Weldon, proprietor of the Weldon House, was united in marriage to Mr. Reginald L. Ritchie, son of the late Judge Ritchie, of Halifax.

St. Andrew's Episcopal church, of which Miss Weldon was a valuable member, was beautifully dressed in flowers and vines and presented a most charming and fitting appearance for the young and dainty bride. Shortly before 11 o'clock the guests and spectators began to arrive. Messrs. H. Weldon, brother of the bride, and F. Schaeffer, of St. John, acted as ushers. At sharp 11 the choir rose to sing The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden, as the bride, looking very sweet and most charming in her wedding gown of soft white silk, with bridal veil caught with lilies of the valley and carrying an immense shower bouquet of cream roses, entered the church on the arm of her father.

Miss Mary Weldon, sister of the bride, becoming attired in dainty pink muslin, large hat to match and carrying a beautiful bouquet of pink carnations, acted as bridesmaid, while Mr. Nonnan Ritchie, of Halifax, supported the groom. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. F. Burt, rector of the parish. The invited guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. Jas. D. Weldon (the bride's parents), the Misses Weldon, Mrs. W. Weldon, Mr. and Mrs. Ryan (Hampton), Mr. B. Burns, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Lawton, Miss A. Ritchie, Messrs. J. D. and N. Ritchie, Mrs. H. L. Chipman (Halifax), Mr. and Mrs. J. Douglas (Amherst), Miss E. Weldon (St. John), Mr. and Mrs. Dixon (Sackville), Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Vincent, Miss Vincent, Mrs. Richards (New York), Rev. A. F. and Mrs. Burt.

After the ceremony an elaborate luncheon was served in the Weldon's private suite of rooms. The bride, who has always been most popular in Shediac, was the recipient of very handsome gifts and will be greatly missed by her large circle of friends.

Amid showers of rice and confetti, Mr. and Mrs. Ritchie took the Boston train on a trip to New York, Atlantic City and other American cities of interest, after which they will take up their residence in Toronto, where Mr. Ritchie is engaged in business. Hosts of best wishes follow the young couple that all future happiness may be theirs.
