A TAIL of misery—The cocktail.

NOTICE of a peal—A flash of lightning.

WHEN is a lady like a show window?—When she takes great pains with her ash.

TURNER, by way of a joke, once sent a picture to an exhibition, so cunningly executed as to occasion some doubt which side should be hung uppermost. The manager hung the painting upside down, but having doubt about it, wrote to Turner, stating what he had done, requesting an immediate reply. In due time it came to hand, and consisted merely of two words, "Turn her."

Equally Good

For the Old and Middle Aged as for the Young.

How many parents are called upon annually to mourn the loss of one or more of their dear little ones by that fearful scourge of our race, viz., Cholera Infantum, or Infant's Cholera, which includes Diarrhoea, Vomiting, Summer Complaints, etc., etc.

Thousands of these fatal cases are caused thro' simple neglect or gross ignorance—neglect through parents not attending to the disease in the proper time, and ignorance as to what remedy to use in severe cases. Now we offer an antidote for both the above, by placing within easy access to all a cheap and old reliable medicine,

DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY, Which every mother, nurse or guardian should try on the first appearance of the disease.

We do not claim it to be an infallible remedy, but we do say thousands could be cured by its timely use in the first stages, and hundreds have been cured after having been given up by their attendant physician. See one of the many certificates received by us—

"Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has cured the worst case of Summer Complaint I ever knew. Our little child was, for one month, not expected to recover. We got medicine from our family physician, but, like everything else, it failed, until we tried Dr. Fowler's great cure, Extract of Wild Strawberry, which acted like a charm, and perfectly cured the infant in less than three days.

"REV. S. R. KEARNS.

"Vernonville, Sept. 8, 1876."

Physicians recommend and use it. Thousands in our Dominion who have used it and found direct benefit, still labour under the impression that it is a compound of drugs, etc., and that not a particle of the "Wild Strawberry Plant" is used in its composition. Now we say it is almost exclusively an extract of that species of Strawberry called the "Malt Plant," and which is difficult to obtain. As a proof of our assertion, we call the reader's attention to an extract from the Uxbridge Journal of September 7th, 1876:—

"WILD STRAWBERRY LEAVES.—About half a ton of this product was shipped from our station yesterday to Messrs. Milburn, Bentley & Pearson, of Toronto. The increasing popularity and immense sales of their famous Extract of Wild Strawberry requires annually several tons of the leaves; and as they have to be carefully picked by hand, the young people in the vicinity of Chalk Lake have had a busy time for some days past. They are finding considerable difficulty this year in obtaining the quantity required, as the bush fires have swept over a large portion of the grounds where the usual supply has been gathered."

The medicine has been before the public for the past 20 years, and in that length of time how many mothers have had cause to bless the

Extract of Wild Strawberry

For snatching from the very jaws of the grim destroyer some tenderly cared for and dearly loved child, whose loss would have left a void in the heart and an empty chair at the fireside.

We have not space to dwell on its many virtues, as there is not a city, town or hamlet in the Dominion where it has not been more or less used. We could furnish an unlimited number of certificates as to its excellent astringent and soothing qualities.
