

LOYD GEORGE ADOPTS POLICY OF "LYING LOW" OF "LYING LOW"

Resting in Wales But Keeping "An Ear to the Ground" in Political Affairs.

DOMESTIC SITUATION IS VERY INSECURE

Women Taking More Active Interest in Elections and Voting Against Gov't.

London, June 14.—Premier Lloyd George is in Wales to assist at the wedding of his second son, Gwilym, to the daughter of a merchant named Jones, and incidentally to complete his active part in the work which he has been taking at Chequer. Many people in London are saying that the British premier is "lying low," waiting to see how some of the problems which confront his government shape themselves.

At the moment the disposition is to see things in a very black light. The home industrial situation has cleared a little, with the prospect of a settlement of the coal strike, and hopes are held out that the cotton workers and engineers' strikes will be ended soon, but a new element of serious trouble is seen in the Government's decision to decontrol the agricultural industry, which will result in sweeping cuts in the wages of farm-hands. There is also talk of the railwaymen growing restive under the possibility that their stipends may be reduced in August.

Domestic Situation Black

The domestic political situation is obscure. The recent by-elections have been won by opponents of the government on platforms which, to say the least, indicate profound dissatisfaction with some aspects of governmental policy. Other elections expected to be equally unfavorable to the Coalition, are coming on.

Women throughout the country have been impressed by the cry that the government is spending money wastefully and have begun to vote in large numbers. The surprising result of the elections in St. George's, West End London division, where the Coalition candidate was routed, is ascribed entirely to the fact that the female voters went to the polls almost to a woman.

In the Towns

In towns most of the present indications are in favor of an increased labor vote and in the counties the government is thought to have alienated the agricultural laborers. Decontrol, it is argued, may have pleased the land owners and the tenant farmers, but for every owner-farmer with a vote there are scores of agricultural laborers, each of whom has a vote to cast, and every one of whom is threatened with a reduction in wages when decontrol comes into force.

In the north country there is a rapidly growing demand for a return to Liberalism—Gladstonian and Asquithian Liberalism, to use phrases currently employed there.

Where, it is asked, is the Coalition going to turn for support? There are rumors at Westminster that the politicians who support the Coalition are casting about for ways and means of making their own pieces secure in case the government should be fain to go to the country. Every body is speculating as to what would be the Coalition ticket in the event of a general election. Nobody ventures on a definite reply.

The furthest anyone dares to go in to suggest that Lloyd George is such a clever politician that he will secure a plank of safety and bring his followers through the storm. Some of them, however, are showing enough signs of timorousness to bring upon them the accusation of being ready to desert a sinking ship.

Approach To City In Bad Condition

American Motor Party Think Marsh Road from One Mile House is Very Bad.

An American automobile party, who has been touring the northern part of the province, arrived in the city yesterday and proceeded on their return to the States. They claimed to have had a delightful trip and enjoyed the wonderful scenery, and said that on the whole the highways were found to be in pretty good condition until they approached the city and then the going rather rough from the one mile house in. They speak in the highest terms of their eastern tour and are surprised that there is not a greater number of automobile parties touring east instead of going to States of Maine resorts or to points in upper Canada. Good roads are needed to attract the automobilists and the greater number of tourists, the greater the amount of money is left in the province. The stretch of road mentioned as being in bad condition is the Marsh road from Birn St. to One Mile House, and it certainly needs immediate attention, as it has been very rough for the past few years and not only makes automobile travel very uncomfortable, but unless treated over at a very slow rate of speed there is a great danger of damage being done to the cars.

Try Magnesia For Stomach Trouble

Neutralizes Stomach Acidity, Prevents Food Fermentation, Sour, Gassy Stomach and Acid Indigestion.

Doubtless if you are a sufferer from indigestion, you have already tried peppin, pancreatin, charcoal, drugs and various digestive aids and you know these things will not cure your trouble—in some cases do not even give relief.

But before giving up hope and deciding you are a chronic dyspeptic just try the effect of a little Bismarcked Magnesia—not the ordinary commercial carbonate, citrate or milk, but the pure Bismarcked Magnesia which you can obtain from practically any drug-gist in either powdered or tablet form. Take a teaspoonful of the powder or two compressed tablets with a little water after your next meal, and see what a difference this makes. It will instantly neutralize the dangerous, harmful acid in the stomach which now causes your food to ferment and sour, making gas, wind, flatulence, heartburn and the bloated or heavy, lumpy feeling that seems to follow most everything you eat.

You will find that provided you take a little Bismarcked Magnesia immediately after a meal, you can eat almost anything and enjoy it without any danger of pain or discomfort to follow and moreover, the continued use of the Bismarcked Magnesia cannot injure the stomach in any way so long as there are any symptoms of acid indigestion.

