeg, where he has two sons; but he and Lady Tupper spend part of each year with Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper in Vancouver, and usually a part with their daughter in England. He was never more interested in Canadian politics than he is now, and is watching the development of Mr. Borden's campaign with attention and hopefulness. Most elderly men are disposed to criticise adversely the work of their juniors and successors. This is not the frame of mind of the former Conservative leader. He is altogether satisfied and pleased with Mr. Borden's leadership. For himself it is not pospible while he lives to withdraw altogether from political activity, and he will not be wholly passive in the coming campaign. But Sir Charles re-were felt toward him have died away, and that he has kindly personal feelings toward the survivors among his old opponents. It would indeed, he says, be hard to cherish an unfriendly spirit toward the Nova Scotia antiopponents of the C. P. R. contract be- dor at St. Petersburg with such a comonwealth, a spiritual kingdom cause there are now none to be found. While in Halifax Sir Charles was examining old newspaper files and other records, making some memoranda in regard to his early political life. Asked whether he was preparing a memoir Sir Charles said he was not, but was making a few notes for his family. He had no desire to write a book or be the subject of one, but would like his children to have an authentic statement in regard to the early public events with which he was concerned.

It is pretty well known among the older politicians in Nova Scotia that federation Sir Charles Tupper did a good deal of newspaper work. The Morning Colonist was during a great part of that time under his supervison, and for much of it under his editorial management. Sir Charles has no file of the paper, but there is one in the legislative library at Halifax. Sir Charles took an early opportunity to call upon his old friend, Dr. Bayard, and later in the day Dr. Bayard sent for him to take a drive about the city. "I see much improvement since I last had the opportunity of lowed to start again. Another horse exploring the town," said Sir Charles. He expressed himself much pleased with the park. 10,000 KNIGHTS TEMPLARS.

Great Procession Opens 29th Triennial Conclave - Quarrel and Death Mar Celebration.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6. -- The 29th triennial conclave of the order of Knights Templar was inaugurated tolay with a parade of 10,000 Sir Knights which marched over seven miles of the city's streets. A striking feature of the parade was the presence in the line of the Earl of Euston and several others of the Templar order of England and Wales. Their distinctive uniforms ed-Doctors Could Do Nothing attracted special attention. The day was exceedingly warm and many dropped out before passing the reviewing stand.

Joseph Leath, of Couer de Leon Commandery, Knoxville, Tenn., dropped dead during the parade from apoplexy. An incident of the parade was the marching out of line just before the procession started by Boston Commandery No. 1. Being the oldest commandery in Massachusetts, they thought they were entitled to a posttion immediately behind the Grand Commandery of Massachusetts and Rhode Island. This place had been assigned to De Molay Commandery of Boston. The members of Boston Comthink if it had lasted much longer I mandery No. 1 refused to march in the place assigned to them and returned to their hotel.