Cases Dealt With In Police Court

George Stanton on Liquor Charge—John T. Elliott for Passing Bogus Cheques.

A liquor case in which George Stanton, the defendant, is charged with having liquor in his possession other than his private dwelling, was set up in the police court yesterday. Inspectors Journey and Henderson told of finding glasses which smell of liquor in the accused's beer shop; a man who hanted the front entrance had always disappeared within at their approach, and of once hearing him cry out to Stanton "Dunp it." The case will be resumed today at noon.

Overloading Horses

Edward Dunphy, teamster, and John O'Brien, shipper were fined $50 each for overloading a horse. The teamster was fined for overloading a horse with what he was obliged to take for him. O'Brien said he had been working as shipper for C. H. Peters but a short while, and was not aware he was overloading the horse. S. M. Wetmore represented the S. P. C. A. The fine was allowed to stand.

Passing Bogus Cheques

Frank S. Purdy, Wall street; Irving D. Appleby, St. James street; H. H. Coleman, Winter street; B. T. Hamilton, Mill street, and Don Maszyvichski gave evidence against John T. Elliott for passing bogus cheques. His practice was to bring in the check on Saturday evening, get the money, and then get possession of the check again on Monday before it could be deposited in the bank. The one which accused asked Appleby to cash had Malcolm McKay's name signed to it. The check which Elliott presented to Maszyvichski was for the amount of $170. When Elliott found he could not get the whole amount, he got witness to let him have $15, with the check as security, but never went back to claim the property, which proved valueless.

The case was postponed until today when two more witnesses will be heard.

Principal Objects To Girl's Short Skirts

Sends One Home and Orders Others to Let Out a Tuck or Two.

Albany, June 14.—When is a school-girl's skirt too short for scholastic propriety? That question, which already is puzzling the managers of the Oswego State Normal School, is to be passed to the State educational authorities at Albany. The controversy began when Dr. Jas. G. Ribbs sent a girl home because he thought her skirt was too short, and ordered four others to let theirs out a tuck or two. Friends of the girls declare the women teachers are jealous, and one member of the board of managers has said that the board, rather than Dr. Ribbs, is the proper authority to censor such matters.

Meanwhile the timely clear vision of young men students are enjoying the situation and hoping that, if necessary, possible inches below the knee will be designated as the skirt limit.

IN THE LABOR REALM

Boston Compositors Refuse To Go Back

I. T. U. and Local President Ignored When They Tell Men to Return to Work.

Boston, June 14.—Newspaper compositors who walked out of morning and evening newspaper offices here last night, and today, voted at a meeting tonight not to return to work until a committee of the men this afternoon demands for a wage increase were granted. This action was taken after Sylvester J. McBride, president of Boston Typographical Union 15, had told the men they had made a mistake in going out and urged them to return to work.

Wage Scale Asked

Michael Wall, who presided, told the meeting that the wage scale desired had been presented to the publishers by a committee of the men this afternoon but that the publishers had declined to treat with them. The scale he said called for $1.20 an hour for day workers, $1.25 for night workers and $1.45 for the "jobster shift."

Papers Are Smaller

All evening newspapers were published today, but most of them had fewer pages than usual. Preparations were made for the publication of all morning papers tomorrow. The Boston Newspaper Publishers in a statement tonight said that International Typographical Union officers and the president of the local union had ordered the men back to work, but that the large majority of them had refused to return.

Capital And Labor Must Bridge Gulf

No Use Blinding Ourselves to Its Existence Says Tom Moore.

Winnipeg, Man., June 14.—"We cannot conscientiously blind ourselves to the reality that a measurable gulf separates the workers and employers of today," said Tom Moore, president of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress, speaking to local trade unionists last night. "There is a class of industrial leaders who evidently wish to ignore the true state of affairs. Unless these evils depart from such selfish tactics and make sincere efforts to bridge the gulf they may discover too late that harmonious settlement cannot be effected."

Mr. Moore made the above remarks in dealing with an address delivered by S. R. Parsons, ex-president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, at the annual meeting of the organization recently. Mr. Parsons was quoted as declaring there was very little difference existing between the industrial boss and the workers.

Herald Press Men Quit Their Positions

Refuse to Do Any Work That Helps the Master Printers of Toronto.

Montreal, June 14.—Fifteen job printers employed by the Herald Press, Ltd., went on strike today when given work to do which came from a Toronto shop, where the men were on strike. It is against the union rules, a member of the union stated, to undertake orders from firms where the men have struck.
